CALL TO ORDER: Bishop Palmer called the session back to order with prayer.

INTRODUCTION: Bishop Palmer introduced, welcomed, and expressed appreciation to Rev. Jorge Acevedo, the transformational pastor of Grace United Methodist Church, a multi-site, team-oriented congregation in Cape Coral, Florida.

GUEST SPEAKER: REV. JORGE ACEVEDO: Rev. Jorge Acevedo challenged the conference to be healed of "Heroic Solo Leadership Syndrome," which is characterized by fatigue, lack of continuity, innovation, and accountability; tendency to over-commit; conviction that "if it's going to be, it's up to me!"; and frustration.

Why teams? 1) The Bible teaches team ministry, 2) our heritage modeled it, 3) our checkbooks demand it, and 4) our world desperately needs team ministry.

What are characteristics of a healthy team? Jorge cited the book, Five Dysfunctions of a Team, by Patrick M. Lencioni, which identifies absence of trust, fear of conflict, lack of commitment, avoidance of accountability, and inattention to results as barriers to teamwork. Healthy teams 1) create environments of high trust, unity, and spiritual growth, 2) are passionately committed to the mission of making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world, 3) are able to confront difficult issues and solve problems through innovation, 4) create a culture and system for transformation to happen and continually the fruit, and 5) produce fruit.

How do I start? 1) Be the mission, 2) build one healthy team to become "a good infection."

Palmer then shared reflections based on Ephesians 4: 6, 15-16, speaking on the theme: "The Risk of Truth-Telling." He reminded the conference that what we say and what we don't say is very significant; how we conduct conversation is critical to how community is formed. He urged members to hold their convictions, but not to let them be a wall that is hard and fixed, in order that there is some permeability that allows for genuine listening. He closed with the admonition to "Listen with the ears of our hearts."

OFFERING REPORT: Bishop Palmer shared results of the offerings taken so far. The offering taken at Wednesday's Memorial Service for New Hope United Methodist Church is $11,459.08. The offering taken in Laity Session for the John Kofi Asmah School is $14,568.68.

He referred to passage, Isaiah 51: 1-3,"Consider the rock from which you were cut," and spoke on the theme "Turbocharge the Tradition." He said that living into our call begins with principles.

1) Cultivate self-leadership. The most important thing we need is our life, our soul. This begins with daily spiritual exercises and watchfulness on how we live. Important questions are: How is it with your soul? Are you abiding in Christ? How is it with your ministry? Are you abounding in the work of the Lord?

2) Organize to beat the devil. Wesley organized into societies, class meetings, and bands-- each nurturing a "wave of grace" (prevenient, justifying, and sanctifying). Grace UMC organizes 1) to reach, 2) to connect people to Christ and the congregation, 3) to form disciples (he highly recommended Walk to Emmaus), and 4) to send.

3) Weave together personal piety and social holiness. To stand in the stream of Methodism is to care about body and soul. We need many ports of entry where people can encounter the transcendent God. Portals of entry in community service are particularly effective.

4) Give priority to ministry to the poor, the marginalized, and the evicted. The church must provide for aid (stop the bleeding); advancement (helping people move from entitlement to empowerment); and advocacy (speaking up for the poor).

SUPPLEMENT TO THE 2013 ANNUAL CONFERENCE BUDGET

Clergy Support and Administration Apportionment = $7,570,437

Equitable Compensation, $65,000. This fund is utilized to assist local churches with pastor salary expenses where there is potential for church growth or some other transition is taking place. Limits are applied for the amount of support given and the time period that a church/charge can receive support. Funds are requested by the Cabinet, approved by the Commission on Equitable Compensation and distributed by the Treasurer's office to the local church or charge.

Moving Expenses for Retirees, $40,000. When a pastor retires, it is the first time that his/her move is not paid by a receiving church. The primary purpose of this fund is to ensure that a retiring pastor can afford to move out of the parsonage, thus creating an opening for the new pastor. So, the fund assists local churches in the smooth transition from one pastor to another.

District Superintendents Fund, $2,042,300. The majority of this fund is used to pay the salaries and benefits of the District Superintendents. District Superintendents assist local churches in the orderly transition of pastors, in helping local churches work through crisis situations, in assisting the Bishop in the oversight of the life of the annual conference and in aiding local churches and pastors to fulfill the mission that God places before them. The fund also encompasses grants to assist local churches with one-time emergency needs, usually dealing with transitions in pastoral leadership. A portion of the fund is utilized for missional needs that are particular to the interests or needs of a district. Finally, the fund is utilized for the funding of the district offices. It includes the salaries and benefits of the district administrative assistants, office rent and utilities, postage, and the ordinary expenses that come with running an office. With any funds remaining, the districts often conduct special mission and ministry programs: for clergy and laity education, clergy gatherings, mission promotion and direct support of various ministries. The district offices serve local churches by providing convenient access to the district superintendent, regional resources for local churches, and a location for small meetings.

Episcopal Fund, $439,737. This is an apportionment from the General Conference. It goes to support the salaries, benefits and operational expenses of the Bishops and their offices (The Book of Discipline ¶817). Bishops assist local churches by appointing pastors, guiding the work of the Cabinet, encouraging leaders of all kinds and providing guidance to every level of the United Methodist Church.

Conference Offices and CCFA, $994,500. This funds the salaries, benefits, and operations of the Finance and Administration Team (business and benefits office) of the IGRC, as well as many of the shared operational expenses of the UM Conference Center: Telephone, computers, custodial, copy machines and supplies. The Finance and Administration Team assists local churches by administering benefits for pastors, serving as a conduit for mission and ministry funds, facilitating financial accountability and providing a wide variety of resources for pastors and officers of local churches.

Archives, $61,393. The archives of the IGRC are stored at MacMurray College. These funds reimburse MacMurray for the space utilized in the Library for our archives, plus shared expenditures for utilities. Further, the funds help to support the salary and benefits of a professional archivist who catalogs and maintains our collection. The Archives serve local churches by preserving historical records, providing access to information for persons seeking family and local church histories, and serving as a central repository for documents vital to the life of the church.

Archives Operating Expense, $2,000. This is a new apportionment for 2013. Expenses for the Commission on Archives and History were formerly drawn from pooled administrative funds. As the Commission becomes more active, it seems prudent to provide them with their own line item in the budget, so that they can plan accordingly. The budgeted funds were transferred out of the "Unallocated Travel and Expense" line item, below. There is no increase in the budget due to this new line item.

Trustees, $320,000. The Conference Board of Trustees maintains oversight of about 20 Conference-owned properties, including the United Methodist Center. The Trustees are charged with repair, maintenance and upkeep of the district and staff parsonages, and they become the custodians of local church properties when they are abandoned. The Board will recommend to the annual conference the purchase or sale of properties as needs become apparent. This fund serves local churches by keeping properties that are owned by all the local churches in good order and by providing conference clergy employees (who are, ultimately, employees of all the local churches together) with convenient, safe and functional housing. The fund also takes care of the needs of the United Methodist Center in Springfield, which is a central gathering place for hundreds of meetings every year.

Communications, $490,909. The Communications Team serves the local church by linking local churches with news, resources and ministries that are larger than any one local church by itself. This money goes to fund the people and the operational expenses linked with a variety of communications tools: the "Current", print-media, Internet, web site, streaming video, social media, DVD resources and e-mail notices. The request for 2013 shows a slight decrease because the 2012 budget included a special provision to purchase new high-definition video cameras. Since that need has been satisfied, the 2013 request has been returned to normal levels.

ECT Program and Administration, $1,215,136. The Equipping and Connecting Team is responsible for what has traditionally been called the "Program" area of the Annual Conference. The largest single line item of the ECT budget is a $500,000 subsidy for camping, an increase of $30,000 over the 2012 amount. The salaries and benefits of the ECT staff are included in this budget, as is direct support for many conference and local ministries. The ECT serves local churches by providing a variety of resources and connections which enable churches to expand their ministries and fulfill their mission.

COSROW – Administration, $4,000. "COSROW" stands for the 'Commission on the Status and Role of Women. The Book of Discipline (¶644), outlines the responsibilities of COSROW: primarily to provide a proactive advocacy role which ensures that women are full participants in every aspect of the life of the church. This line item is used to enable the Conference COSROW to fulfill its mission by providing funds for training, meeting expense and any programs that the Commission seeks to offer. COSROW serves the local church by sensitizing us all to the vital role of women in the church.

Religion and Race – Administration, $8,500. This fund is administered by the Conference Commission on Religion and Race, whose responsibilities are found in ¶643 of The Book of Discipline. Religion and Race seeks to achieve full inclusiveness of people of all races in the life of the conference and local churches. The Commission serves as a monitoring body and seeks to develop programs and policies which encourage the full participation of all races. The funds provided from the Conference budget are utilized for meeting, training and program expenses. The Commission on Religion and Race serves the local church by providing resources and support in the ultimate goal of the inclusion of all colors of God's children in the life of the church.

Board of Ordained Ministry – Administration, $50,000. The Conference Board of Ordained Ministry is responsible for the approval and nurture of all ordained, commissioned and licensed persons in service to the IGRC. The Board spends hundreds of hours each year in the examination of candidates for ministry, to ensure that they have the gifts and graces to serve local churches and have fulfilled all of the educational requirements. Also responsible for oversight of the character and conduct of pastors, the Board seeks to provide pathways of redemption in cases of personal or professional crisis. Budget funds are utilized for the administrative expenses of the Board: meetings, travel, training, orientation and other expenses associated with certification, licensing and ordination of candidates. Scholarships and other expenses are supported by the Ministerial Education Fund (see below). The Board of Ordained Ministry serves local churches by ensuring that pastors meet or exceed the qualifications necessary for leading successful ministries.

Annual Conference Session, $150,000. The expense of the Annual Conference session is funded primarily by this apportionment. Smaller amounts are also utilized from various departments, fees and grants. Of this line item, the largest single expense is the rental and operation of the electronic voting system, which proved its worth in some very close votes in the first few years of full operation. The Sessions Committee administers this line item, as well as the full budget of the annual meeting. Sessions Committee is asking for a $15,000 increase for 2013, in response to the reality that expenses in the service and technology sectors are outpacing inflation. The Annual Conference session serves the local church by providing a gathering place for every Charge to participate in the formation of the policies and practices of the Annual Conference. Further, attendees are spiritually enriched with dynamic worship and teaching. The free sharing of resources, ideas, and peer-to-peer conversations plants seeds of mission and ministry, which are carried back to local churches to grow and bear fruit.

Conference Secretary, $7,450. The Conference Secretary not only takes minutes at each Annual Conference session, but serves an integral role in the planning and implementation of conference. Our conference secretary is also the editor of the Conference Journal, which is a very ambitious task. This line item goes to pay for small honorariums for the secretary and staff, for travel reimbursements and other expenses associated with the secretary's work. The Conference Secretary serves local churches by making sure there is an accurate record of the business, history and resources of the annual conference for the current and future generations.

Journal & Yearbook, $23,000. Working closely with the Conference Secretary, the Journal Publication Committee is responsible for the printing of the annual Journal (or duplicating the Journal on disk) and distributing it to pastors and local churches. Acting in good stewardship, the committee seeks competitive bids and has pioneered the transition from a printed journal to one that can be accessed electronically – either on disk or via the Internet. The funds used for the publication and distribution of the Journal serve local churches by making sure that the plans, policies, actions and deliberations of the annual conference are transparent and freely accessible to anyone.

Legal Expense Fund, $60,000. Sadly, we live in a litigious society. Like the Apostle Paul did, sometimes the Annual Conference has to resort to legal resources to protect itself. Fortunately, most of the time, the legal fund is utilized proactively, to make sure that the conference treats everyone fairly and does no harm. Funds expended to, essentially, "keep us out of trouble" are a wise investment for the local churches. The costs of making serious legal mistakes are far greater than an ounce of prevention.

Conference Foundation – Administration, $60,000. The United Methodist Foundation of the IGRC seeks to be in partnership with local churches regarding effective stewardship, future planning and the wise investment of resources. Serving local churches is what the UM Foundation is all about. Every local church may access the excellent financial resources that the Foundation provides.

Unallocated Travel and Expense, $10,000. There are several committees in the conference that meet on a regular basis, but they have no budget of their own. This line item takes care of the travel and meeting expense of committees that are no less vital to the life of the annual conference, but do not command enough funding to justify a separate line item in the budget. These funds serve local churches by enabling church members to participate in the life of the conference and by enabling these committees to meet and do the work which enhances ministries.

Clergy Sexual Misconduct Response Team, $0. Who comes in to pick up the pieces when a local church is devastated by an act – or the accusation of an act – of clergy sexual misconduct? This group of specially trained and sensitive people, thankfully, are rarely called upon, but when they are, their work is crucial for recovery and redemption. More positively, the Team works proactively to arrange for mandatory training of all clergy in the prevention of sexual misconduct. These funds are utilized by the Team for training and the expenses involved in their ministry. They serve local churches by turning the unthinkable into hope. For 2013, CCFA is recommending that apportionment funding for the Clergy Sexual Misconduct Response Team be paused. Unused funds roll over from year to year into a project account where $31,499 has accumulated as of this writing. This should be adequate to fund training events and emergency needs for the time being. When it becomes prudent, apportionment funding will resume.

Illinois Area Office, $176,850. These apportionments are utilized for the support of the Area Office, more commonly called "the Bishop's Office," which is located in the United Methodist Center in Springfield. The funds are used for the staff who support the ministry of the Bishop, office expenses, and programs to benefit pastors and ministries. Travel and expenses for the Bishop are paid by the General Church from the "Episcopal Fund" (see above.) The Illinois Area Office serves local churches – and the denomination as a whole – by providing a place to connect with the Bishop and the Cabinet. The office serves as a locus for high-level conversations, decisions, strategies and ministry resources.

Pastoral Care & Counseling, $127,500. In years past when mental and emotional health counselors were hard to find, this office served much like a medical office. People called, appointments were made, pastors and spouses drove long distances to the office, and there was usually one counseling professional who saw everyone he could see. In recent years, Pastoral Care has sought various methodologies to expand its role, serve more clients and fill the gaps in assistance that current mental/emotional health services do not provide. Pastoral Care serves local churches by endeavoring to maintain and restore clergy and their families to health and wholeness. Someone has said, "Healthy clergy = healthy churches."

Committee on Episcopacy, $2,000. The responsibilities of the Conference Committee on Episcopacy are found in The Book of Discipline ¶637. The committee provides support and feedback for the Bishop. It also serves as a conduit of information to all levels of the United Methodist Church regarding the needs of the conference and its Episcopal leader. Two-thirds of the committee's members are laity from local churches. The funds are usually utilized for meeting expenses, but the committee is free to provide resources for the enhancement of the ministry of the Bishop. The Committee on Episcopacy serves by providing a direct link between local churches and the Bishop.

Episcopal Residence Committee, $1,000. Paragraph 638 in The Book of Discipline outlines the responsibilities of the Episcopal Residence Committee. Essentially, the committee ensures that the Bishop's residence is appropriately cared for.

Acting similarly to local church trustees who oversee a parsonage, the committee supervises any expenditure of funds for maintenance and upkeep of the structure. Only $1,000 is budgeted for meeting expenses. Another fund which was created some years ago currently provides the funding for maintenance and upkeep. No IGRC apportionment funds are currently involved in those projects. Laity from local churches comprise two-thirds of the membership of the current committee. The Episcopal Residence Committee serves the local churches by maintaining a residence for their Bishop which is safe and comfortable for the Episcopal family, offers a warm place of hospitality for guests and enables the Bishop to be housed within easy access of the conference offices.

Conference Center, $500,000. This apportionment funds the building loan for the United Methodist Center in Springfield. The line item was set at $500,000 by the annual conference several years ago and it has not increased since. The building is financed with bonds that have a variable interest rate, so actual expenditures from the fund will vary from year to year. At this writing, the bond interest rate is very favorable. The UM Center serves local churches by providing a convenient and centralized place for meetings, so that laity from all areas in the conference can participate. In addition, most of the conference staff and other resources are located in the building for easy access by clergy and lay members of local churches who have questions or concerns.

Prior claims in excess of apportionment receipts, $105,000. Many of the budgets within the annual conference structure have a high percentage of employee salaries and benefits – which, ethically, must be paid at 100%. When apportionments come in at around 90%, where does the extra 10% come from to pay full compensation? In years past, various methodologies were employed to account for the shortfall, but one factor was always true: the local churches that pay 100% of their apportionments make up for the local churches that don't. Rather than to hide this reality in budgetary devices, CCFA requested that this apportionment line item be inserted in the budget merely to make fully transparent the fact that the local churches that pay 100% actually pay more than their fair share of the funds needed to run the conference. In recent years, the fund has been depleted before the end of the year. This line item serves local churches as a reminder of our connectional responsibilities. If the day ever comes when all churches pay 100%, there will be no need for this apportionment.

Contingency, $100,000. In order to meet the requirements of our polity, budget planning has to begin 18 to 24 months prior to the actual implementation of the budget. Planning for the 2013 budget began – in earnest – well before July of 2011. In any budget of this magnitude with the time constraints involved, it is impossible to predict every situation which may appear after the budget has been approved. This line item, only .82% of the budget, permits emergency needs to be addressed without calling a special session of the Annual Conference. It serves local churches by providing a means to care for unplanned events at the conference level, thus freeing clergy and lay members to focus on local church matters.

General/Jurisdictional Conference Expense, $55,000. This was a new line item in 2011 which was requested to address two needs: 1) The General and Jurisdictional Conferences do not provide any funding for the reserve delegates that we elect. This proved to be a significant expense for the IGRC in 2008 and there were no funds dedicated to pay for it. The 2012 conferences will be at distant locations, so it is prudent to begin a project account with funds reserved to care for these needs. 2) The IGRC will host the 2016 session of the North Central Jurisdictional Conference. We know from the experience of recent host conferences that the funds provided by the Jurisdiction are inadequate to pay for the entire cost of the conference. Therefore, if we are aware that the IGRC might have to contribute to the cost, it behooves us to make preparations for that event. This line item serves local churches by preparing for future costs, so that churches will not be approached to help fund emergency situations in years hence.

Bishop's Initiatives, $100,000. This is an apportionment of seed money to enable the Bishop to facilitate exciting new programs, ministries and opportunities without undergoing the laborious process of board and committee approvals. It enables the Bishop to dream and to lead. The fund will serve local churches by unleashing the creative mind and energy of our Bishop.

Post-Retirement Benefits Reserve, $100,000. A recent study received by the IGRC as part of the annual audit revealed that the conference can reasonably expect to spend $26,513,251 for health benefits over the lifetimes of current and future clergy retirees and their spouses. The study doesn't even include any new pastors who might come into our system and earn retirement benefits. While we have made great strides in reducing this liability, the dollars required are still overwhelming. The fundamental question is this: "Do we intend to provide retirement health benefits?" If the answer is, "Yes." then we need to prepare for it now. In 2008, this apportionment line item was $3,000,000, but we had to pull back on funding because of the pension funding crisis. The $100,000 budgeted is really a token amount and probably only represents a couple of week's worth of increasing liability. When financial and health systems stabilize, the IGRC should be prepared to once again take up the cause of funding of future retiree benefits, so that future generations of the local church won't be paralyzed by the overwhelming financial burden of what is to come.

General Administration Fund, $183,106. This is a General Church Apportionment. "The General Administration Fund shall provide for the expenses of the sessions of the General Conference, the Judicial Council, special commissions and committees constituted by the General Conference, and other administrative agencies and activities recommended for inclusion in the general administration budget by the General Council on Finance and Administration and approved by the General Conference." (The Book of Discipline ¶813). In other words, the General Administration Fund is the engine that makes the General Church go. This apportionment line item serves local churches by providing administrative funds for denominational entities that provide quality resources for local churches and answers to important questions. It also enables delegates from local churches to have a voice and vote in the formation of denominational decisions and policies.

Interdenominational Cooperation Fund, $40,762. "This fund shall provide United Methodist Support of the basic budgets of those organizations that relate to the ecumenical responsibilities of the Council of Bishops and of the General Commission on Christian Unity and Interreligious Concerns." (The Book of Discipline ¶814). Participation in ecumenical efforts reminds us that we are not alone in our work for Jesus Christ. All of us: local churches, conferences and denominations are stronger together than as separate entities.

Jurisdictional Conference Fund, $35,333. This is an apportionment from the North Central Jurisdictional Conference. The NCJ Conference is a regional organization of the United Methodist Church which comprises the states of the upper Midwest. The fund is utilized primarily for expenses relating to the NCJ Conference session, which is held every four years (2012 in Akron, OH). This is where Bishops are elected and assigned. However, significant funding is also provided for ethnic minority ministries which could not receive adequate support from their own annual conferences or whose ministries extend beyond annual conference boundaries. The Jurisdictional Conference Fund serves local churches by providing the means to elect leaders who are integral to the life of the church and by extending the missional reach of each congregation.

Benevolences & Connectional Ministries Apportionment = $4,591,241

Congregational Development, $905,000. Everyone understands that in order to follow (or anticipate) population patterns and reach new disciples for Jesus Christ, it is necessary to start new churches and assist established ones to transition into growing congregations. This apportionment is administered by the Congregational Development Team (CDT). The CDT works with the Cabinet to identify potential areas of growth and recommends the steps necessary to expand the witness of the United Methodist Church. CDT works with local churches to assist them in the process of analyzing their growth potential and charting their future course. CDT provides training for pastors to be ready to foment growth in existing congregations or to plant new ones. CDT provides financial resources to facilitate transformation. These are not just "program" expenses; they are an investment in our future.

Conference Benevolences, $1,107,578. The detailed line-item Benevolence Budget is found elsewhere in this Pre-Conference Workbook. In short, the Conference Benevolence budget provides direct financial assistance to worthy organizations that operate outside of the direct management of the IGRC. This includes a significant portion for Higher Education (direct support for UM-related colleges and Campus Ministries), as well as financial support for Health and Welfare Ministries and local projects (Specialized Ministries). Support for Conference Benevolences enables each local church to extend the reach of its ministries. It supports vital ministries and services which would not otherwise receive enough local support to continue operations.

World Service, $1,517,438. Paragraph 812 in The Book of Discipline proclaims that the World Service Fund "is basic in the financial program of The United Methodist Church. World Service on apportionment represents the minimum needs of the general agencies of the Church. Payment in full of these apportionments by local churches and annual conferences is the first benevolent responsibility of the Church." Anyone wishing to see a detailed budget of this and any other General Church apportionment may do so by going to www.gcfa.org and typing, "Financial Commitment" in the search box. World Service assists local churches by enabling them to reach out with love and compassion in the name of Jesus Christ to the world's most needy people.

Ministerial Education Fund, $520,960 The Ministerial Education Fund is a General Church apportionment which is used "to enable the Church to unify and expand its program of financial support for the recruitment and education of ordained and diaconal ministers and to equip the annual conferences to meet increased demands in this area." (The Book of Discipline ¶816). The largest portion of the funds collected go to support the theological schools (usually, seminaries) of the United Methodist Church. However, the annual conference retains 25% of apportionment funds remitted for use by the IGRC Board of Ordained Ministry to support the education of our clergy. The Ministerial Education Fund assists local churches in the development of current and future clergy leaders to guide local churches in their efforts to make disciples for Jesus Christ.

Africa University Fund, $46,501. Founded in 1992, Africa University is educating leaders for the continent of Africa who bring hope to the most desolate of circumstances. Located in Old Mutare, our apportionment giving to Africa University is extremely important. Economic conditions in Zimbabwe have improved somewhat and AU managed to stay open during the worst of the crisis, but only because of the faithfulness of United Methodists in local churches like yours. We cannot insist that developing nations become self-supporting without providing them with the educational tools to do so. The Africa University Fund provides an avenue for local churches to supply those tools.

Black College Fund, $207,796. The Black College Fund (¶815) began in 1972 as one of the apportioned general Church funds. The objective of the fund is to provide financial support for institutions of higher education that have historically served the educational needs of black students. Eleven institutions of higher learning are supported by the Fund, more than any other religious denomination. The IGRC has a special relationship with Wiley College, made famous in the movie, "The Great Debaters." Wiley College is also a recipient of Black College Funds. The Black College Fund assists local churches in reaching out to improve the lives of dedicated and ambitious young people of color, who might otherwise have no means to fulfill their life potential.

General Church Apportionments in excess of receipts, $265,000. The Illinois Great Rivers Conference is committed to paying 100% of its General Church apportionments (see CCFA Policy #17). Unfortunately, not every IGRC local church pays its apportionments at 100%. So, how do we bridge the gap between what the local churches pay and what is apportioned by the General Church? Similar to the "Prior Claims" item above, this apportionment line item merely makes transparent what has always been the case: the local churches that pay all of their apportionments make up for the ones that don't. In most recent years, the $265,000 apportioned (which is also not received at 100%) has not been adequate to fund the shortfall. In order to pay our General Church apportionments at 100%, funds have also been utilized from budget items which have not been fully expended. The payment of our General Church apportionments at 100% helps the local churches of the IGRC to be full partners in the larger mission of the Church, and provides an example to each local church that 100% payment of apportionments is our first benevolent responsibility.

Legislative Item 104: CCFA Policies and Guidelines

Subject: Policies of the Conference Council on Finance and Administration
Submitted by: CCFA

1. All Illinois Great Rivers Conference (IGRC) related entities (except local churches) shall comply with the provisions of ¶613.2 (2008 Book of Discipline) prior to embarking on any capital funds campaign or conference-wide appeal.
2. Entities that are designated as Conference Advance Specials are authorized to present their ministries through pulpit presentations, personal contacts, direct mail or electronic means (within the guidelines of the IGRC Information Technology and Communications policies.)
3. Salaries for District Superintendents: CCFA shall consider the yearly percentage difference in the Conference Average Compensation as calculated by the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits for the latest possible year when recommending salaries of the District Superintendents.
4. The Annual Conference Treasurer, the Conference Board of Trustees and their staffs; and the President of CCFA are bonded by a fidelity bond provided by the General Council on Finance and Administration in the amount of $1,000,000. Local church treasurers and financial officers are bonded by an Annual Conference Blanket Bond which is a supplement to any coverage specified in the local church's own insurance policy.
5. In accordance with the 2008 Book of Discipline (¶617.2), CCFA will annually review the audits of all Annual Conference Institutions which receive money from the Annual Conference. Other agencies receiving funds from the IGRC shall submit annually an audited Treasurer's report or financial statement if a formal separate audit is not available.
6. The Annual Conference grants CCFA the authority to make adjustments in apportionments of individual churches. All such requests will be made with regard to the facts presented and with the knowledge and consent of the District Superintendent.
7. Mileage Reimbursement: Travel to all approved District and Conference meetings shall be reimbursed at the rate of $0.20 per mile. For Annual Conference Staff persons, including District Superintendents, the rate shall be the current IRS rate.
8. Moving Allowance for Retirees/Disabled/Surviving Spouses: The maximum moving allowance shall be $1,500, plus $500 for packing and insurance for up to 18,000 pounds. The same rule for the retiree moving allowance shall apply once to any minister who qualifies for disability payment. A minister who has received the disability moving allowance shall not be eligible for an additional moving allowance at the time of his/her retirement. The same moving allowance shall be available once to the surviving spouse of a pastor who dies in active service.

9. At year end, remittances from local church treasurers must be made to the Annual Conference Treasurer by the fifth working day of the new year in order to be credited to the prior year.
10. Apportionments shall be based solely on the latest year end statistical report expenses (currently, lines 51-62 of Table II). [Direct-billed Clergy Benefits, Pastor's Salary, Associate Pastor's Salary, Housing, Utilities and Other Allowances Paid, Accountable Reimbursements Paid to the Pastors, Other Cash Allowances Paid to the Pastors, Deacon's and Diaconal Minister's Compensation, Other Staff Compensation, Current Expenses for Program, Other Current Operating Expenses]
11. In compliance with ¶619 and with the consent of the Bishop, CCFA nominates Richard A. VanGiesen for election as the Annual Conference Treasurer/Director of Administrative Services for the 2013-2016 quadrennium.
12. The IGRC has established as its policy that salaries, travel allowances, and benefits of Conference employees be treated as prior claims and paid each month at 100% of the budgeted amount.
13. The IGRC has established as its policy that all budgeted line items not considered to be "prior claims" be paid at a rate not to exceed the amount received in apportionments during the fiscal year.
14. The IGRC has established as its policy that budget line items designated for non-prior claims, when apportionment collections shall have been received in an amount sufficient to allow an expenditure of funds, shall then only be paid in 11 monthly installments totaling no more than 65% of the budgeted amount.
15. The IGRC has established as its policy that a final payment will be made at the end of the fiscal year for budget line items designated as non-prior claims in an amount equal to the difference between the line item's pro-rata share of apportionments received during the fiscal year and the sums for said line item paid out previously in the fiscal year pursuant to the formula set forth in the preceding paragraph.
16. The IGRC has established as its policy that any resolution approved by the Annual Conference authorizing the expenditure of funds for special projects not included in the budget be approved annually by the Annual Conference until the project is completed and that this review will be initiated by a report on the project submitted to the Annual Conference by the CCFA and the Conference organization responsible for the project.
17. The General and Jurisdictional Conference Apportionments shall be paid at 100% of the amount apportioned to the Illinois Great Rivers Conference.
18. CCFA must approve the establishment of all financial accounts opened in the name of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference, including all districts, boards, committees and commissions.
19. When the Conference receives contributions that are restricted in terms of the use or timing of the expenditure, the amounts are recorded as restricted net assets. These accounts demonstrate the conference's compliance with legal restrictions on the use of contributions. As a general rule restricted net asset accounts do not earn interest for the restricted purpose.
20. Custodial (in/out) accounts are not part of the net assets of the IGRC and shall be established when the following criteria are met:
    A. The source of funds for the account are derived from user fees and the funds are not donor-restricted.
    B. CCFA and/or the Director of Administrative Services agree to accept the funds.

21. Board designated accounts are unrestricted net asset accounts which have been set aside for a specific purpose by a agency/board/committee/commission within the Conference. In order for CCFA to classify funds as board designated amounts a written request must be received from the appropriate agency/board/committee/commission. CCFA may also request and approve its own designations. Apportioned funds will generally not be board designated unless approved by CCFA. Since board designated accounts are a segregation of conference funds, they as a general rule do not earn interest. Unlike restricted net assets, board designations are unrestricted net assets and can be undesignated by CCFA or Annual Conference action.
22. Contracts: CCFA designates the Conference Treasurer/DAS as the authorized signer of any contract which obligates the Illinois Great Rivers Conference financially or for potential liability. In all instances, the responsibilities of the Conference Board of Trustees as outlined in ¶2512 of the 2008 Discipline shall be maintained. If the stated amount of the contract exceeds $10,000, an additional signatory is necessary which may be any appointed or elected officer of the Conference with fiduciary responsibilities, such as: the Bishop, Assistant Treasurer, Conference Secretary, CCFA President, Trustees President or another Director. If the stated amount of the contract exceeds $25,000, legal review by the Conference Chancellor is required. All contracts signed by unauthorized persons are null and void.

Legislative Item 105: Conference Board of Pensions

Subject: Report concerning pension and health insurance plans
Submitted By: Conference Board of Pensions

Pensions

On December 31, 2011, the IGRC made a payment of $6,151,644 to the General Board of Pensions. This effectively ended the pension funding crisis for us, which was the result of the 2008-2009 recession. We were able to make that payment because of sacrifices made at every level of the conference: individuals, local churches and departments of the annual conference. We are very grateful to all for the cooperation that was necessary to carry us through this crisis. By annual conference time, the General Conference will have met and determined the course of the clergy pension plans for several years to come. No matter which plan prevails, one undeniable truth will emerge: our clergy need to save more of their own money for retirement. Information provided to us by the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits indicates that only about half of the pastors in our conference contribute anything to the United Methodist Personal Investment Plan. This figure must increase for all of our pastors to enjoy a comfortable retirement. The local church direct bill for clergy pensions (CRSP-Defined Benefit) will increase slightly (+$16/month for a full-time pastor) in 2013 due primarily to new actuarial calculations of investment returns. The actions of General Conference could change these rates, but we think that wholesale changes in the pension plan, if passed, probably won't go into effect until 2014.

Here is the most likely schedule for 2013:

Full-Time Pastor, $7,152 per year; $596 per month
¾ - time Pastor, $5,364 per year; $447 per month
½ - time Pastor, $3,576 per year; $298 per month
¼ - time Pastor; $1,788 per year; $149 per month

Active Health Insurance

The first thing that you will probably notice is that your Conference Board of Pensions is recommending no increase in the health insurance contribution rates for 2013. In doing this, we understand that we are taking a leap of faith. At the time of this report and recommendation, we know that external factors may have a huge impact on how health insurance is delivered to our members. A Supreme Court decision will come down. An election will be held. Various interpretations of the law are being applied. The health insurance environment is constantly shifting. Even in the midst of this uncertain future, the Board believes that in 2014 (or later), provisions will be applied on the national scene to make health insurance more affordable. At this writing, it is impossible to predict what will emerge. Your Conference Board of Pensions will be looking for opportunities to reduce our health insurance costs. However, we believe we need to state one uncomfortable reality: Our active health insurance plan (in its present form) is not sustainable for the long term. We celebrate a few young clergy entering our workforce, but the reality is that our active clergy population continues to grow older. This results in higher claims. We have fewer United Methodist members in our local churches to pay for a plan that continues to grow more expensive. This situation cannot continue indefinitely. In fact, last year, the health plan experienced nearly a half-million dollar deficit due primarily to several large claims. Fortunately, we have reserves that are adequate to carry us through this period of difficulty. Therefore, with an uncertain future, it would be irresponsible for us to raise contribution rates without any basis in fact. This we promise, however: change is coming: we just don't know what it looks like yet.

Retiree Health Insurance

: Last year, the annual conference passed the "Moving to Medicare-D" proposal for Medicare-eligible retirees. Everyone acknowledged that this would require a massive educational effort to acquaint our retirees with the Medicare-D program and assist them with enrollment. Following annual conference, the Conference Benefits Office, Preachers' Aid Society and Benefit Fund, and volunteers from the Illinois Senior Health Insurance Program (SHIP) worked together to reach 729 retirees, spouses and surviving spouses. Eleven information sessions in various parts of the conference were held with personal, face-to-face, counseling with our retired family. Hundreds of phone calls were made and received. Home visits were made to shut-ins. Follow-up postcards and calls were tracked for each person. According to our records, there were only 7 persons in our retirement community that we could not find. Therefore, our contact rate was 99%. We absolutely must offer special thanks to two SHIP volunteers, United Methodists Tarry Platner and Ralph Morgan (both from the Bloomington/Normal area) who stepped in from the very beginning and organized the effort, trained our volunteers and staff, and handled our most difficult questions. "Thank you, Tarry and Ralph!"

At this writing, we have no plans to change the current health insurance plan for Medicare-eligible retirees. It is a self-insured Medicare supplement which models Plan F benefits. The Preachers' Aid Society and Benefit Fund provides generous support for the cost of this plan, without which, the retiree health insurance program simply would not be feasible.

The Annual Conference Board of Pensions is authorized to update the Health Plan in order to make the Plan language consistent with the Health Insurance Policies which have been approved by the Annual Conference. The Conference Board of Pensions is further authorized to amend the Health Plan in order to comply with applicable provisions of the law.

The Illinois Great Rivers Annual Conference grants the Conference Board of Pensions full authority to amend the Group Health Insurance Plan and contribution rates in response to changes in the law and the insurance environment.

Each church/charge shall be assessed one full health insurance assessment per clergy person appointed full-time to the church/charge regardless of the personal health insurance situation of the clergy person.

If General Conference changes the current clergy pension plan with an implementation date of January 1, 2013, the Conference Board of Pensions is authorized to adjust the direct billed amounts to local churches accordingly.

ACTION ITEM
Pension Rate and Special Grant Recommendations

The pension rate for pre-1982 years of service will be set at $688.00 per service year for 2013. This is a 2% increase (rounded to whole dollars) over the 2012 rate of $674.16.

The following special grants will be made for 2013:

- Ruth Sharrow be declared eligible to the claim of a dependent child for the service years of her father, Clarence Sharrow.
- Mrs. Allen Morgan be given a special grant of $35.00 per month.
- Irene Frick be given a special grant of $300 per month beginning July 1, 2001 and increasing 2% per year.

ACTION ITEMS
Resolutions Relating to Rental/Housing Allowance for Retired or Disabled Clergypersons of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference

The Illinois Great Rivers Conference (the "Conference") adopts the following resolutions relating to rental/housing allowances for active, retired, or disabled clergypersons of the Conference:

Whereas, the religious denomination known as The United Methodist Church (the "Church"), of which this Conference is a part, has in the past functioned and continues to function through ministers of the gospel (within the meaning of Internal Revenue Code section 107) who were or are duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed ministers of the Church ("Clergypersons");

Whereas, the practice of the Church and of this Conference was and is to provide active Clergypersons with a parsonage or a rental/housing allowance as part of their gross compensation;

Whereas, pensions or other amounts paid to active, retired, and disabled Clergypersons are considered to be deferred compensation and are paid to active, retired, and disabled Clergypersons in consideration of previous active service; and

Whereas, the Internal Revenue Service has recognized the Conference (or its predecessors) as the appropriate organization to designate a rental/housing allowance for Clergypersons who are or were members of this Conference and are eligible to receive such deferred compensation;

Now therefore be it resolved, that an amount equal to 100% of the pension or disability payments received from plans authorized under The Book of Discipline of The United Methodist Church (the "Discipline"), which includes all such payments from the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits ("GBOPHB"), during the year 2013 by each active, retired, or disabled Clergyperson who is or was a member of the Conference, or its predecessors, be and hereby is designated as a rental/housing allowance for each such Clergyperson; and

Be it further resolved that, the pension or disability payments to which this rental/housing allowance applies will be any pension or disability payments from plans, annuities, or funds authorized under the Discipline, including such payments from the GBOPHB and from a commercial annuity company that provides an annuity arising from benefits accrued under a GBOPHB plan, annuity, or fund authorized under the Discipline, that result from any service a Clergyperson rendered to this Conference or that an active, a retired, or a disabled Clergyperson of this Conference rendered to any local church, annual conference of the Church, general agency of the Church, other institution of the Church, former denomination that is now a part of the Church, or any other employer that employed the Clergyperson to perform services related to the ministry of the Church, or its predecessors, and that elected to make contributions to, or accrue a benefit under, such a plan, annuity, or fund for such active, retired, or disabled Clergyperson's pension or disability as part of his or her gross compensation.

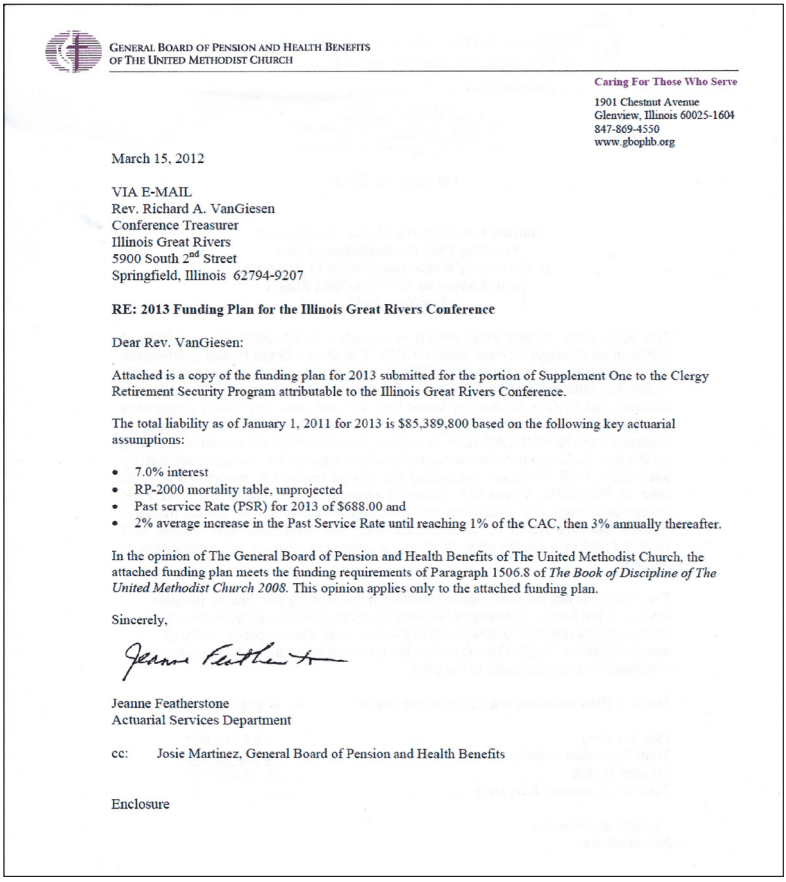

NOTE: The rental/housing allowance that may be excluded from a Clergyperson's gross income in any year for federal income tax purposes is limited under Internal Revenue Code section 107(2) and regulations thereunder to the least of: (1) the amount of the rental/housing allowance designated by the Clergyperson's employer or other appropriate body of the Church (such as this Conference in the foregoing resolutions) for such year; (2) the amount actually expended by the Clergyperson to rent or provide a home in such year; or (3) the fair rental value of the home, including furnishings and appurtenances (such as a garage), plus the cost of utilities in such year.

Legislative Item 106: Long Range Pension Funding

Subject: Pre-1982 Pension Funding Plan for 2013 as required by ¶1506.8 of the 2008 Book of Discipline.
Submitted by: Conference Board of Pensions

The 2013 Past Service Rate (PSR) is expected to be $688.00, or 1.08% of Conference Average Compensation (CAC). The Illinois Great Rivers Conference (IGRC) desires to increase the PSR by 2% per year. In future years, the PSR/CAC ratio will not be allowed to fall below 1.0%. Because current trends indicate that CAC is increasing faster than 2% per year, the IGRC recognizes that there will be future increases in the PSR which exceed 2% per year to maintain the 1% PSR/CAC ratio. Assuming that the PSR will increase annually by 2% and CAC will increase annually by an average of 3%, we estimate that by year 2021, PSR increases exceeding 2% will be needed to maintain the 1.0% ratio of PSR/CAC. When this becomes necessary, the IGRC will fund PSR increases through Pre-1982 Plan reserves, apportionments, withdrawals from the Retiree Benefits Reserve, contributions from the Preachers' Aid Society and Benefit Fund or a combination of all four as deemed prudent and appropriate at the time.

The IGRC will not consider again subsidizing the funding the defined benefits portion of the Clergy Retirement Security Program (CRSP-DB) from Pre-1982 Plan

RE: 2013 Funding Plan for the Illinois Great Rivers Conference

Dear Rev. VanGiesen:

Attached is a copy of the funding plan for 2013 submitted for the portion of Supplement One to the Clergy Retirement Security Program attributable to the Illinois Great Rivers Conference.

The total liability as of January 1, 2011 for 2013 is $85,389,800 based on the following key actuarial assumptions:

- 7.0% interest
- RP-2000 mortality table, unprojected
- Past service Rate (PSR) for 2013 of $688.00 and
- 2% average increase in the Past Service Rate until reaching 1% of the CAC, then 3% annually thereafter.

In the opinion of The General Board of Pension and Health Benefits of The United Methodist Church, the attached funding plan meets the funding requirements of Paragraph 1506.8 of The Book of Discipline of The United Methodist Church 2008. This opinion applies only to the attached funding plan.

Sincerely,

Jeanne Featherstone
Actuarial Services Department

Funded Status	$ 2,586,807
Total Contributions Required	$ -0-

- 7.0% Interest
- Mortality is RP-2000 unprojected.

Legislative Item 107: Change to Standing Rule VII.C.

Subject: Proposed change in the Standing Rules
Submitted by: Committee on Standing Rules

The IGRC Standing Rules Committee proposes the follow change in the Standing Rules, which reads on page 332 of the 2011 IGRC Journal-Yearbook under Miscellaneous, VII.C:

"Ministerial Pensions and Benefits Apportionment: Any unpaid Ministerial Pensions and Benefits Apportionment shall be a claim against church property in the event said property is abandoned and/or sold."

To now read:

"Unpaid Apportionments: Any unpaid apportionments shall be a claim against church property in the event said property is abandoned and/or sold."

The reason for the change is that since the 2009 Session of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference approved the direct billing of pensions to local churches, we no longer have a pension apportionment.

Legislative Item 108: Equitable Compensation

Subject: Commission on Equitable Compensation Report
Submitted by: Commission on Equitable Compensation

The Commission on Equitable Compensation is charged with recommending conference standards for pastoral support; administering funds to be used in base compensation supplementation; and providing counsel and advisory material on pastoral support.

Funding for the work of the Commission on Equitable Compensation comes from the Equitable Compensation Fund in the Conference budget. In 2011, the Commission on Equitable Compensation approved grant requests from the Cabinet to assist 11 charges within the Illinois Great Rivers Conference.

In our discussions of a recommendation of a Conference minimum salary, we have sought to balance in our own minds the financial realities experienced by pastors and their families and the financial realities with which many of the churches within the Annual Conference continue to struggle. Our recommendation for minimum compensation for 2013 is an increase of approximately 2% over 2012, and is as follows.

Let it be resolved, that at the recommendation of the Commission on Equitable Compensation, the minimum compensation for pastors in full connection, associate members, provisional elders, and full-time local pastors shall be increased by $750 for 2013. This would set minimum salaries at $36,975.00 for clergy in Full Connection, Associate Members, and Provisional Elders; and $33,930.00 for Full-Time Local Pastors.

Legislative Item 109: Strategic Ministry Plan - Higher Education

Subject: Report on Higher Education Task Force
Submitted by: Higher Education Task Force

Illinois Great Rivers Conference of the United Methodist Church
Task Force on Higher Education
Strategic Ministry Plan

Introduction-History
In 2007 the Illinois Great Rivers Conference (IGRC) passed Resolution 108 "Support for Higher Education". This resolution created a task force to develop a strategic plan and a funding plan for campus ministries. Campus ministries supported by the IGRC include Wesley Foundations and the United Methodist related College/University campus ministries. The task force was to have completed its work for presentation at the 2009 Annual Conference Session. While not meeting its original deadline, the task force has been active since its creation. Some of its ongoing findings and possible recommendations have been implemented by the IGRC Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry. The task force has conducted a visioning retreat, obtained information from the General Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry, utilized an outside consultant to evaluate the Wesley Foundations within the Conference, completed interviews, obtained information concerning what other conferences are doing organizationally and strategically in campus ministry, and maintained contact with the Bishop and Cabinet concerning ongoing progress. The task force has identified several areas of concern about our current organizational structure and processes that have kept the IGRC Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry from reaching its full potential. These concerns focused on the areas of a lack of support and constructive supervision for Campus Ministry from the Conference and BCHEM; lack of clear lines of responsibility between the Conference, BHECM, Local Foundation Boards, and Wesley Foundation Directors/Ministers/Chaplains; and the lack of consistent accountability for funding and programming between the Conference, BCHEM, Local Foundation Boards, and Directors/Ministers/Chaplains.

Findings
The task force has found the people of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference to have a heart for all of the students and young adults at all of the colleges and universities across our state. The task force has also found that local churches and campus ministries are finding ways to support the stated vision of the IGRC to see "all the physically and spiritually hungry people of our world feasting on God's abundant grace at God's table so that they experience God's unconditional love for them, are formed in that love, and are sent to live and share that love with the individuals and institutions of our world." The IGRC has in the past and desires in the future to support ministries on campuses through our prayers, our presence, our gifts, ~~and~~ our service, and our witness. The purpose of this plan is to provide a structure through which this support can be most effective in assisting this ministry in accomplishing the following mission.

Mission
The IGRC Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry (BHECM) leads, empowers, nurtures and advocates for a vibrant United Methodist higher education ministry. The ultimate goal of the United Methodist involvement in higher education is the transformation of persons into disciples of Jesus Christ. Through the efforts of the IGRC campus ministry the following ministry plan shall be accomplished.

1. Invite students and campus faculty and staff to a relationship with Jesus Christ
2. Disciple and equip students, faculty and staff to be faithful followers of Jesus Christ
3. Provide a presence for prophetic ministry where personal and social ethical and justice issues would be addressed from the perspective of The Social Principles and The Book of Resolutions of the United Methodist Church
4. Establish and maintain an active Christian presence on campus, both witness and sanctuary
5. Encourage and support a diversity in faith and life
6. Develop principled Christian leaders for the Church and world
7. Where and when appropriate connect students, faculty and staff with the United Methodist Church while recognizing and respecting the other faith commitments these persons might have
8. Wherever and whenever possible United Methodist campus ministry should engage with other campus ministries in ecumenical ministry
9. Reach out to additional colleges, universities, and community colleges

Vision
To connect the United Methodist Church with college and university campuses so that an increasing number of students, faculty and staff are invited to become active, growing Christian disciples and leaders in the life and ministry of the United Methodist Church, its congregations and beyond.

Conference and District Superintendent
Our research has shown one common characteristic among growing United Methodist campus ministries across this country is they all have a good relationship with their District Superintendent and that the District Superintendent plays a significant and active role on the local campus board. The District Superintendent is present for the annual evaluation of the campus ministry and Campus director as well as plays a role in the setting of salaries. It is our recommendation that the IGRC District Superintendents who have campus ministries within their districts take a similar role to aid in the accountability and growth of our campus ministries.

Coordinator of Campus Ministry (new position)
The Conference Personnel Committee, ECT, and BHECM shall secure a one-half time person for the position of Coordinator of Campus Ministry. The Coordinator shall be familiar with campus ministry within the Conference. The Coordinator shall coordinate with the Director of Connectional Ministries, BHECM, local boards and the Cabinet. Direct supervision is by the Director of Connectional Ministries. The Coordinator shall support and assist campus ministries of the Conference. It is a three year position in which the Coordinator will help local boards transition by conducting training on duties and responsibilities, fund-raising and helping implement a new evaluation process. The Coordinator is also to help with the development of student leadership on campuses.

The Coordinator's responsibilities shall include but not be limited to:

1. Meet bimonthly with each campus director/minister on the campus of each Wesley Foundation. The Coordinator will meet with the chaplain on the campus of each UM related College/University once per semester.
2. Meet twice per year with each local campus ministry board to assist with:
   a. Evaluation of and establishment of goals for program
   b. Aid in the establishment of goals for the Campus director
   c. Review of finances
   d. Establishment of budget

Members of this board shall be expected to support this important ministry with their prayers, presence, ~~,and~~ service, and witness.

1. The Chair of the BHECM shall be elected by the Annual Conference through the conference nominations process.
2. One lay, clergy, or student member shall be appointed from each district, selected by the District Superintendent of that district.
3. One, and only one, full-time campus director/minister from a Wesley Foundation shall be a voting member of the BHECM and will be selected annually by the current directors/ministers.
4. One, and only one, campus chaplain/minister from a UM related college/university shall be a voting member of the BHECM and will be selected annually by the current chaplains/ministers.
5. One local board member from each Wesley Foundation and United Methodist related College/University selected annually by the members of each local board.
6. Up to two at-large members may be added to the Board to ensure diversity and expertise, at the discretion of the chair.
7. At least one college student on the BHECM serving no more than two years and the choice of student must rotate among the campuses; student to be nominated by directors/ministers/chaplains, appointed by the chair.
8. All foundation directors and chaplains/representatives of UM-related colleges and universities shall be notified of all meetings of the BHECM and shall be expected to attend as voice members, not vote members, unless they are the voting representative.
9. Total membership of the BHECM is not to exceed ~~17~~ 25.

Duties of the BHECM in addition to and in cooperation with ¶634.4a-d to address current needs:
1. Develop and coordinate a conference wide vision for higher education ministries
2. Serve as an advocate for campus ministries with the Conference, local churches and other audiences
3. Assist with Conference wide fund-raising efforts to support higher education ministries (4.b.3, 4.b.5, 4.d.2.d, 4.d.11, 4.c.2)
4. Receive and evaluate an annual report from each campus ministry (4.d.2.b, 4.a.7); develop an overall report of the activities of campus ministry

8. Supervise the selection and awarding of Conference wide scholarships

10. Develop a method of creating new ministries (4.d.16)

Budget:
Based upon the recommendation of the BHECM the budget for Campus Ministry for FY 2013 is $683,578. This funding includes supporting the salary and benefits to six campus ministers (WIU, EIU, ISU, UIUC {1.5}, SIUC and SIUE {.25}. There is also nominal financial support provided for programming. It is proposed that this current level be continued as a flat budget for FY 2014 and FY 2015. This flat budget would include using $30,000 currently allocated to SIU-E to support a half time Coordinator of Campus Ministries beginning in 2013. When SIU-E is ready to resume ministry additional funds may be requested to support this important ministry. Currently some campus ministries are very active and successful in their fund-raising efforts through significant hard work on their part. All are supporting their ministries with some level of fund raising. It is assumed that in the future to support the increased growth in participation and programming that these fund raising efforts will need to continue and increase. In anticipation of increased fund-raising at the local level, the funding levels to these programs shall be decreased in FY 2016 and an additional amount in FY 2017. It is our recommendation that CCFA, BHECM and the local Wesley Foundation boards in 2013 create a plan for gradual reductions in 2016 and 2017 based upon the ability of each local board to fund-raise. It is assumed that these local boards are to gradually assume more responsibility for the funding of these ministries but that the local boards would not be responsible for the entire amount of the cost of the campus ministry. A suggested amount would be about a 10 percent reduction for 2016 but again based upon the ability of the local boards. The time between the 2013 plan and the 2016 implementation should provide local boards that are active in fund raising to increase their focus while boards not currently actively involved to begin efforts. Funds from these 2016 and 2017 reductions are to be maintained in the overall budget for at least two years and are to be used for the startup of new campus ministries and to support innovative programs within existing programs. A continuing long range budget plan should be developed by CCFA and the BHECM in 2016 for the 2017 budget cycle laying out target funding goals and benchmarks for local boards for the future years.

The current level of funding provided to each UM related College/University shall be continued at the current level through 2015. Training events in fund-raising will include invitations for representatives from these institutions. Funding levels beyond 2015 will be determined through the discussions and budget planning of the CCFA and BHECM.

Local Board
The local board, or complementary group on each UM-related College/University, shall have the primary responsibility for the operation, support and evaluation of the campus ministry. The efforts of the board shall support the campus ministry in the mission/vision listed above. Each campus ministry shall have an active board that shall meet a minimum of four times each year. The primary focus of the Board shall be the support of the campus minister and the raising of sufficient funds to support the local ministry. Members of this board shall be expected to support this important ministry with their prayers, presence, gifts ~~and~~ service, and witness.

1. Membership: Each campus ministry shall follow the guidelines established within its constitution for the structure of the Board and the selection of members.

2. Reporting: The board shall assist the Director/Minister/Chaplain with the development of an annual report to be submitted to the BHECM.
3. Budget/Fund-Raising:
   a. The board shall annually adopt a budget that balances revenues and expenditures.
   b. The board shall be actively involved in fund-raising efforts to support the activities of the campus ministries.
4. Evaluation Process: A Wesley Foundation's local board's personnel committee in cooperation with the District Superintendent shall be responsible to conduct an annual evaluation of the campus director, regardless if the director be lay or clergy. Completed copies of the campus director evaluation should be on file with the campus director, District Superintendent, Bishop and Cabinet. Completed copies of the campus ministry evaluation should be on file with the campus director, District Superintendent, Bishop, Cabinet, local board and conference board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry as well as the Director of Connectional Ministries.
5. The local board is responsible to also direct the completion of:
   a. Report of the Director or Campus Minister Form (new)
   b. Board of Director's Information Form (new)
   c. Annual Report of Building Trustees or Building and Grounds Committee Form (new)
   d. Annual Report of the Personnel Committee Form (new)
   e. Annual Report of the Committee on Finance Form (new)

   Copies of these forms must be submitted to the Campus Director, District Superintendent, IGRC Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry and Director of Connectional Ministries. It is expected the local board keep copies for their records as well. These forms will be used when the IGRC Board of Higher Education reviews the Wesley Foundations. The Coordinator of Campus ministries should be a part of the campus ministry review process but shall not be involved the direct evaluation of the Campus director unless invited by the District Superintendent and/or local board.
   New forms and processes shall be developed under the leadership of the Coordinator of Campus Ministries with the BHECM, in consultation with current directors/ministers.

   UM-related College/University programs will follow their own internal employment processes.

Wesley Foundation Campus Director
The campus director of each Wesley Foundation shall have the primary responsibility to develop and implement a program that will lead to the fulfillment of the mission and vision described above. This will be accomplished with the support and assistance of the Conference leadership, Coordinator of Campus Ministries, BHECM, local board, and student leadership. Duties are laid out in paragraph 634 d. Extra duty is to ensure the completion of all local board reports listed in the "local board evaluation process 1 -5" section.

Appointment & Hiring: A local board's personnel committee in cooperation with the District Superintendent shall be responsible to make recommendation to the Bishop and Cabinet about any possible appointment of a possible clergy Campus director. It is also our recommendation that any lay hiring of a Campus director follow a similar process of collective agreement between the local board, District Superintendent, Bishop and Cabinet before a hiring take place. Chairperson of the IGRC Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry along with the Director of Connectional Ministries should be notified of the appointment or hire before a general release of that information is given to the public.

Chaplain of a Campus Ministry at a UM related College/University
The chaplain shall have the primary responsibility to develop and implement a program that will lead to the fulfillment of the mission and vision of the church related school and of the IGRC described above. This will be accomplished with the support and assistance of each institution's administration, staff, faculty, Trustees, and Conference leadership, the Coordinator of Campus Ministries, BHECM, and student leadership. For the Chaplains of the church related institutions, salaries, benefits, and evaluations are currently set by the individual college and universities per their own guidelines. ~~It is hoped in the spirit of mutual benefit and cooperation that evaluation information from each of the schools along with the district superintendents' annual evaluation reports would be shared with the chaplain, District Superintendent, Bishop and Cabinet. Likewise, any conference reports from each of the district superintendents would be shared with each of these local institution's supervisors responsible for evaluating their Chaplains.~~ Each school currently adopts its own budget as a part of a larger budget for that institution. Fund-raising efforts to support the activities of the campus ministry are determined by each institution.

The Coordinator of Campus Ministry will meet with each of the Chaplains at their institution once a semester to be aware of the ministry taking place on each campus. In addition, the Coordinator of Campus Ministry will attempt to attend one Church Relations Board meeting per year at each campus: to discuss annual goals for each Chaplain's program, to participate in an open discussion of celebration of successes and concerns as appropriate, and when asked, be a resource to the institutions in new recruitment and selection.

Chaplains are hired directly by the church related institution and, at the same time, appointed by the Bishop and the Cabinet of the IGRC. If possible, the Chairperson of the IGRC Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry along with the Director of Connectional Ministries should be notified of the appointment or hire before a general release of that information is given to the public.

Support for Campus Ministries
The people of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference have a heart for all of the students and young adults at all of the colleges and universities across our state. The stated vision of the IGRC is to invite all of God's people to the table. The college age population is a significant and important mission field in our society. It is essential that we have strong and effective outreach efforts to invite this population into discipleship with Jesus Christ. For this to continue we must maintain our history of providing strong leadership for programs including directors, Conference and local board members, student leadership, and through the new Coordinator of Conference Ministries. For these individuals to be successful, training must be provided as well as opportunities to attend state and national conferences. Funding from the Conference must continue to be strong and will require that programs be supported more each year by funds raised by the local and conference boards. Specific training in fund-raising must be provided for these groups. Innovative and creative efforts to reach a larger portion of this population must be supported, programmatically and financially. Efforts to reach out to additional college, university, community college campuses and other aspects of this population need to be developed and encouraged. While previous efforts have been met with limited success, we continue to see SIU-E as an excellent place for campus ministry, as a diverse rapidly growing campus.

Campus ministries have a storied and successful tradition of providing discipleship opportunities and Christian support on campuses throughout the IGRC. This Strategic Plan establishes an ambitious effort to build upon this tradition, to provide necessary support for the growth of existing ministries, and to provide a basis for new ministries. This Task Force believes that with this support the professionals involved with campus ministry, the Coordinator of Campus Ministry and the BHECM will provide the leadership to accomplish the mission and vision of this important ministry. In order for this to be accomplished all members and groups within our Conference will need to be in support of these initiatives through their prayers, presence, gifts, ~~and~~ service, and witness.

Summary of Strategic Plan for Campus Ministries Recommendations
The Task Force has spent considerable time studying, discussing, deliberating and praying over campus ministry in the IGRC. We have been very impressed with the significant ministry that is taking place in most programs. We have heard some external concerns expressed and have identified some possible areas of improvement as well as some possible locations ripe for new campus ministry. We believe for all of our campus ministries require the full support of the IGRC, through their prayers, presence, gifts, ~~and~~ service, and witness to fully reach their important mission. We believe that the following recommendations will provide the support and accountability necessary.

1. A new level of support will be provided to existing campus ministries to assist with meeting the established mission for campus ministries. Conference wide leadership will be provided by a Coordinator of Campus Ministries. Training programs will be established for Directors/Ministers/Chaplains, local boards, and student leaders in the areas of program development, successful program replication, budgeting and fund raising. The Coordinator will provide direct support to each campus.
2. A new level of accountability will be established for campus ministries. The Coordinator of Campus Ministries will direct the development of processes and forms for a standardized reporting and evaluation for each campus ministry and Director/Minister. Local boards will receive training in the supervision and evaluation of their program. The District Superintendent in the geographic area of a Wesley Foundation will become directly involved with the supervision and evaluation of the program and Director/Minister. The Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry will be re-structured to reflect a clergy/lay membership to provide support and supervision to campus ministry throughout the IGRC.
3. Strong leadership will be necessary for this Plan to be successful. A talented individual will need to be employed on a half-time basis to assist the existing campus ministries, new potential ministries, and all of the professionals and volunteers dedicated to campus ministries. These initiatives to strengthen this important ministry cannot be implemented or successful without this leadership.

Therefore the Higher Education Task Force requests that the Annual Conference adopt these three recommendations from the Higher Education Task Force.

1. The hiring of a half-time coordinator of Higher Education and Campus ministry and the funding plan for this position as outlined in the report. The funding plan calls for a flat budget that would include using $30,000 currently allocated to SIU-E to support a half time Coordinator of Campus Ministries beginning in 2013. When SIU-E is ready to resume ministry additional funds may be requested to support this important ministry.

2. That a new conference Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry structure be approved as outlined in the report.
3. ~~That a flat budget for 2014 and 2015 for Higher Education with planned decreases for 2016 and 2017 as worked out in cooperation with CCFA based on individual local board's ability to fund-raise be approved as outlined in the report.~~

Legislative Item 110: Changes to SIU Foundation Constitution

Subject: Proposed changes to the SIU Wesley Foundation Constitution
Submitted by: The SIU Wesley Foundation Board

The Wesley Foundation at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale is a ministry related to the Illinois Great Rivers Conference of The United Methodist Church. Our purpose is to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. Our primary focus is young adults on campus. The Wesley Foundation at SIUC has been in partnership with the Conference since 1954. As we were founded the importance of the relationship between conference, churches and the campus were vital to our success. Knowing their importance it was written in our constitution that any future changes to our constitution and how we carry out our mission had to be brought to the attention of the Conference before they are implemented As we seek to make changes to our constitution we seek your approval at this time. The changes we are proposing are designed to make our board more efficient and relevant in today's world as how our board is to carry out its mission. These changes were approved at our Fall Board Meeting (Oct 27, 2011). They were presented to the IGRC Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry. It was reviewed and endorsed at their October 28, 2011 meeting.

Introduction to the Proposed Changes to the Constitution and the By-Laws of the Wesley Foundation at Southern Illinois University: Carbondale.

Here are the major changes to the SIUC Wesley Foundation and a brief explanation of why we are hoping to make the change.

1. Target area-SIUC and JALC: As the population at our local junior college grows (John A Logan College, JALC) we need to be more intentional in our outreach and ministry to these students
2. Mission Statement: We have aligned our mission statement with that of our conference and our denomination because that is really what we are to be about. We have a detailed purpose and vision listed in our long range plan that is specific to our campus.
3. Size of Board (half): We are in transition from an advisory board to a governing board. We want a board that can advise but also help us be effective as we fund-raise, vision, and move the ministry forward.
4. Authority to remove a board member: We have defined what it means to serve on our board. New members will now know what is expected of them when they commit to serving on our board. They will also clearly know what can happen if they do not meet the expectations of the board members. Having a clear process to remove a member makes sure that it is not personal but in the best interest of the board and this ministry.

5. Standing Committees (Nominations and Personnel rolled into Executive Committee): With a smaller board we noticed the necessity to streamline our committees. We also realized the importance of the Nomination Committee and Personnel Committee but realize that these committees do not need regular meetings. Called meetings to fulfill their purpose will allow our board's needs to be met and free up board members to serve on other standing committees. So with that in mind we added the responsibilities to the Executive Committee, a smaller group of the board that could be called together to work as these two committees as needed.
6. Role of Executive Committee: We have added more clearly defined responsibilities to this committee. (Please, see the above explanation)
7. Number of scheduled Board meetings a year (from 2 to 4): We have added more meetings as we move the board from an advisory board to a governing board. With the extra meetings we hope that our board members will be more aware of all the exciting opportunities that are happening within our ministry and be better prepared to be advocates for our ministry to their communities. They will be able to share our success as well as our needs.
8. Role of the Vice President (Chair of Nominating process): In moving the Nominating committee to the Executive Committee, we still need someone to call the committee together and be aware of any vacancies on this board. Responsibility for leading the nomination process will be added to the duties of our Vice President.
9. Quorum for full board: We have defined what a quorum is for our full board. Setting a quorum with a little more definition then we had before seemed needed. Since our board will be smaller we thought it crucial to set quorum so that a decision could not be decided on by just a few members.
10. Quorum for Executive committee: We have defined what a Quorum is for our Executive Committee. Setting a quorum with a little more definition then we had before seemed needed. Since our Executive Committee will be smaller than it is now, we thought it crucial to set quorum so that a decision could not be decided on by just a few members.
11. Responsibilities of Finance and Visioning: We have updated the responsibilities of these committees.
12. Clergy at Carbondale First and Grace not automatically members: While it is critical for this ministry to maintain a strong relationship to these local churches, it does not have to be done through the appointed clergy serving on this board. The Director will/should develop relationship with clergy and lay members at the United Methodist Churches in Carbondale (First and Grace) to maintain the strong relationship that exists between them now. Clergy who, are appointed to the local congregation might not be passionate about these ministries where the lay in the church are. With a smaller board it is important for us to have our board members passionate about our ministry.
13. Creation of a Director's covenant: This to let all of our board members know what is expected of them as they commit to serve on our Board of Directors. This will also work as a tool in evaluation of board members for re-nomination and in the process of removing a board member.

These following changes were approved at our Fall Board Meeting (October 27, 2011). They were presented to the IGRC Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry. It was reviewed and endorsed at their Oct. 28, 2011 meeting.

Legislative Item 117: Election of Jurisdictional Pool

Subject: Election of Jurisdictional Pool
Submitted By: The General and Jurisdictional Conference delegations

Background:
Paragraph 705.1 of the Book of Discipline (2008) requires the annual conference to elect a "jurisdictional pool." The relevant paragraphs follow:

Nominations by Conferences—a) Each annual and missionary conference in the United States, upon recommendation from a committee composed of the bishop and the general and jurisdictional conference delegation, and having allowed opportunity for nominations from the floor, shall elect persons to be submitted to a jurisdictional pool. The jurisdictional nominating committee shall select persons for election to the following general Church bodies: Connectional Table; General Board of Church and Society; General Board of Discipleship; General Board of Global Ministries; General Board of Higher Education and Ministry; General Board of Pension and Health Benefits; The United Methodist Publishing House; General Commission on Christian Unity and Interreligious Concerns; General Commission on Communication; General Commission on Religion and Race; and the General Commission on the Status and Role of Women. Jurisdictional conferences may decide that persons elected by the annual and missionary conferences in the United States for inclusion in the jurisdictional pool shall not serve as members of the jurisdictional nominating committee.

b) Each annual and missionary conference in the United States shall nominate the persons most recently elected as delegates to the General Conference to the jurisdictional pool. In addition, it shall nominate at least fifteen and not more than forty-five persons to the jurisdictional pool, including, where available, at least two racial and ethnic persons from each of the ethnic groups Asian American, African American, Hispanic American, Native American, Pacific Islanders; and where available at least one and not more than five persons in each of the following seven categories: (1) clergy (including at least one woman), (2) laywomen, (3) laymen, (4) youth (¶ 710.3), (5) young adults (¶ 710.3), (6) older adults, and (7) persons with disabilities. Elected members of general and jurisdictional delegations, and others nominated by their annual conference shall list all of the categories for which they qualify, i.e., nationality, age, gender,ethnic origin, etc., and shall be eligible to be nominated by the jurisdictional nominating committee to a general church body in any one of the categories for which a delegate is qualified.

The selections are as follows:
Laymen: David Bell, Paul Black, Ryan Davis, Fred Iutzi, John Kauerauf, Mike Potts, Alan Prass, Steve Schonert

Laywomen: Melissa Calvillo, Kara Crawford, Marian McCray, Maddi Morrison,, Annie Ruckman, Rhonda Whitaker, J. Lavon Wilson, Bunny Wolfe, Carolyn Yockey

Clergywomen: Rose Booker-Jones, Kelligay King Crede, Janice Griffith, In-Sook Hwang, Sara Isbell, Carol Lakota Eastin, Kathleen Lossau, Eunjoo Lee

Legislative Item 201: Equality in Pastoral Housing

(LI 201 was referred to a task force appointed by the bishop which will include a maker of the motion, a cabinet representative, a clergy spouse, a member of the commission on equitable compensation, and five others for balance and expertise. The task force will report back to the conference with any findings and recommendations, including any proposed changes to the Standing Rules of the IGRC.)

Subject: Covenant Equality in Pastoral Housing (A Resolution to Change the Standing Rules Requiring Parsonages for All Full-Time Appointed Clergy and Elimination of Housing Allowance)
Submitted by: Rev. Glen W. Bocox, Mahomet UMC; Rev. Dr. John E. Sims, Urbana First UMC, Rev. Jeremiah W Chipman Thompson, Mahomet UMC; Rev. Terry Clark, retired

Whereas, providing a housing allowance can and has affected the ability of the District Superintendents to make effective nominations and the Bishop to make effective appointments based primarily on the match between pastoral gifts and the missional needs of the church/charge; and

Whereas, pastors provided a housing allowance may experience significant financial difficulties when appointed to another church/charge and are not able to sell their home; and

Whereas, newly-appointed pastors in situations where a housing allowance, rather than a parsonage, is provided sometimes struggle to find adequate housing or to come up with an appropriate down payment, a situation exacerbated by the current limitations in the mortgage lending industry; and

Whereas, monthly housing allowances, once established, are not generally periodically examined and increased so as to reflect current local housing market realities and are thus often insufficient to provide housing that meets current standards when a new pastor is appointed, a situation occasionally made more difficult when the provisions of Standing Rule VI.C.6.a (requirement that the housing allowance be adequate to provide housing which meets the Annual Conference standards for the parsonage home) are not enforced; and

Whereas, housing allowances usually result in higher overall housing costs for the local church/charge in that real estate taxes must be included as a component of the allowance, a cost not incurred when a local church/charge owns a tax-exempt parsonage, as well as the unforeseen increase in apportionments that result from having a housing allowance (e.g., an $18,000 annual housing allowance currently results in an additional $2,000 increase in annual apportionments) and thus may not be optimal financial stewardship on the part of the local church/charge; and

Whereas, some pastors supplied with a housing allowance, especially those in long-term appointments, are often able to accrue considerable equity in a home, a benefit afforded to a very limited number of clergy, thus generating serious concerns among clergy related to equality in the clergy covenant; and

Whereas, current IGRC Standing Rules (VI.C.1) already encourage provision of a parsonage rather than a housing allowance, presumably for the reasons cited above; and

Whereas, the IGRC Cabinet had previously instituted a policy in which all appointed IGRC staff were to be supplied with a parsonage and in which no housing allowance was permitted, presumably also for the reasons cited above [Note: this policy was deleted by the 2008 Annual Conference];

Therefore, be it resolved, that the Standing Rules be modified (as suggested below) to require each local church/charge to provide a parsonage either through purchase or direct lease [Note: this does not require a pastor to live in the parsonage provided if he/she chooses to provide a home at his/her expense); and

Be it further resolved, that in those churches/charges where housing allowances currently exist, this change shall take place at the next change in appointment; and

Be it further resolved, that this policy shall also apply to ~~all new church start pastors and to~~ all pastors within the bounds of the conference structure (e.g., District Superintendents and IGRC program and administrative staff), but shall not apply to pastors appointed to independent or conference-related agencies~~;~~ and new church start pastors; and

Be it further resolved, that any exception to this policy must be requested of and approved by both the District Superintendents and the Bishop, with specific regard given to concerns of equality in the general covenant of the clergy.

Suggested Changes in Standing Rules
(underlining and strike-outs in this section are part of the original resolution)

VI. LOCAL CHURCH MATTERS

C. Housing

1. Local churches, charges, and IGRC ~~are encouraged to~~ shall provide a parsonage or a single-family home that meets all current standards ~~rather than a housing allowance~~ either through purchase or direct lease. A home may not be leased from a pastor or pastor's spouse. This policy shall take effect when there is a change in appointment. These entities currently providing a parsonage shall not move to a parsonage allowance during the tenure of the current pastor.

6. Housing Allowance:

a. ~~Local churches/charges are encouraged to provide parsonages for their pastor's housing. However, when out of necessity a pastor must purchase or rent his/her own home, a housing allowance shall be provided which shall be adequate for the residence to meet the Annual Conference standards for a parsonage home.~~

a. Housing allowances shall not be provided for any appointed clergy, including district superintendents, new church start pastors and appointed program and administrative conference staff (cf. VII.F). Any exception to this policy must be requested of and approved by both the District Superintendents and the Bishop, who shall consider clergy equality concerns in making that determination. (Note: This policy shall not apply to pastors appointed to independent or conference-related agencies.)

b. Local churches/charges may purchase or rent/lease a single-family home for the parsonage. If rented/leased, the parsonage shall meet the Annual Conference standards for a parsonage home and must have the approval of the District Superintendent and the District Board of Church Location and Building.

c. The parsonage provisions shall be clearly defined by the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee and the District Superintendent at the time of the consultation prior to the appointment.

d. ~~Any exceptions to these provisions shall be negotiated and approved by the pastor, the District Superintendent and the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee.~~

Ruled out of order

Legislative Item 203: Equalizing Travel Expense

Referred to Council on Finance and Administration (CCFA)

Subject: Equalizing Travel Expenses For All Churches to Attend Annual Conference
Submitted by: Tod Courtney, Jean Burrill, Rev.Roy Burrill, Rev. Carol Edman,

Rev. Sara Isbell, Rev. Steve Lobacz, Rev. Lauren Padgett
Whereas, from the earliest days of Christian community believers pooled their resources for achieving their needs and this activity continues as a hallmark of the church; and

Whereas, the contemporary church is sensitive to the needs of others, especially when there are inequities in resources; and

Whereas, members of the Illinois Great Rivers Annual Conference from the southernmost part of the State have expressed concerns for the disparate time, money and energy they expend to travel long distances to attend Annual Conference compared to others proximate to Peoria (e.g., Peoria area churches with higher annual budgets will presumably spend nothing this year on housing and travel, while those from Cairo area churches with lower annual budgets will spend money on gas and auto wear and tear, use up to six to eight hours or more in transit, and pay for housing in Peoria and perhaps extra nights in motels on the journey); and
Whereas, Peoria has been deemed the best site for Annual Conference,

Therefore be it resolved, that the appropriate Conference committee establish a formula of assessments and grants such that all who faithfully attend Annual Conference, no matter where it is held in the State, will equitably share in expenses to bring people to the Annual Conference table.

Africa University

"When you pass through the waters, I will be with you;
and when you pass through the rivers, they will not sweep over you.
When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned;
the flames will not set you ablaze." – Isaiah 43:2

At its inception, many doubted that the dream could be realized. Yet, in February 2012, Africa University launched a year-long celebration of its 20th anniversary. It has quite a story to tell.

"We serve a faithful God," says Dr. Fanuel Tagwira, vice chancellor. "As we now celebrate 20 years of existence, we can say 'Ebenezer', for this far the Lord has taken us. He will surely take us further because we serve a God who finishes what he starts."

Recalling the challenges the University faced during Zimbabwe's economic crisis in 2008-2009, Tagwira noted that "God was on our side…other universities, primary and secondary schools, and hospitals closed, but Africa University students never lost a day of classes." For this, Tagwira offered his thanks to The United Methodist Church for its responsiveness and unwavering support.

In 2011, the Illinois-Great Rivers Conference was one of twenty-seven annual conferences that paid 100 percent of their apportioned share of funding to Africa University. The University is profoundly grateful to the local congregations of the Illinois-Great Rivers Conference for their apportionment contributions to the Africa University Fund.

Enrollment at Africa University is at an all-time high. The current total population of 1634 students is 42% higher than it was for the 2010-11 academic year. There are 23 African countries represented in the student body. At Africa University, male and female students are almost evenly balanced—something that bodes well for increasing the participation of women in decision-making and leadership roles in Africa.

New programs are helping Africa University to grow and remain relevant to community needs across the continent. New academic offerings include undergraduate degree programs in Computer Science and Laboratory Science as well as graduate degree programs in Child and Family Studies, and Public Policy and Governance.

The University is preparing to launch online distance learning. Online training options will focus on areas such as practical theology, health, and business. The initial target countries for Africa University's online distance learning outreach are Angola, Côte d'Ivoire, Democratic Republic of Congo, Liberia, Mozambique, Nigeria, and Sierra Leone.

In June 2011, 349 students from 19 African countries graduated. The graduating class was comprised of 69 graduate students receiving master's degrees, and 280 undergraduate students receiving bachelor's degrees. The Class of 2011 swelled the ranks of Africa University graduates to more than 4,000 since first opening its doors in March 1992.

In their home countries, graduates are addressing critical issues of hunger, poverty, disease, lack of knowledge, and conflict, all of which prevent millions of people in Africa from enjoying God's promise of abundance (John 10:10; Jeremiah 29:11).

At 20, Africa University is part of a crucial feeder system for nurturing a new generation of principled leaders in Africa as evidenced by the number of graduates who are evangelists, pastors, lecturers and administrators of schools, seminaries and universities.

"Many believe that Africa University, voted into being by the 1988 General Conference, is the most exciting ministry that The United Methodist Church has ever founded," says Tagwira. "It is a model of connection; shared responsibility; and best of all; it is a tangible witness to how United Methodists live out the Word of God in a chaotic and self-centered world."

This year, encourage your church to give 100 percent of its Africa University Fund apportionment. The Africa University Fund supports day-to-day operations. Your support helps young people acquire the tools and skills to spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ, heal communities, enable dignified living, and foster hope. Thank you for believing in and supporting Africa University.

Aldersgate Federal Credit Union

This year The Aldersgate Federal Credit Union celebrates its 50 year anniversary. Since 1962 AFCU has given its members a place for their savings that is safe and provides good dividends and loans at competitive rates. Membership is open to all persons who are under appointment by the Bishop of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference and their spouses, retired clergy of the Conference and their spouses, full-time employees of the IGRC and members of their families.

2011 was another good year for AFCU and our members. Our membership increased during 2011 from 739 to 749. Our member share balance was $2,920, 611.71 as of 12/31/11. Shares are insured 100% up to $250,000.00 by the National Credit Union Administration. AFCU provides an additional dollar-for-dollar Life Saving Insurance on shares deposited before age 55 up to $3000.00, (i.e. - If a member deposits $3000.00 before age 55, and maintains a balance of $3000.00, upon their death, they will have a total of $6000.00), with lesser amounts of insurance for deposits after age 55.

We paid a dividend on shares of 1.5% for the first and second quarters and 1% and on third and fourth quarters, as well as 2% on IRAs for the first and second quarter and 1.5% for the third and fourth quarter. We had a total of 345 loans for a total loan balance of $2,873,811.65 as of 12/31/11, an increase of $244,659.63 over 2010. AFCU provides Loan Life Protection Insurance, at no cost to the member, on loans made before age 70. (i.e. - Loan would be paid at a maximum of $30,000 upon death of a member.) AFCU also provides Permanent Disability Insurance, at no cost to the member, on loans made before age 60. (i.e. – Loan would be paid at a maximum of $30,000 if member is disabled prior to age 60.)

Our loan rates are competitive. Loan approval usually can be obtained by phone in one day, with loans usually complete in four days. Our members receive prompt, courteous, professional service from our treasurer and assistant treasurer, Richard and Marilyn Sullins. Call them for information on becoming a member, shares and loans. Their address is P O Box 1790, Marion, Il 62959. Phone: 618-944-0817.

Monthly financial reports for the conference are reviewed by the Trustees at their regular meetings. The conference continues to be on a sound financial footing.

The Trustees continue to maintain the UM Center in Springfield as a central place of meeting for a large varieties of groups and ministries. The mortgage payments are current. The interest on the bonds is very low, which causes the Conference to pay a fee to offset the costs the bank incurs as a result. Fortunately that fee is staying fairly low and we are remaining within the expected budget. As periodically required, this past year we extended the letter of credit with J.P. Morgan Chase Bank as the UM Center financing package is working well.

Properties:

We have been in the UM Center for 8 years now. We are beginning to experience escalating maintenance costs, especially in the HVAC system and controls. We are budgeting for these costs accordingly.

We continue to see that deferred maintenance on district parsonages in the past has caused needed repairs and maintenance to accumulate. We hope to make inroads into this situation and address needed improvements in a more timely manner.

We authorized significant repairs and maintenance to those properties experiencing a change in residency this year. These include the Spoon River parsonage prior to the arrival of Rev. Sylvester Weatherall (including replacement of existing roof), and the Barrington Drive parsonage prior to the arrival of Rev. Janice Griffith (including jacking up the sagging floor and replacement of aging appliances).

We replaced the windows in the Heather Mill parsonage in Springfield this year. This has been needed to be done for some time.

The Vermilion River District parsonage recently experienced roof damage due to high winds. The roof has been replaced with some funds coming from insurance coverage. The roof was reaching the end of its expected life, but replacement had been deferred while we concentrated on interior repairs and maintenance prior to Rev. Leah Pogemiller's arrival last year.

The Momence Hispanic Ministries parsonage is now under the auspices of the conference trustees. We have authorized needed repairs to the electrical and plumbing systems in the house.

The former LaMoine River District in Jacksonville, which was an aging structure that needed more than routine maintenance, has been sold. The new parsonage was purchased last year.

The unused parsonage of the New Life new church in Waterloo, Illinois has been sold. It was sold "as is" to avoid significant costly repairs to the structure.

The Flanagan UMC building, which was discontinued last year, was razed by the local trustees. We are now tasked with disposing of the property.

Other

We continue to review our conference insurance and annually look at losses reported by local churches. By far the largest losses are the result of falls, with fire as the second largest loss. Weather damage last year was not as significant as in previous years. Based upon this information, we attempt to provide educational materials to local churches to help them avoid potential losses. We continue to be concerned that some churches are severely under-insured, which could cause a significant impact on the conference should a large loss occur.

We have learned that the IGRC does not have by-laws for the corporation. The conference attorney has drafted a set of by-laws based upon those in place in the Northern Illinois Conference, and modified as necessary to fit the practices of the IGRC. The Trustees and cabinet are reviewing these draft by-laws and hope to have a final draft ready for approval in 2013.

Churches that have closed or will close by July 1, 2012:

- Birds UMC, Kaskaskia River District
- East Lynn UMC, Iroquois River District
- Galesburg: Emmanuel UMC, Spoon River District
- Geff UMC, Kaskaskia River District

Candler School of Theology

Candler School of Theology prepares real people to make a real difference in the real world. Our commitment to authentic discipleship and relevant ministry enables us to develop uniquely well-rounded leaders who are challenged academically, encouraged spiritually, and immersed in Christian service from the first day they arrive on campus.

As one of the 13 official seminaries of The United Methodist Church, Candler is grounded in the Christian faith and shaped by the Wesleyan tradition of evangelical piety, ecumenical openness, and social concern. As one of seven graduate professional schools of Emory University, Candler provides a rich context for learning and formation supported by the extensive resources of a top-tier research university. As a school located in the major metropolitan area of Atlanta, Candler offers students a learning environment that reflects the highly diverse communities of our 21st century world. There is no better place for ministry preparation that addresses our major denominational priorities: developing leaders, starting and growing churches, ministry with the poor, and improving global health.

Candler's student body continues to reflect the diversity and breadth of the Christian faithful. Our enrollment stands at 479, with 372 seeking the M.Div.; 64 the M.T.S.; 19 the Th.M.; 17 the D.Th.; and 7 enrolled as Special, Non-Degree students. The total student population is 22% U.S. ethnic minority, 8% international, and 50% women. Forty-four denominations are represented, with 52% of M.Div. students being United Methodist. The median age of our entering class of M.Div. students is 26, with 50% of total enrollment under thirty.

An extraordinary gift of $15 million from the O. Wayne Rollins Foundation will make possible the construction of the second phase of the school's new building. In recognition of this gift, the first building—a 65,000-square-foot facility completed in 2008—will be named in memory of the late Rita Anne Rollins, the first grandchild of the foundation's namesake. The new building will house the Pitts Theology Library, additional classrooms and offices, group study areas, and the Wesley Teaching Chapel.

Candler continues to emphasize preparing our students for leadership in an increasingly global context. We now offer 17 academic exchanges with theology schools across five continents and 15 countries, including many related to The United Methodist Church. In addition to our ongoing summer internship program with the Methodist Church in the Bahamas, this year's travel seminars included the Middle East Travel Seminar in May-June and World Methodist Evangelism Institute evangelism seminars to Colombia, Indonesia, and Israel.

Despite today's challenging economic climate, Candler remains steadfastly committed to making theological education financially feasible. Although our operating budget essentially remained flat this year, we dedicated $4.5 million to financial aid. Seventy-seven percent of eligible students received Candler-based financial aid, with the average award covering more than two-thirds of tuition.

Candler draws considerable strength and inspiration from its relationship with The United Methodist Church. Our ability to fulfill our mission of educating faithful and creative leaders for the church's ministries in the world depends upon your support, gifts, and prayers. Thank you for the countless ways you advance this vital ministry in the life of our denomination. We invite you to visit us in person in Atlanta or online at www.candler.emory.edu to see firsthand how Candler prepares real people to make a real difference in the real world.

Chaddock

At the United Methodist Association's annual convention in March, 2012, Chaddock became only the second organization ever to receive "Accreditation with Commendation" from EAGLE, the nation's only faith-based accreditation for human service organizations. This is EAGLE's highest honor. Debbie Reed, Chaddock's President/CEO commented, "Every member of our Chaddock family owns a share of this recognition for your faithful support of this ministry's commitment to continually strive for the balance that James spoke of (James 2:22): 'You see his faith and his actions were working together, and his faith was made complete by what he did.' On behalf of all those we serve, thank you." This accomplishment is a result of more than 200 staff and countless supporters working together in a shared commitment to demonstrate what can happen when faith and action work together.

Chaddock is a Golden Cross ministry serving severely traumatized children and their families, offering hope and healing through the following programs:

Chaddock's nationally recognized residential treatment program has served children and youth who represent some of the nation's most difficult examples of child abuse and neglect. Chaddock has served children from 25 states, Washington D.C. and one American Indian Tribal Nation. In fiscal year 2011, 83% of the children in our residential programs had a history of psychiatric hospitalization before coming to Chaddock, but after an average stay of about 18 months, 81% of them were able to return home or to other "less restrictive" programs. We have up to 48 children at a time in our residential treatment programs.

Chaddock's on-campus accredited school provides specialized education for more than 70 students, including our residential students and other students throughout the area. We also operate an Alternative School off campus, helping about 35 students get their high school diploma.

Chaddock's Foster and Adoption Services covers a six-county region, serves well over 100 children, and facilitates several adoptions annually. With the generous help of many volunteers, the staff recently moved into a larger building near campus to accommodate growing demand.

Other Chaddock programs include the Chaddock Trauma Initiative, Caregiver Connections, Family Solutions, and The Knowledge Center at Chaddock.

Chaddock has exciting plans for the future that will enable us to serve more children and greatly expand our impact through professional education, training, and consultation. Building a new, larger school is a critical part of that plan; we will re-purpose the existing school to expand The Knowledge Center at Chaddock, which is already in demand nationwide and overseas.

Chaddock cherishes our United Methodist heritage and current connection, and we are grateful for the prayers and support given by individuals, churches, and groups committed to helping our children. Please visit Chaddock, request a guest speaker, or let us know how we can work with you to strengthen your missional outreach. We love to tell Chaddock's story--the story of how faith and actions change the lives of God's beloved children.

Commission on Archives and History

The two archivists, Linda Isbell at McKendree University, and Lauretta Scheller at MacMurray College, had a busy year responding to research requests. We answered 143 inquiries of genealogical or historical in nature mainly relating to our churches and ministers. The church records we preserve are valuable historical resources in addition for baptismal and membership data. Many of the churches who celebrated special anniversaries in 2011 requested historical lists of pastoral appointments and photographs of former ministers. We ask the congregations to remember the archives following the celebration and send to the archives at MacMurray photos, newspaper clippings and special worship folders to preserve at the archives.

As part of our mission to assist the churches to preserve their history, Lauretta conducted two workshops on Managing and Preserving Church Records. The Spoon River District sponsored the first workshop at Galesburg First and Dogwood Prairie in Oblong hosted the second workshop for churches in the Oblong area. These workshops are offered at no cost to the local church and provide guidance to the congregations for records retention and preservation. The archivist will visit individual churches whenever needed as well. Contact Lauretta at MacMurray College (217-479-7694) to schedule a visit or workshop.

Linda and Lauretta have both on-going and new projects to make our holdings more accessible. Lauretta has posted finding aids of the closed church records available at MacMurray on the archives web page at the IGRC web site. Photos of ministers, churches, and items from special collections are also viewable on the web page. Linda continues to process the collections held at the Holman Library at McKendree and in 2012, the collections will be accessible from the library's web site. Additionally, Paul Black (Director of IGRC Communications) has added a heritage map of both United Methodist Historic Sites and Heritage Landmarks of the United Methodist Church located in Illinois, which highlights those significant to our United Methodist heritage.

Rev. Alan Rhein presented the Prentice Sermon at Normal First in May. Hiram Buck Prentice established this sermon in 1922 to honor his father's memory. The sermon is given on a topic concerning "ministry and service as exemplified by the lives and labors of pioneer preachers of the Illinois Annual Conference." Additionally, Rev. Jessica Baldyga gave the Cartwright Sermon at the Peter Cartwright church in Pleasant Plains on October 9.

In July, commission chair, Rev. Dr. Jonathan Dixon, and Lauretta travelled to Winona, MN for the annual North Central Jurisdiction Historical Society meeting, which was hosted by the Minnesota Conference. The 2012 meeting will be hosted by the Indiana Conference for the very first time.

Richard Chrisman continues his excellent writing for the Historical Messenger. He presented a paper entitled "Knowledge, Faith, Service—Methodist Education in Illinois" for the historical society annual meeting. Anyone wishing to submit an article for publication in the Messenger should contact Richard, Lauretta, or Paul Black at the conference office. To be a member of the historical society is a great bargain at $10 per year. If interested, contact Lauretta at MacMurray College.

Commission on Religion and Race

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because (God) has anointed me to bring good news to the poor. (God) has sent me to proclaim release to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to let the oppressed go free, to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor." (Luke 4:18-19)

In the words of our United Methodist Constitution:

"The United Methodist Church recognizes that the sin of racism has been destructive to its unity throughout its history. Racism continues to cause painful division and marginalization. The United Methodist Church shall confront and seek to eliminate racism, whether in organizations or in individuals, in every facet of its life and in society at large. The United Methodist Church shall work collaboratively with others to address concerns that threaten the cause of racial justice at all times and in all places." (Article V, Book of Discipline (2004), ¶5)

The General Commission on Religion and Race, in its vision statement, calls forth "a fully inclusive United Methodist Church that is accountable and proactive in addressing racism, prejudice and divisiveness, where leadership, relationships and ministries are racially and culturally inclusive, and where all members strive, as disciples of Jesus Christ, to build God's beloved community together throughout the church and the world." Indeed, GCORR is not about racism but relationships.

Through our primary work of advocacy and monitoring, we have sought to challenge and equip the church to eradicate racism. However, the journey towards racial inclusiveness is far from its desired destination. Dismantling racism and promoting inclusiveness requires awareness and skill-building. Nationally, GCORR is developing training tools and resources that provide United Methodist clergy and laity with the leadership skills needed to be in ministry across cultures in this increasingly diverse church and society. The IGRC Commission members set a priority of remaining viable and decided to be involved in national and jurisdictional training as a means to become more knowledgeable and culturally competent. To that end two members of IGRC attended the GCORR/GCSRW Training for Conference Chairs event held in February 2011; IGRC assisted in supporting a team of five laity and clergy at the Facing the Future: Cross-Racial & Cross Cultural- Appointments in a Global Church National Conference held in May 2011; ten (10) members of the IGRC-CORR, ELCC and conference staff attended the NCJCORR Annual Learning event: Challenging Business as Usual held during October in Des Moines, Iowa. Indeed, 2011 was a time of environmental scanning, reality testing, reflection and training as we prepare for the proposed changes (structural and representative) at General Conference in April 2012.

Locally, the Great Rivers Commission continued to collaborate in hosting the Ethnic Luncheon at Annual Conference and served as host for the Church & Society Luncheon at Annual Conference, Additionally, the IGRC Religion & Race hosted a summer fellowship gathering at Pawnee UMC celebrating ethnic foods and a panel discussing cultural worship practices.

Commission on Communications and Communications Ministry Team

The conference year 2011-12 was a year of refinement and moving into new technological fronts for the Communications Ministry Team. With the movement in technology and additional demands for more information, Communications is constantly evolving and we are dedicated to both delivery with excellence. We do not lose sight of the goal of keeping United Methodists informed of the church's work and ministry and facilitating the conference's role of equipping local churches for the disciple-making task.

The Current

After going through a redesign in September 2010, The Current went to a full-color publication this past year by changing to P & P Printers in Peoria. This change has allowed for the concept of a magazine format for the monthly publication to blossom. We have been able to explore in three separate issues the Risk-Taking Mission theme of the 2012 Annual Conference – through an exploration of ministry with children and young adults; the prisoner; and the immigrant.

The Current has also returned to 12 issues per year and will be publishing an August issue in 2012. The newspaper is produced the last Friday of each month with a few exceptions for November and December due to the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. The May 2012 issue was also moved two weeks later in order to provide readers with a comprehensive look at General Conference.

We continue with a circulation of 12,000 church leaders and clergy. Our plans continue to develop an online subscription database on the IGRC website which will allow pastors to log into the Conference website and update subscriptions in a timely manner. We believe that this will lower costs associated with returned items and keep our mailing list more current.

Electronic Publications

When The Current moved to a monthly publication schedule in 2007, the communications team recognized the vacuum created by a less frequent publication. At the same time, T*he Current Week in Review*, a weekly e-newsletter, is published each Friday to provide up-to-date news and information. In just three years, the mailing list for the publication has grown to nearly 2,500.

In addition, IGRC Events-full, a weekly publication on Mondays, provides local churches a means for publicizing local church and district events that previously were only publicized in The Current. In all, 1,350 subscribe to IGRC Events-full.

Nearly 20 e-newsletters emanate from IGRC ministries, with the Communications Team directly involved in producing Foundational Perspectives, a publication of the Conference Foundation; the United Media Resource Center's monthly newsletter; United Voices for Children's e-newsletter; and e-newsletters for the conference United Methodist Women and occasional publication of a newsletter with news from the Women's Division. In all, more than 6,700 unique email addresses receive news and information from the Illinois Great Rivers Conference.

Video Ministry

Probably the biggest change in communications has come with the purchase of new high-definition cameras that are replacing 12-year-old models that are two generations behind current video standards. This was made possible due to a $20,000 grant placed in the 2012 conference budget to upgrade the equipment.

The video ministry continues to resource various conference ministries and provides support for such events as Annual Conference and Covenant Keepers.

While there have been a few glitches in the transition, the team continues to work on improvement of its practices that are possible when assembling a volunteer crew to do production four days a year.

Web Ministry

The IGRC web ministry is really two-fold in providing both a channel for the publication of news and information as well as resourcing local churches in developing a web presence for themselves.

In May 2010, the new IGRC website was launched that has allowed for an integrated web presence replacing the patchwork quilt of technologies previously employed. The team of IGRC Director of Communications Paul Black, webmaster Michele Willson and IT Manager Mike Hembrough collaborated on the redesign in the spring of 2010. Usage of the web has increased exponentially and plans in 2013 are to look at redesign or giving the website a face lift while maintaining intuitive functionality.

In 2012, gavel to gavel coverage of the Annual Conference session was streamed on the web with the use of a media encoder built by Hembrough. The team also continues to train various conference groups on Adobe Connect Pro, a web conferencing solution that enables groups to hold their meetings on the web with just a webcam and a telephone.

In resourcing local churches, the Communications team continues to host 50 local church and church agency web sites on its servers, providing design and technical assistance at a nominal cost. While several training events are contemplated for 2013, much of our efforts will center on a holistic approach, meaning individual consultations are becoming a part of helping congregations develop a comprehensive strategy as opposed to just developing a website.

Social Media and Marketing

Conference communications have been augmented through the use of Facebook and other social media tools.

The strength of social media became very apparent during the 2012 General Conference when IGRC Director of Communication Ministries, Paul Black, posted on the IGRC Facebook page from the floor of General Conference action as it was occurring. The coverage received widespread acclaim and demonstrated a way for folks to connect in real time.

We also have a page for the IGRC Imagine No Malaria campaign and a special page is set aside specific to the Annual Conference session.

In addition, the Conference Communications Team has a Twitter account @ IGRCComm and Bishop Palmer tweets regularly @ILAreaBishop

United Media Resource Center

The Communications Ministry Team also operates the United Media Resource Center, a facility with nearly 5,000 different items available for loan for the cost of return postage. Under the direction of Jill Stone, the UMRC and the Illinois Great Rivers Conference has a partnership that has spanned nearly 25 years with the Great Rivers and Southeastern Illinois Presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church (USA), with all three regional bodies having access to the materials.

Online cataloging from the IGRC website has enabled greater circulation numbers. The entire inventory was barcoded in 2010 to facilitate circulation and check-out procedures.

Priorities for 2013

The priorities for 2013 will be focused upon:

- Emphasizing training with local churches. With the challenges of new technologies, it is imperative to assist churches by expanding their skill sets in the various areas of ministry. IGRC Director of Communication Ministries Paul Black and IGRC Commission on Communications member Lee Legg are certified trainers in areas such as web ministry, connectional giving, church communications and marketing, Rethink Church and Welcoming ministries. During 2011-12, we provided training in three districts and consulted with eight churches.
- Developing an online learning community. Collaborating with United Methodist Communications, the Communications Ministry Team is working to establish an online learning center that will enable webinars and other learning events to be done through long-distance technology.

Of course, Communications is not a solo job, but one that is truly a collaborative team effort. Assistant Michele Willson assists the Director in coordinating and keeping the entire team focused on its work. Willson handles the subscription database for The Current and the Conference ListServ. Suzy Burns, our Video Production Manager, continues to provide a quality video product and supports the web ministry platform as well as a resourcing the various ministries and local churches of the conference. Graphic designer Natalie Rowe's talents of eye-catching and engaging designs has enabled our messages to be supported and amplified. IT manager Mike Hembrough, although a member of the Finance and Administration team, also collaborates and provides technology support to our ministry. His efforts are invaluable to making our ministry happen.

Last and certainly not least, we are grateful for the support you provide through the faithful payment of apportionments. We are only able to do what we do because of sacrificial giving and we don't take that lightly. We covet your prayers as we continue to provide a point of connection that allows the Illinois Great Rivers Conference and its churches a voice as we fulfill our disciple-making tasks.

Cunningham Children's Home

Children and young people are referred to Cunningham Children's Home for many unhappy reasons, including histories of abuse, neglect, mental illness, trauma, and pervasive developmental disorders. Whatever their reason for being at Cunningham, when they arrive they are greeted with a personal welcome basket full of clothes, supplies, their own teddy bear, and a hand-made quilt for their new bed. Cunningham provides residential, educational, and community-based services to more than 250 young people ages 6 to 21 each year. Cunningham's philosophy of "kids' needs first" infuses our mission, which is to offer emotional, physical, social, educational, and spiritual support to children, youth, and families by providing a safe, nurturing, therapeutic environment in which individuals may experience personal growth and healing.

Cunningham Children's Home fulfills its mission within an atmosphere of Christian love and caring without regard to race, religion or culture. Since its beginnings in 1895, Cunningham has been governed and supported financially by the women of the church. Today, Cunningham Children's Home continues as a mission and ministry of the United Methodist Women of the Illinois Great Rivers Annual Conference in covenant with the Women's Division of the General Board of Global Ministries of The United Methodist Church. Tours of the agency, speakers and pulpit replacement are available by calling 217-367-3728 or emailing cch@cunninghamhome.org. We invite you to learn more about Cunningham Children's Home by visiting our website: www.cunninghamhome.org.

Drew University Theological School

Drew Theological School, deeply rooted in its United Methodist heritage, is a place that empowers its students to conceive and implement dynamic ministries. Drew offers the M.Div, M.A, M.A.M, S.T.M, D.Min, and Ph.D. degrees, as well as certifications in Camp and Retreat Ministry, and Spiritual Formation. Academically rigorous and spiritually revealing, Drew develops religious leadership prepared for these ever-changing times. Drew offers 100% tuition scholarships to all United Methodists who meet all admissions requirements and have a 3.5 undergraduate GPA or higher.

In the fall semester, I had the honor of welcoming a new class of students to Drew. This new class is composed of 73 masters and 13 PhD students. In addition, we also admitted 58 D.Min. students who started the program in the various cohorts around the country. We also welcomed another 19 students in the spring semester. We began the new academic year with a new Associate Dean for Academic Affairs in Dr. Morris Davis, Associate Professor of the History of Christianity and Wesleyan/Methodist Studies and welcomed two new faculty members and a post-doctoral fellow. Dr. Kate Ott joined us as Assistant Professor of Christian Social Ethics, Dr. Elías Ortega-Aponte as Assistant Professor in Afro-Latino/a Religions and Cultural Studies, and Dr. David Evans as a post-doctoral fellow position and Lecturer in the History of Christianity.

As we began a new academic year, I was reminded of Drew's impact and contribution in the global context. I had the privilege of visiting Drew alumni in Hong Kong, Taiwan, Malaysia, Singapore and South Korea. Our alumni spoke with great appreciation of the education they received at Drew and the professors who taught them. Drew's influence in Korea, in particular, is historic. Henry G. Appenzeller, a graduate of Drew in 1885, brought Methodism to Korea. Appenzeller's connection with Drew has brought hundreds of students from Korea to Drew. Today, we have alumni teaching in seminaries and universities and serving churches in Korea.

We are living into a "majority minority" faculty, staff and student body at Drew that trains leaders for the church that will be soon serving in a "majority minority" world. Forty-five percent of our faculty is African/African Americans, Asian/Asian Americans, and Latino/a. We have almost an equal number of women and men on the faculty.

We are thrilled to have received a grant of $75,600 from the GCORR Action Fund for the purpose of widening the ethos of multi-ethnic theological education. The grant will assist us in a thorough curriculum review with the hopes of enhancing every aspect of the multi-lingual, multi-ethnic, and multi-cultural reality at Drew.

Taking seriously our shared lot in a global community, theological education is not just interested in "small talk"— we strive for hard talk, demanding friendships and challenges. We at Drew look forward to working with the good and faithful people of the UMC as we forge deeper friendships in the shared ministry of making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

Equipping and Connecting Team

Mission Statement

"The Equipping and Connecting Team (ECT) resources and equips the local church to make disciples of Jesus Christ, who transforms individuals, communities, and the world. In addition, the Equipping and Connecting Team guides the mission and ministry of the conference through the creation, coordination, implementation and administration of conference programs."

Living into the Mission

Current economic conditions both outside and within the church continue to challenge the resourcing of our ministries to provide the most effective ways to focus our efforts. The Equipping and Connecting Team has struggled with our own role as a committee. To help us in this area we have spent a workshop day; March 24, 2012, under the direction of Donna Gaither of the General Board of Discipleship in order to clarify our focus. From our committee's work we determined that our primary driver is the development of spiritual leaders which will in turn accomplish the mission of making disciples of Jesus Christ and transformation of individuals, communities, and the world. Instrumental to this primary driver is communication – both within the framework of various members of our committee and without to reach the local church. We have become aware of the ways in which technology is changing the ways we communicate.

In our efforts to accomplish our mission we are grateful for dedicated staff who are passionate about accomplishing our goals as well as local congregations who continue to strive for excellence and seek new ways to reach people in the name of Jesus Christ. We are committed to continue to work together to find the best and most effective ways to deliver our resources; seek opportunities to reach youth, young adults, and children; listen to the needs of those serving in the local church in order to find ways to constructively assist their efforts; be more committed to the connectional nature of the United Methodist Church through better communication and integrated efforts; be aware of and sensitive to the many voices and diverse nature of our constituents; and offer practical training, resourcing, and opportunities for conferencing. As you read the following reports from various ministries represented on the Equipping and Connecting Team you will notice the passionate efforts of the leaders and the many dedicated people who strive to accomplish our mission. We have a huge task at hand but with the help of dedicated disciples and Jesus Christ we are confident of success.

Commission on Camping and Retreat Ministries

This report begins with a word of thanks to local churches for their faithful payment of apportionments (which constitute nearly 25% of camping's $1.9 million annual budget), as well as for special donations, elbow grease, and prayer. Without them, the IGRC would lose an invaluable resource for inviting and guiding children, youth, and adults into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ through the camping ministry.

Beulah Holiness Camp continues to provide a charming and spiritually invigorating setting for campers of all ages. This past year generous donations of IGRC members resulted in a $39,000 gift for building new dormitory rooms in a matching, two-for-one, challenge. The new rooms extend hospitality to campers who otherwise might not have a bed.

Epworth Camp functions almost entirely on volunteer power. Improvements include new siding and windows in the retreat center, new windows and roof in the boy's dormitory, the purchase of 116 new mattresses for the bunks, and anticipated improvements to the tabernacle.

East Bay Camp welcomed a new site director, Ben Nelson, and head maintenance person, Alex Dunt. A number of volunteers and generous donations enabled the replacement of all the windows in the dining room wings and the anticipated addition of sorely needed bathrooms and air-conditioning in the dining hall. The challenge that lies ahead for East Bay is an aging infrastructure that is demanding more and more maintenance.

Jensen Woods celebrates the addition of a new kitchen and chapel onto Dixon Lodge, funded largely through a generous inheritance of $400,000 from the late Roselyn Jensen. This addition will increase the camp's appeal for year-round use, as well as support the needs of campers in the summer months. The biggest challenge before Jensen Woods is discerning a plan for providing not only gifted, but consistent leadership and workable programming for the summer months.

Little Grassy showed remarkable growth again last year in both summer and year-round camping and retreat ministries. The site committee was resurrected in the summer of 2011 and has begun visioning for a possible remodeling of the dining hall and revival of the north side dining facility and cabins.

Living Springs has a strong year-round ministry of providing retreat space for a variety of groups and a summer program that happens largely because of volunteers who organize and lead week-long sessions. The swimming pool is aging and requiring more and more repairs, so replacement is one of several projects on the horizon.

The Commission on CRM meets 4-5 times a year to give oversight to the mission and vision of camping and to give direction to operations. Its notable work this past year has included a partnership with the conference personnel committee and chancellor to develop policies that work in the unique setting of camping. The commission is also pursuing a greater understanding and application of marketing strategies.

IGRC Staff relating to camping and retreat ministries has been focusing on an intentional ministry of hospitality, interpretation of the camping program through church visits and other gatherings of clergy and laity, the creation of brochures and colorful emails, clarification of staff responsibilities, and alignment of vision, mission, and practice of the camp with the Gospel and public regulations.

The IGRC camping ministry encourages:

- A renewed commitment on the part of pastors, youth leaders, camping coordinators, and local church members to encourage, interpret, and volunteer in the camping ministry.
- Local churches to invite children and youth to attend summer sessions and to help pay their way.
- Volunteer teams from local churches to help maintain and improve the property.
- Fund-raisers, collections, and other financial support for camper scholarships, program, and property upkeep.
- Invitations to camp staff to come interpret camping in your church.
- Prayer!

Committee on Disability Concerns

People with disabilities demographically face higher unemployment, a greater likelihood of poverty, and limited access to health care. National studies show over eighty per cent of the population of people with disabilities do not attend church regularly. In the time since its inception two years ago, the Committee on Disability Concerns has formulated a strategic direction for the conference to bring awareness and resources to this important mission field.

The Committee on Disability Concerns fosters and equips the annual conference, extension ministries, and local churches for ministry with and for people with disabilities.

The Committee on Disability Concerns lives out this calling by:

- Promoting greater awareness of disabilities, including sharing resources for use on Disability Awareness Sunday;
- Utilizing Disability Awareness Sunday funds to issue grants to provide open access to buildings and ministries to people with disabilities;
- Resourcing ministries to create welcoming environments—architecturally and attitudinally—in all areas of spiritual life for people with disabilities;
- Resourcing faith communities to establish ministries with and for people with disabilities;
- Resourcing faith communities to connect persons and parents/guardians of children with disabilities to relevant local organizations and services.

A United Methodist faith community in the Illinois Great Rivers Annual Conference may apply for one of the following grants:

- An accessibility grant that identifies priorities for overcoming physical, architectural, and/or communication barriers to people with disabilities. (Deadline: January 31)
- A grant awarded to enable an individual with disabilities to participate in a mission experience outside the bounds of this annual conference. (Deadline: January 31)

- A grant for assistance with startup costs for new advocacy and education programs and services provided by IGRC churches and ministry groups. (Deadline: July 31)
- A grant for assistance with startup costs for new direct services programs and services provided by IGRC churches and ministry groups. (Deadline: July 31) Grant criteria and application forms are available for download at www.igrc.org/disabilityconcerns.

Congregational Development Team

In the ongoing effort to start new congregations in the Illinois Great Rivers Conference, the Congregational Development Team is partnering with congregations to start new sites for ministry. In addition to continuing to expand the campus in the Collinsville/Maryville area which launched in 2011, Fairview Heights Christ UMC plans to launch a new site in Millstadt in September of 2012. Also, Kumler UMC is working toward launching worship on North Grand Avenue in Springfield at the Kumler Outreach Ministries site, in the former Trinity UMC building. In addition, the Office of Congregational Development has consulted with Decatur Grace UMC as they prepare to launch worship in the building of the former South Shores UMC.

For the fourth consecutive year, IGRC hosted the North Central Jurisdiction Church Planters' Boot Camp on May 14-17, 2011. The workshop helps church planters and congregational teams develop action steps to start a new congregation or multi-site ministry.

The Fruitful Congregations Process continues to expand. Over forty churches have engaged in the two and a half year process in two different locations. The fourth and fifth series of workshops will begin in September, 2012, one hosted in Jacksonville by the LaMoine River District and one hosted in Salem by a joint effort of the Kaskaskia and Cache River Districts. One church requested and has completed an on-site consultation of the Fruitful Congregations Process.

Ethnic Local Church Concerns Committee

The Committee members have begun to research the history of the ethnic local churches in our Great Rivers Conference (a merger of the former Central and Southern Illinois Conferences.) Our goal is to find documentation and materials to be entered into our Conference Archives in Jacksonville, Illinois.

We have found materials in the following depositories.

- McKendree University: Asian families, Hispanic Ministries, Native Americans.
- MacMurray College: Asian Americans, Native Americans , African Americans, Hispanic Ministries.
- Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta, GA: African Americans (Gammon Theological Seminary was in the former racial Central Jurisdiction which covered the entire United States)

Some of our data comes from journals of the Central, Southern, and Illinois Great Rivers Conferences. Some books that have been used are To a Higher Glory, Goose Families, Honoring in a Good Way, and many articles from other sources.

We have received original documents, including membership records from the closed [Hispanic]"Alta Sita Methodist Church of East St Louis. The written past and present history of Springfield Grace UMC,[African American] has been collected. All of these documents have been given to the Archives.

The committee continues to build the Legacy of Ethnic Churches,[our roots]; the tree trunk, [our present] and the branches,[our future]. Our future dreams: build a speaker's bureau of persons who could stand and speak to issues that impact our communities, share the rhythms of our ethnicities and reflect the beauty of all our traditions within the church.

Evangelism Committee

The Illinois Great Rivers Conference Committee on Evangelism is energized by a phrase added to the 2008 Book of Discipline in ¶ 126. The Ministry of the Laity: Every layperson is called to carry out the Great Commission (Matthew 28:18-20).

We understand the purpose of our committee to function as an "equivalent structure" to help provide for the functions of the 2008 Book of Discipline ¶ 630.3 not assigned by the Conference Equipping and Connecting Team to other entities (such as the New Streams Team or the Office of Congregational Development), and to work on other projects brought to us by the Cabinet or the Equipping and Connecting Team.

The Evangelism Committee of the IGRC presents several awards each year at Annual Conference, not just to recognize the work of an individual, but so that we might all be aware of excellent models of making disciples for the transformation of the world. We need clear examples from among us so that we might be inspired to enthusiastic labor and to learn from the experience of others. The following awards for Church Growth were presented at the John Wesley Fellowship luncheon:

- Membership 1 to 50: 6 Professions of Faith, to Cottonwood UMC, Embarras River District, Edward L. Davis, Pastor
- Membership 51 to 100: 13 Professions of Faith to Quest UMC, Iroquois River District, Andrew Adams, Pastor
- Membership 101 to 200: 29 Professions of Faith to Peoria Bethel UMC, Illinois River District, Rose Booker-Jones, Pastor
- Membership 201 to 2,104: 106 Professions of Faith to Fairview Heights Christ UMC, Mississippi River District, Shane Bishop, Pastor

Denman Awards and a Peter Cartwright award were not presented in 2011. The committee is working to increase the number of applications received.

In November the two members of the Cabinet serving on our committee brought to us a proposal to help organize events on evangelism in five districts in the fall of 2012. These "E3 Events" gather clergy and laity for empowering and equipping for evangelism and will be resourced by Dr. Doug Anderson of the Bishop Rueben Job Center for Leadership Development.

David O. Kueker, Chairperson

Lay Leadership Team

By far the most effective leadership development tool for Laity in our Conference is our Lay-Speaking Ministries which is an integral part of our Lay Leadership Team (Board of Laity).

At the fall charge conferences of 2011, Lay Speaking Ministries received a total of 934 reports. Of those reports 608 were from Certified Lay Speakers and 326 were from Local Church Lay Speakers.

Lay Speaking Ministries continues to offer Basic and Advanced Course trainings in each District, sponsored and coordinated by each District Lay Speaking Ministries Committee. In the spring of 2011 approximately 74 new Local Church Lay Speakers completed the Basic Course with additional Basic Courses held in the summer and fall for a total of twelve courses held.

In addition to the ten Advanced Courses offered by the Districts, there were a number of opportunities to attend Alternative Advanced Courses such as training events sponsored by Congregational Development, New Streams and the Five Day Academy for Spiritual Formation.

On November 11 and 12, 2011, the Conference Lay Speaking Ministries Committee sponsored its third conference-wide training event in as many years. By training interested Lay Speakers and others as Lay Witness Mission and Venture in Discipleship Team Members, Lay Speaking Ministries hopes to provide ministry to those in need as well as opportunities for laity to share their witness. This venue also gives Lay Speakers additional opportunities to speak before groups and practice their skills. With the 2011 training event this brings the total number of persons trained from within the Conference to 72. Each District has had no less than three persons who have participated, with one District having as many as fourteen.

We would like to continue to encourage congregations to pray about and talk over with their pastor and other church leadership the possibility of having a Lay Witness Mission Team come to their church. If a congregation has held Lay Witness Missions in the past, then perhaps they might want to consider one of the other five Team Led Local Church Renewal Events available through Aldersgate Renewal Ministries http://aldersgaterenewal.org/ministry-events/local-church-renewal-events

Opportunities to become team members for these events are also available, not only to Lay Speakers but to other laity and clergy as well.

and Rhonda Whitaker, Conference Lay Leader

Mission and Outreach

The year of 2011 through annual conference June 2012 was a very active time for the IGRC Missions and Outreach Program, from our continued and expanded involvement with partnership with the Liberia Annual Conference to increased programming in our own annual conference.

IGRC Liberia Partnership

- 5 teams to Liberia since January 2011
- Completion of John Kofi Asmah United Methodist School in West Point
- Development of Bishop's Task Force on IGRC Liberian Partnership
- Restarting 4-H in United Methodist Schools.

IGRC Team 1 - January 2011

The LaMoine River District worked on flooring at the A.B. Anderson United Methodist Church and a new kindergarten building for the Anderson Weamah United Methodist School in Tubmanburg, painted the Borpoanyee UMC in Ganta and participated in the Gompa District meeting in the isolated area of Gelepa and visited the school and parsonage projects supported by the Canton Wesley United Methodist Church in Kpann, near Ganta.

IGRC Team 2 - January 2011

Four therapists from Chaddock Home journeyed to Liberia to provide training for adults working with youth and young adults. Training was conducted for teachers and house mothers at the Bishop Judith Craig Children's Home, teachers in the Monrovia area, students at Gbarnga School of Theology and teachers from the Ganta United Methodist School. Another member of this team conducted water testing in many of the wells IGRC has dug in Liberia as well as major sources of drinking water supplies throughout Liberia.

IGRC Team 3 – February 2011

The IGRC ordinand team painted the exterior of Ganta Mission Station administrative building built by IGRC in 2007, painted the high school wing of the Ganta United Methodist School, and attended the 2011 Liberia Annual Conference in Ganta. They also laid bricks for the third floor of the John Kofi Asmah United Methodist School in West Point and poured the concrete floor of the New Hope United Methodist Church in Paynesville, just outside of Monrovia.

IGRC TEAM 4 - July 2011

The fourth IGRC teacher training team trained elementary teachers from United Methodist schools in the Monrovia area and teachers from the Ganta United Methodist School as well as teachers from small rural schools in the Ganta area. Five additional members of this team conducted financial record-keeping training for the Ganta UM School treasurer and Liberia Annual Conference treasurer; held sewing and painting classes and purchased several sewing machines for Ganta Women's Center, UMW Women's Center in Monrovia, and for a ministry with street and poor children in central Monrovia; further explored agriculture projects and the development of the 4-H program in Liberian United Methodist Schools; and, worked with children in West Point, Bishop Judith Craig Orphanage and on the Ganta Mission Station

IGRC TEAM 5 - February 2012

The ordinand team painted inside the John Kofi Asmah United Methodist School in West Point and participated in the school's dedication. The team planted corn, by hand, and further explored agriculture projects and plans for future of the Ganta Mission Station agriculture program. Further future projects visited included the redevelopment of agriculture and the continued need for renovation and rebuilding for Gbarnga School of Theology.

John Kofi Asmah UM School in West Point Completed

This three-story school, now occupied by 500+ students, looms above the tin hovels of West Point as a beacon of hope. Completion of this school project is truly a celebration and IGRC has given the poverty ridden area of West Point dignity. This is the ONLY junior high school in an area of 60,000+ people.

Bishop's Task Force on IGRC Liberia Partnership

A new Bishop's Task Force on the IGRC Liberia Partnership led by Rev. Keith Zimmerman along with members who have all experienced Liberia was formed. This task force will work closely with Bunny Wolfe, the IGRC mission and outreach coordinator, to prioritize our efforts to expand evangelization, education, health care, and economic opportunities in Liberia and to maximize our mutual efforts with our Liberian brothers and sisters. The IGRC Liberia Task Force will host a national summit for all partners working in Liberia in fall of 2012 as well as develop strategies to strengthen the IGRC Liberia partnership in all 10 IGRC districts. We have accomplished much in six years, but more work still remains and not all of IGRC districts are fully participatory in the Liberia partnership.

Redevolopment of 4-H in Liberia

Ganta United Methodist School is the first IGRC sponsored pilot program to redevelop 4-H in United Methodist Schools. Grants and donations have provided a new staff person of the Liberia Annual Conference to expand the once vital 4-H program in other Liberian United Methodist Schools.

IGRC continues to remain remarkably financially supportive of the Liberia partnership. Yet in many ways, this journey has only begun.

IGRC Expands into Honduras

August of 2012 will be the first IGRC annual trip to Honduras to expand our international connections. A newly developed area for a mission complex in the outlying area of Tegucigalpa – San Jose de La Vega – will be the focus of a new IGRC mission initiative in Honduras. This will involve the building of several buildings and will be the IGRC project for the next few years to enhance the work of The United Methodist Church of Honduras. Dates of the next IGRC mission team in Honduras have been set for June 22-30, 2013.

IGRC Disaster Response

IGRC is more prepared to respond in the event of a natural disaster within and outside of our conference boundaries. Early Response Teams and Care Teams are developing.

Early Response Training

The storm season of Spring 2011 created a greater interest in Early Response Team training for Disaster Response. Storm damage in first Alabama and then in Joplin, MO, reinforced IGRC's effort to train people to respond in appropriate and safe ways. In 2011 and early 2012 our four UMCOR trained Early Response Trainers have conducted nine trainings in several areas of IGRC and 186 new people were trained in early response. There are currently approximately 300 people trained in early response in IGRC and several more trainings are scheduled for 2012. Because of this training, IGRC was able to quickly respond in the February Harrisburg, IL tornado.

New IGRC Disaster Response Care Teams

Two trainings have occurred, and a newly formed Disaster Response Care

Team is active and available under the leadership of Rev. Karen Blank-Ewell. Care Team members are deployed to responsibly and compassionately listen to those effected by disasters as well as to be present for the debriefing of IGRC Early Response Teams. This is new to IGRC. This team provided a quick and long-term response to the community of Harrisburg. Training for Care Teams is conducted by UMCOR and is a day and half training plus an additional training in psychological and emotional first aid by the American Red Cross. More trained IGRC members are needed and additional trainings are being scheduled.

Connecting Neighbors will be the next addition to IGRC Disaster Response Trainings.

Harrisburg and Carrier Mills Tornado Response

IGRC Early Response and Care Teams were quick to be on site in Harrisburg the day after the disaster occurred. Numerous volunteer mission teams throughout IGRC have registered to help with the continued rebuilding of homes in Harrisburg. There was an immediate $10,000 UMCOR grant given to IGRC for these damaged areas. Bishop Palmer, along with Tom Hazelwood, UMCOR's Assistant General Secretary for United States Disaster Response, visited both areas shortly after the tornado. Midwest Mission Distribution Center quickly responded with health kits and cleaning buckets. Since the February tornado destruction in southern Illinois, IGRC has generously responded by giving over $60,000 to the rebuilding, and donations continue to come to the IGRC Disaster Response Advance #6800.

IGRC Parish Nurse Retreats

IGRC is leading the way for other conferences in the networking and resourcing of parish nurses. Through the work of the IGRC Parish Nurse Committee over 200 parish nurses have been identified in the boundaries of IGRC. The fourth Parish Nurse Retreat in August 2011 hosted the following presenters: Patricia Magyar, UMCOR's Executive Secretary for Health and Welfare; Dr. Mackie H. Norris, nationally and internationally sought speaker on the topics of spirituality, health and wholeness; Renee Smith-Edmondson, Self Care Covenant trainer and employee of UMC General Board of Pensions; and Faith Roberts, Program Coordinator for Parish Nurses for the Carle Foundation Hospital. Parish nurse networking within IGRC continues to increase.

Eastern European GBGM Summit and 2012 Liberia Summit

The 2011 GBGM Eastern European Summit for the In Mission Together program of The General Board of Global Ministries was hosted by Alton Main Street United Methodist Church in October, 2011. Bishop Patrick Strieff, UM Bishop to Central and Southern Europe Episcopal Area, Bishop Gregory Palmer, representatives from Macedonia, Bulgaria, Czech Republic, Slovakia, Yugoslavia, Poland and many In Mission Together partners from United Methodist Churches throughout the United States, were in attendance. In November 2012 a Liberia Summit is planned at Alton Main Street UMC.

Volunteer in Mission Teams

Local churches continue to offer volunteer in mission experiences throughout the U.S. and around the world. However, the reporting of where, when and what local church mission teams do is minimal with only a small percentage of the entire ministry outreach reported yearly. More information from local church mission activities will better help us celebrate all the good United Methodists in IGRC continue to do on a routine basis. A goal is to link others into existing local church groups already planning mission experiences.

IGRC Active in Mission and Outreach

Mission opportunities and outreach continue to grow within the boundaries of IGRC. There is an increase of a variety of outreach programs from local congregations that range from new community gardening programs to after school tutoring, feeding of school children during the summer, intergenerational programs, soup kitchens, food pantries, and feeding of the hungry. IGRC congregations continue to stretch beyond the walls of the church and out of comfort zones to be the hands of Jesus. IGRC continues to reach for opportunities to be "with" people of all ages and in rural, urban and inner city settings.

New Streams

The Deeper Still retreats continue to be an excellent way of growing in the practice of spiritual disciplines. Each retreat pairs an act of piety with an act of mercy, giving participants a chance to explore how the practice of one can lead to the practice of the other, all leading toward deeper love of God and neighbor. The Spring 2012 retreat featured Bishop Ken Carder, Bishop Richard Wilke, and Rev. Mark Hicks as our guest speakers. The title of the retreat was Breaking the Power of Cancelled Sin: Searching the Scriptures and Ministry with the Imprisoned. Focusing on prison ministry with Disciple Bible study, we anticipate movement toward becoming a Disciple Bible Outreach partner.

Upcoming Deeper Still retreats include Seeking God's Power and Living the Shalom Life: Prayer and Peacemaking with Susan Nienaber from the Alban Institute, November 9-10, 2012; and Sharing Deeply and Giving Your Heart Away: Christian Conversation and Visiting the Sick & Dying, tentatively set for March 8-9, 2012 at First UMC, Monmouth.

Additionally, the New Streams Team is working with the Laity Network to develop a "Means of Grace Boot Camp." This would be a workshop for district laity and clergy to refresh awareness and practice of spiritual disciplines, for the purpose of developing spiritual leaders for the local church.

An Iroquois River New Streams Incubator has begun, as lay or clergy members from several churches work on strengthening effective disciple making. Just in the beginning stages, we hope this might be a prototype for other districts to utilize.

We welcome several new members to the New Streams team, people who have a passion about disciple making and spiritual leadership.

Volunteers in Mission

The VIM Committee has been in the process of "re-launching" itself over the last several months. The committee met face-to-face last fall and has been having regular teleconferences during 2012. The Committee has been actively seeking input from IGRC district superintendents for their "Missions on Main Street" program. The committee plans to create a resource where IGRC member churches who wish to do "local missions" within the conference can find out what projects are available, where they are located, and who the contact person is. The committee is also actively working on improving communications between the local church and the conference office so that we can better track and celebrate the mission work being done by our conference churches. Committee members are also working on a Team Leader Manual for Conference VIM Teams that will provide a step-by-step guide for IGRC groups taking international mission trips. It is our hope that this official guide will consolidate information and make the process of serving abroad as easy as possible. The committee is also very pleased to report that an IGRC Mission's Facebook Page – called the IGRC Missions Journal has been created and is being used to continue to improve mission's communication and share mission's stories from throughout the conference. Everyone is welcome and encouraged to go to the page and join us. The committee is also planning a committee planning and training retreat in September to set their agenda for the future. Please continue to keep this vital ministry in your prayers.

Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary

Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary continues its commitment to its core purpose: to know God in Christ and, through preparing spiritual leaders, to help others know God in Christ. We are faithful to the charge of preparing bold and articulate leaders who share the transforming love of Jesus Christ.

Last fall the seminary welcomed ninety-three new students, raising enrollment to 382, a nine percent increase. More than thirty religious traditions, four continents, twelve countries, and thirty-two states are represented in the student body, including 204 United Methodist students.

The seminary awards more than $2 million in institutional financial aid. The newly-created Linked in Ministry Scholarship is a 100 percent scholarship awarded to the first student admitted to Garrett-Evangelical from his/her annual conference who is a candidate for United Methodist ministry and maintains a 3.3 GPA.

Loder Hall and Stead Hall (formerly Lesemann Hall) reopened last summer. Loder, a Gold-certified LEED facility, includes a student center, student lounges, a state-of-the-art classroom, a dining hall, two small chapels, modern residence rooms with private baths, and guest suites. Stead Hall includes a conference room and library offices and houses the Stead Center for Ethics and Values.

The seminary participates in the Green Seminary Initiative, incorporating an ethic of care for creation into the identity and mission of the institution. We are a founding participant in the Blessed Earth Seminary Stewardship Alliance, a collaborative project for the purpose of preparing future church leaders to be catalysts for positive change around issues of environmental sustainability.

A partnership with Associated Mennonite Biblical Seminary (AMBS) gives Garrett-Evangelical students the opportunity to obtain a concentration and/or certificate in Peace Studies, and AMBS students can meet United Methodist ordination requirements through a certificate in United Methodist Studies earned through Garrett-Evangelical.

Plus is the first of its kind cooperative executive education program of Garrett-Evangelical and Northwestern's Kellogg School of Management. The three-year leadership certification program for seminary graduates and professionals in ministry includes six seminars led by experts in non-profit leadership.

Intersection, an innovative continuing education opportunity, incorporates readings, online presentations, and reflection on contemporary issues of life and ministry. Continuing education credit is available.

Garrett-Evangelical helps develop bold local pastor leaders through the UMC Course of Study School. This quality education and formational experience, guided by a strong and committed faculty, offers classes in English, Spanish, and Hmong. In addition to the on-campus residential model, Garrett-Evangelical supervises three extension locations: Indiana, Illinois Great Rivers, and Upper Midwest (Iowa).

The seminary continues to raise $2 million to endow the Rueben P. Job Chair in Spiritual Formation, ensuring that the seminary remains at the forefront of developing and enhancing spiritual formation studies at the certificate, master's and doctoral levels.

The expanded Doctor of Ministry program offers four tracks: Congregational Leadership, African American Congregational Leadership, Spiritual Direction, and Mission in the Contemporary United States. Our D.Min. program is also a portal to the Association of Chicago Theological Schools' D.Min. program in preaching.

We are proud to serve the United Methodist Church, and we ask for your continuing prayers and support as we pursue our mission and our renewed vision.

Lessie Bates Davis Neighborhood House

During 2011 the Board and staff of Lessie Bates Davis Neighborhood House, with the help of hundreds of United Methodist Churches throughout the Illinois Great Rivers Annual Conference, were able to continue to provide vitally needed services to more than 21,500 children, youth, families, and elderly in the Greater East St. Louis area.

In 2011 the Neighborhood House was very excited to be able to significantly expand the agency's work with the homeless men and women in the community. The Neighborhood House, through its newly acquired the Continuum of Life building, is now able to provide comprehensive services to more than 45 homeless persons every week. The Continuum of Life Center provides daily showers, clothes, food, and case management and support services to anyone who just comes off the streets. In addition the Neighborhood House operates the Homeless Street Ministry where volunteers take food and clothes out twice a week in the community. All of the services to the homeless are through a special collaboration with other agencies in the community.

In 2011 hundreds of volunteers from the local Marine Corps and volunteers from local businesses helped the Neighborhood House move the Washington Park Library from its old location to the newly renovated Trinity Outreach Center in Washington Park. The Neighborhood House in partnership with Trinity United Methodist Church was able to fix up the Outreach Center for the Library and for a new After School Program. The same volunteers also helped move the Neighborhood House Food Pantry to the Continuum of Life Center. The new location allowed for the expansion of the Food Pantry which is now serving more than 4,000 people every month.

In June of 2011 Neighborhood House took a big risk and agreed to assume the responsibility for the administration and operation of a new Migrant Head Start Program. Neighborhood House hired more than six bilingual teachers and then recruited more than 40 Hispanic Families to participate in the new Migrant Head Start Program. The program offers free child care for parents who are working in agriculture in the area. In addition, the program is able to offer a broad range of critically needed support services to the Hispanic families. The program will be starting up again in May of 2012.

In October the Neighborhood House's Day Care was chosen to by Sesame Street and the St. Louis Area Food Bank to host the announcement of a new Sesame Street character, Lily. Lily is from a poor family that frequents the food pantry. She is being introduced to help children talk about the problem of hunger in our society today. The children took part in an activity to find healthy food after they watched the video. It was really a fun and meaningful event for all the children and families who participated.

Neighborhood House is also very proud to announce that the Day Care Center was recently accredited by National Association for the Education of Young Children, (NAEYC). The staff worked long hours and many months to obtain this accreditation. Our day care center is now the only Nationally Accredited Day Care Center in the greater East St. Louis/ St. Clair County community.

The ministry of the Neighborhood House is continuing to pay a vital role in "Helping to Move Families out of Poverty" in our community. It is only through the continued support of all the United Methodist Churches and individuals throughout the Illinois Great Rivers Conference that we are able to carry out our ministry. Thank you so much for all your support. God Bless.

Midwest Mission Distribution Center

The site for the MMDC is an 8-acre campus east of Chatham, IL, leased from the Sugar Creek United Methodist Church. Construction on the kit-making area began in October of 1999 and opened in March of 2000. Recent construction completed in December 2011 was the pouring of a concrete slab for the third section of the warehouse.

The scope of the donations sent out by the Center has increased in the past twelve years. Illinois Great Rivers Conference has a commitment to Liberia, Africa. The items sent to Haiti are also duplicated for Liberia. In addition to disaster relief kits and supplies, school supplies, and the rice project, the Center also sends many blankets (handmade as well as commercial), clothing, sewing machines, medical equipment and supplies, bikes, and some furniture and household items. Many types of items have been given a second chance to help people by being brought to the Center where eager recipients are located for these items. Last year at the 2011 Illinois Great Rivers Annual Conference, 12,000 hand towels were collected for use in the UMCOR health kits. In addition IGRC and Iowa challenged each other to see who could bring in the most hand towels. The IGRC collected 12,000 and Iowa collected 9,138! In response to Hurricane Irene, on September 9, 2011, MMDC responded by sending 50 pallets of UMCOR cleaning buckets as well as two pallets of UMCOR school kits to Schenectady, New York. In 2011 the Center collected and shipped thousands of health kits, layette kits, cleaning buckets, sewing kits, and school kits through cooperation with U.M.C.O.R. Sager-Brown in Baldwin, LA. In February 2010, MMDC signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with UMCOR and is now one of eight (8) cooperating depots in the UMCOR Relief Supply Network.

Pastoral Care and Counseling

Pastoral Care and Counseling (PC &C) exists to provide support for clergy and their families in both their personal lives and their corporate life in the community of the IGRC and the local churches.

After more than two decades of providing direct counseling services to pastors and their families by pastoral counselors, PC& C began the process of rethinking the direction of their mission in 2007. In the intervening years counseling services were contracted out to pastoral counselors having a direct relationship to IGRC as the PC&C Committee, Cabinet, and Bishop considered how best to serve pastors and their families in IGRC.

It was decided that the best approach would be three pronged. The first was to hire a part time pastoral counselor who had experience in the local church, administrative experience, and experience in developing and leading workshops and seminars that would provide support for clergy. The second was to continue to develop a web site that would be user friendly and build community among various groups, and thirdly, to continue to contract pastoral counseling services.

At the 2011 Annual Conference, Rev. Karen Blank-Ewell, a native of Southern Illinois, Elder in the Missouri Conference of the UMC, and AAPC pastoral counselor, was introduced as the new director to oversee and give leadership to the program. Allison Smith serves as the web master. Linda Horrell, Steve Busick, David Wence, and Steve Heitkamp, continue to serve as the primary therapists.

One of the greatest causes of emotional suffering in the pastoral family was identified as coming from conflict in the local church.. Conflict in the church had been addressed by Bishop Palmer in his 2010 Annual Conference address. Working under the direction of the Bishop, the Director of Pastoral Counseling developed and implemented a plan to train pastors and laity in assisting churches work through conflict in ways that are transformative and bring new life and hope to the church. This program has three phases. 1) Teams of clergy and laity will be trained to work with churches in conflict. This was done in January, February and March of 2012. 2) Clergy and lay leaders in each district will be trained in family systems, conflict, and anxiety. 3) The Cabinet will deploy the teams to work with churches in conflict.

Additionally, support for pastoral families has been provided with the Healthy Congregations training, direct pastoral counseling services, pastoral consultations, developing relationships with more counselors throughout the conference, updating the web site, new Facebook page, and monthly newsletter, providing emotional support to clergy and their families in trauma and disaster situations, and providing psycho-educational support to clergy and congregations dealing with boundary issues.

As we move forward we ask the Annual Conference to support the continuation of PC &C's development of the web sites and in providing pastoral counseling to the more remote areas of our conference.

Preachers' Aid Society and Benefit Fund

For more than 140 years, The Preachers' Aid Society and Benefit Fund (PASBF) has been caring for the retired clergy and their spouses of our Conference. Over these many years, we have accomplished our mission in a variety of ways which includes, but not limited to: being the pension fund, supporting families of pastors who died in active service, making contributions to the Pre-82 Plan, making special distributions to all retirees, paying for monthly health insurance premiums, and contributing millions to help pay for the Medicare Supplement Insurance. It is our joy to serve those who have served us.

Financial Status

During 2011, the corpus for PASBF grew by over $545,000 or approximately 1.27%. At the end of 2011, the corpus was valued at over $43.5 million. The value of the fund on December 31, 2011, was below the corpus value by approximately $1.67 million due to the downturn in the stock market.

However, at the end of February of 2012 (when this report was created), the market had recovered, and the fund was once again in the positive. At the end of February, the value of the fund was over $45.1 million with the corpus being valued at approximately $43.8 million.

The Board of Directors knows in the coming years more pressure will be placed on the fund. Our conference has over 400 pastors age 50 years old and older, approximately two-thirds of our active clergy. In the next 10-15 years, we anticipate the number of retirees to increase dramatically, which will cause a greater need on the fund.

To meet the future needs and to help us ride the fluctuations of the stock market, PASBF continues to raise money to increase the corpus. We greatly appreciate all those who continue to support us! We now have two different gifting programs – one for individuals and one for churches. Brochures on these programs are at our display table or at our web page – www.pasbf.org.

Medicare Part D Change

The 2011 Annual Conference voted to make a change in the Conference Health Insurance Plan. Beginning in 2012, retirees and spouses in the health insurance plan would no longer have prescription drug coverage through the plan. Instead, each retiree and spouse needed to enroll in a Medicare Part D Plan.

PASBF teamed up with the Conference Financial Administrative Team to assist our retirees and spouses to enroll in a plan. We were trained by the Senior Health Insurance Program (SHIP) of Illinois.

During the fall, we hosted at least one meeting in all of our 10 districts. We also visited in individual homes, mailed information, and held many phone conversations in order to walk people through the process.

We are proud to report a 99.5% contact rate! 651 retirees and spouses were interviewed. In addition, we heard from 83 retirees and spouses who are not on Medicare or our Health Insurance Plan. This is a total of 734 contacts. We were unable to contact only 4 individuals after repeated and exhaustive efforts.

We want to extend a special thank you to Ralph Morgan and Tarry Plattner – faithful UM members in Bloomington-Normal area and excellent SHIP counselors – for their training. Ralph and/or Tarry were at all 10 of our district meetings around the conference. We would not have had the results we did without their help. Thank you Ralph and Tarry!

Financial Commitment in 2012

PASBF's financial commitment to the Conference Health Insurance Plan for 2012 is $1.5 million to help pay for the Medicare Supplement Insurance. In addition to this commitment, PASBF has set aside $500,000 to assist retirees and spouses with prescription drug expenses as needed and requested.

For the past several years, PASBF had contributed $3 million for the Medicare Supplement Insurance. In 2011, this was approximately 7.0% of the value of the corpus, which was a big stretch for the lifetime survival of the fund.

PASBF's 2012 commitment of $1.5 million plus the $500,000 to help retirees and spouses with the prescription drug expenses, is approximately 4.6% of the value of the corpus. This level is more in line for a long-term sustainability of the fund.

Looking to the Future

The Board of Directors are looking to meet the current needs of our retirees and spouses while looking into the future. For this reason, the Board has scheduled a Board Retreat for this fall. Surveys are being sent to retirees, spouses, and active clergy close to retirement age. We anticipate this retreat will help us to anticipate some of the needs that will arise over the next several years.

In 2014, PASBF will celebrate our 145th year of service. PASBF plans to be here for another 145 years and to continue to have an impact in the lives of our retirees and spouses. Prayerfully consider how you can help celebrate our 145th year of service and how you can help us to live into the future generations as well.

New Staff Member

At Annual Conference last year, I was pleased to announce the hiring of an Administrative Assistant. Unfortunately, Sarah Cooper had to resign soon after Annual Conference. However, PASBF was able to find a great replacement – Carol Sims.

Carol was hired in September and has had a great impact on PASBF. Carol is a life-long United Methodist, leader in the Williamsville UMC, and a certified lay speaker. She is a great addition to our staff with a caring heart for our retired clergy and spouses. Be sure to meet Carol while you are at Annual Conference.

Conclusion

The Board of Directors would like to thank our 3 Assistants – Rev. Sam Totten, Rev. Floyd Blackard, and Rev. Raydean Davis – for their excellent work this past year. The Assistants have ministered, cared, and supported our retirees and spouses in many different ways. We could not accomplish near the work we do without their help! The Board of Directors is committed to protecting the corpus, supporting retired clergy and spouses, and representing retirees in the Conference. We look forward to another strong year this year.

Preachers' Mutual Benefit Association

PMBA originated at Centralia, IL in 1911 for the purpose of meeting the needs of families of pastors and spouses at the time of their death. The purpose of PMBA is to give IMMEDIATE FINANCIAL AID to the family upon the death of a full member of the Association.

Through the years PMBA has provided a caring fellowship for participating clergy and spouses. Families often have unexpected needs at the time of the death of a loved one and PMBA has helped to meet those needs.

Presently, at the time of death of a full member, a love gift of $1,200 is sent directly to the family in lieu of flowers. This love gift not only provides these funds but it also provides a way for all PMBA members to express their sorrow in this family's time of grief.

The funds for each love gift are provided by each member being assessed $5.00 each time another full member dies. A notice is sent by email or postcard from the secretary to inform every member of the death and to remind each member of the assessment due.

Who can join? Clergy & Spouses: Full membership is available to all pastors and diaconal ministers of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference, in good standing, and their spouses. In the event of death, a $1,200 love gift will be paid to the beneficiary. Assessments are $5.00 per member each time a full member dies. Laity: Associate membership is available to all laity. Associate members will be sent an assessment when a death of a full member occurs but associate members are ineligible for benefit when their death. This membership gives the associate member the opportunity to express support of a pastoral family in time of death.

Treasurer's Report

The Conference had another excellent year in 2011. Apportionments received from the local churches were down a little over one percent from 2010. However, at 91.77% it was still the second highest percentage received since 2000. A few churches that had not paid 100% in recent years attained that goal last year. Contrary to popular myth, our large churches pay very well. Generally, the churches that struggle to meet their apportionments are those whose membership size cannot support the current level of pastoral leadership. Revenues are often eaten up with salaries, benefits and high maintenance needs. Part of our growth as a Conference will be to find more ways which will enable struggling local churches to be full partners in their connectional giving.

United Methodist Foundation

The mission of the United Methodist Foundation of the Illinois Great Rivers Annual Conference, Inc. is to enhance the financial strength of the local church, Conference agencies and the Illinois Great Rivers Conference for the expansion of ministry.

January 1, 2011 the United Methodist Foundation held $10,008,450 in total assets. The December 31, 2011 balance of total assets was $10,625,519. Additional investments of $677,669 came into the Foundation. The Foundation disbursed $532,043 to support the ministries of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference in 2011.

In 2011 the Foundation was in front of over 60 local churches, Conference Agencies and committees helping them all develop a "culture of generosity." Over $3,500,000 was raised to help…."make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world."

These numbers do not do justice in describing the ministry of the United Methodist Foundation. In 2011 four young persons from the community of Hamilton were supported in their High Education opportunities because Dr. Wait, from the community of Hamilton, set up a scholarship with the Foundation.

Four hundred of the poorest of the poor children in Haiti were supported with scholarships to attend schools associated with the Methodist Church of Haiti. Through education they are trying to break the cycle of poverty in the nation of Haiti.

All of our Golden Cross ministries within the Conference received financial support to continue their vital ministry through the Merry Ann McDowell endowment. Each year, in perpetuity, these agencies will be able to depend on financial support because Merry Ann McDowell loved the church.

During these difficult economic times the church has been called on to provide assistance to those in need. How about that, we are being asked to do what we are called to do. The Foundation in 2011 has been blessed to participate in the mission of the church by supporting food banks, clothing drives, after school programs and seniors needs.

The list could go on; retired clergy support, support for pastors in Chile and camping programs.

It is a pleasure for the United Methodist Foundation to serve as partners in the connectional ministry of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference.

If you would like to join this ministry please contact the United Methodist Foundation at: 1) P.O. Box 3487, Springfield, IL 62708-3487, (217) 529-3217 or tfrost@igrc.org.

In February, 2011, we started off the year with our Spiritual Growth Study led by Rev. Carol Lakota Eastin entitled "Stitching Our Prayers" where we learned to let go of our grief and sorrows and be held by God.

The theme for our School of Christian Mission Spiritual Growth Study was "All Things Made New". Our Spiritual Growth Study was "The Journey: Forgiveness, Restorative Justice and Reconciliation"; the Geographic Study was Haiti and the Issue Study was "Joy to the World: Mission in the Age of Global Christianity."

The Personal Growth Study done in each of the Districts was entitled "The Joy of Mission – From Our Doors to the World".

The year concluded with our Annual Celebration held on October 1, 2011, at Crossroads United Methodist Church. We celebrated our mission of serving women, children and youth in worship, praise and song and message by Mart Rodriguez who is currently serving as a Women's Division Director.

We exceeded our pledge amount to Women's Division in 2011, being one of three conferences in the North Central Jurisdiction to meet their pledge. We continued our Mission Plus giving to support both of our two conference mission institutions, Cunningham Children's Home and Lessie Bates Davis Neighborhood House.

United Voices for Children

'United Methodists Speaking and Acting on Behalf of Children' is the motto of United Voices for Children as the organization continues to seek to find ways to help local churches and their Child Advocates be responsive to the needs of children. Local churches are encouraged to place a Child Advocate on their local church on their church conference roll. This person should be enabled and supported in their efforts to be a 'voice for children.' The Guidelines for a Local Church Child Advocate has been updated and may be found on line at www.igrc.org.

The pre-conference workshop was held this year at Peoria FUMC. Stephanie Corum, a lawyer for the Champaign County State's Attorney office who deals with the juvenile cases, shared information on the themes: "Bullying: Who? What? Where? Why? How do we help?" and "Beyond Being Grams and Gramps: Grandparent Rights in Illinois." The workshop was well attended and persons received good information to take back to their local churches.

At the UVC breakfast held at IGRC Annual Conference, Stephanie Corum told about the Court Appointed Child Advocate (CASA) program in the state. She is president of the state board for CASA. This organization has programs across the state serving county wide areas. Volunteers are trained by CASA to speak for children involved in court case. A volunteer does extensive research on a child and presents a written report to the judge.

UVC communicates with individuals and local UM churches through an e-newsletter and a bi-yearly newsletter. These resources continue to be tools on ways to improve the lives of children.

United Voices for Children established awards named for Mary Renfro and Karleen Dude in honor of their lifelong devotion to advocating on behalf of children. The first annual Mary Renfro Child Advocate Lifetime Achievement Award will be presented to the selected nominee at the annual United Voices for Children breakfast at the 2012 Annual Conference. Youth were invited to submit entries for the Karleen Dude Child Advocacy Youth Essay Contest. The committee will select one middle school student and one high school student to receive a cash award and read their essays at the 2012 UVC breakfast.

Children are the future. Their health and overall well being now affects the future. Thank you for your prayers and actions on behalf of all children

Wesley Foundation at Eastern Illinois University

The mission of the Wesley Foundation at EIU is to be a place of open hearts, open minds, and open doors seeking to help college-aged young adults encounter the living God known through Jesus Christ. We do this through worship, fellowship, study, and service.

With Wednesday night worship, small groups through the week, and two week-long prayer vigils, we provide EIU students with a variety of ways to connect with God and one another. Our spring break mission trip to work with Habitat for Humanity in Mississippi was also very spiritually enriching for our students; and we know that fun activities, such as supper on Sundays, are great ways for students to get to know one another and to invite others to get to know the Wesley Foundation.

We continue to partner with the University in service to students and the community by hosting a freshmen outreach project which benefitted the Midwest Mission Distribution center through the creation of flood buckets and health kits. We also co-sponsored World AIDS Day activities and helped to raise funds to fight HIV/AIDS.

We are very thankful for the prayers and support we receive from local churches and the Illinois Great Rivers Conference. Your support makes our ministry at Eastern Illinois University possible. If you or your church would like to participate in the ministries of the Wesley Foundation at EIU, please contact Paige Roberts at info@foundationeiu.org or go to www.foundationeiu.org.

Wesley Foundation at Southern Illinois University

An exciting new ministry was started this year at our Foundation. We organized and began a student-only food pantry during the school year of 2011/2012. In the fall, we contacted local churches by mail asking for prayers and donations. We received some monetary and item donations. In January we sent out flyers and opened our food panty. This panty is unique because it is open solely to students who are currently enrolled at John A Logan College or Southern Illinois University Carbondale. It's the only service of its kind for students on our campus. This ministry is meeting the needs of our community. Thus far, we have had over 44 visits to the pantry and 27 different students benefit from it. A blessing of this ministry has been its exposure on campus. Through it, new doors have been opened and our outreach to students has increased tremendously. Students who are not connected with the Wesley Foundation are volunteering and holding food drives for us. The SIU Administration is very supportive and looking for ways we can work together with them to help the campus community grow our mission. The food pantry was featured on a local news station as the "Unsung Hero" for the week and was highlighted in our local and campus newspapers. We are excited to see this ministry grow and to see what other doors are opened in the future. We are thankful for the Leadership Grant that our student Loran Luehr was awarded to get this ministry off the ground. This was her vision, and we look forward to seeing how God works.

In addition to the food pantry there are many other things to celebrate. Our numbers at the Foundation are growing, and the students are energized for the coming year. We have taken part in local missions including assisting in the Harrisburg storm clean up, making donations to Good Samaritans, writing letters to nursing homes, and holding a training session to become Early Responders. We are always looking at ways to help those in need. Students are building relationships and skills that will help them make a difference throughout their life and learning the importance of getting involved. The students also coordinated a fundraiser for Baby Fold Camp and Little Grassy Camp of our conference showing that we need to support others just as we are supported. Worship and Bible study were strong parts of our ministry this year as well. We had three different weekly Bible studies, one weekly worship service, and one weekly discussion group. Attendance in all of these activities has been up from last year, and it has been exciting to see the number of students that are experiencing Christ through our ministry.

There is a wonderful life and vitality at the Wesley Foundation as we continue the process of empowering students and young adults to shine the light of Christ's love on the campus, in the community and throughout the world.

We are blessed to have 42 individual students serving in 92 leadership positions this year. We have 5 peer ministers, an MSW intern, 6 students as annual conference delegates, 16 trained midweek speakers, trustee board members, bible study leaders, service project leaders, worship leaders and musicians. It is with mixed joy that we will be graduating almost 25 of these leaders and sending them into the larger world.

We are always creating places for new persons to enter more fully into the life of the Church Universal. In addition to our worship services and bible studies, we have seen an influx of persons joining us at Wesley through our Food Pantry Volunteers, International Ministries, Etc. Coffeehouse, and our Haunted House Fund Raiser. We are also home to some Parkland College students including a number of our key leaders. Our estimates for individual students through our ministry are 165 each week, 290 each month and 1800 annually. These numbers do not include the Korean language students that participate in Jesus Love United Methodist Church that we are glad to host in our facility. They are primarily a student church with several hundred in participation.

We seek to further the IGRC mission of eliminating poverty through a number of means. Each month, the Wesley Evening Food Pantry has been serving over 1000 persons one week's worth of groceries. We engage hundreds of student volunteers in this effort and are now seeking to engage them more fully in hunger education and advocacy. We have hosted the Graduate Employee Organization, the Healthcare Consumers Justice Group and a number of social service groups. Each month we bring in six to eight social service providers to connect with our food pantry clients.

We have being trying to address global health issues through a number of means. We support the No Malaria Campaign through finances and hosting movies and discussions. Last year we sent 12 students on a mission trip to a home for orphans with disabilities in Thailand. We host teams for CROP Walk and Relay for Life. We support 3E Love in embracing, empowering and educating persons about disabilities issues. We host multiple blood drives, health clinics and dental clinics throughout the year.

Finances to support such a large and diverse campus ministry continue to be a challenge. We are grateful for the support we receive from the conference but are still operating on very slim margins. If individuals or churches want to participate in the ministries of our Wesley Foundation or learn more about what we do, please visit http://wesleyui.org/foundation or contact us below.

Wesley Theological Seminary, Washington, DC

Last year saw extraordinary growth and many changes at Wesley Seminary. Our newly refurbished Library enhances the study and research space on campus. It offers additional break-out rooms with audio-visual capabilities and a community gathering space for coffee and snacks.

Our academic programs have seen similar renewal. A new 36 hour Master of Arts degree will provide Basic Graduate Theological Studies and a flexible curriculum to equip students for children's and youth ministry, public theology, and arts ministry. Starting this summer, Wesley will offer Masters-level courses fulfilling GBHEM professional certification requirements in youth ministry, Christian education, urban ministry, and evangelism. We have dramatically revised the Course of Study School at Wesley, renewing the curriculum and making it easier for pastors to complete the course with alternative scheduling options, including weekend intensive courses. And the first class of Mission Fellows enters this fall to prepare for missional church and emerging ministry leadership.

Wesley received a grant of $850,000 from the Lilly Endowment Inc. to continue the Lewis Center for Church Leadership's Lewis Fellows program through 2016.

This partnership with Lilly Endowment comes from our mutual recognition of the importance of young, high-potential clergy to the church's future. The Lewis Center continues to offer new events and resources to help congregations reach more people and fund their ministry. See www.churchleadership.com.

United Methodists on the Wesley faculty published two new books. Dr. Lovett H. Weems, Jr. wrote Focus: The Real Challenges that Face the United Methodist Church, on the recommended reading list for 2012 General Conference delegates. And Dr. Kendall Soulen authored The Divine Name(s) and the Holy Trinity: Distinguishing the Voices, a history of Trinitarian theology.

Wesley introduced a new Doctor of Ministry track in January, "Theological Education in a West African Wesleyan Context." It includes educators from Liberia, Nigeria and Sierra Leone who will shape the next generation of United Methodist leaders in Africa. A new Urban Ministry track begins in January 2013 and a second DMIN track for Military Chaplains begins in May 2013.

In February, the Board of Governors approved the construction of a new, LEED-certified green residence hall, expected to ready for occupancy by fall 2013. It is part of the ongoing New Church Campaign which has supported expansion of international programs, the launch of Wesley @ Mount Vernon Square in downtown Washington, DC, and Wesley's continued efforts to renew the church by developing strong and dynamic leaders.

God's call is bold. Your seminary should be, too. Meet us at www.wesleyseminary.edu.

Illinois Great Rivers Conference

Leadership Reports

Episcopal Address

June 7, 2012

Bishop Gregory V. Palmer

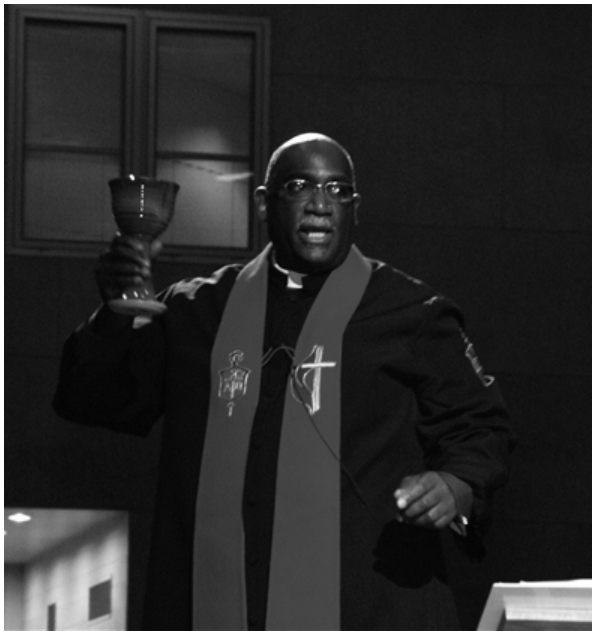

I want to begin this time with offering a prayer, and it's from a volume that you may have, called This Day, A Wesleyan Way of Prayer, put together by Professor Laurence Stookey, an eminent scholar and practitioner of worship planning and leadership. And in one of the sections of prayers that are offered, there are "Acts Appropriate to the Occasion." And then there's this section on ministry of the church and prayers for the ordained, prayers for the bishop, prayers for legislative bodies of the church. And, of course, they are written in such a way that they can be right-sized to specific denominational groups or church organizations, whether they are United Methodist or not United Methodist. But as a way of beginning I want to offer this prayer that Brother Stookey has made available to us in this little volume, and this is how it goes, so be prayerful with me:

You have called us, O God, to do the work of your church as careful and efficient stewards. To this end, we bind together our congregations and govern them through the work of the conferences in which we consult and consider together pressing matters before the church. Give wisdom and vision to those who serve us as delegates or members of our respective conferences. Let not the weariness of their duties distract them, nor the emotion of the issues they face, prejudice them in the decisions they must make. And now, O Eternal One, let the words of my mouth and the meditations of all of our hearts find acceptance in thy sight, O Lord, our Strength and our Redeemer. AMEN.

I want to greet you in the strong name and Spirit of the Risen Christ, who was, and who is, and who is to come, and begin with what I have referred to in your presence before as the two most important words used in combination in the English-speaking language, especially when they are heartfelt; and namely, the words "thank you." I want to thank you for the journey that we have been on together and that we continue on down the road along, for your great patience with me and with one another, and your willingness to face forward into a very bright future. As well, I want to thank those who have gone before me that have sat in these seats, but no longer sit there, whether lay or clergy, other episcopal leaders, particularly my immediate predecessor, Bishop Sharon Ann Brown Christopher, because despite any illusions we have about ourselves, which always turn out to mark us as being delusional, none of us works and serves in a vacuum. Someone has always, or "someones" in the case of members of the annual conference, gone before us, and we build upon their work, their strengths, as well as other aspects of their leadership. And so when I came into this annual conference and episcopal area, what I found was a leader-full community, abundant resources tangible and intangible that I was able to roll up my sleeves along with you to engage in the primary work of the church of Jesus Christ, which we as United Methodists say is making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. I have often been on airplanes and slept too many nights in hotels away from family and away from the office—and so my words of thank you for the journey and for the facing forward. But do not lose sight of the word that I said of my gratitude for your patience, because you deserve someone who is among you, even more than I have been sometimes. And if it was not for the digital age in which we find ourselves, I would have simply fallen flat on my face. But as my wife Cynthia pointed out, it's the people that I'm around the most, that I get to work with—members of the appointive cabinet, that you will hear from later, John Hartleroad, who has been the executive assistant in my office; Linda Smith as secretary to the bishop, and subsequently for two years now Michelle Hammitt. This is a great team of people. And then that table is extended by our partnership with the office of administration, our treasurer, Rick VanGiesen, the Director of Communications, Paul Black and his team, and all of these have teams alongside of them. Kent Lolling, our director of connectional ministries, our conference chancellor, our conference lay leaders, other members of the staff. And so I want to give thanks for the way in which we have formed a team. We aren't as much of a team as we are going to be, but I am able to note with gratitude the progress and the ways in which people pick up and do, have enough of a sense of self and of their role. And there are lots more names that could be called, but please know of my gratitude which is a reflection of my gratitude to all of you for your patience as the annual conference.

I want to break this into a couple of parts this afternoon beyond those words of gratitude and say that I want to quickly highlight some things that we've have been working on, have talked about previously here, and to give you just a smidgen of an update, but by no means an exhaustive report. And then I want to turn to some challenges that are ahead that I truly see as both challenge and opportunity.

One of the things that you know I have given some of myself away to is the so-called Call to Action of which I have been apart. And it has been a great privilege. (I said a word about that this morning. It's brought me into connection with wonderful people. Some of those people have come in and out of the annual conference to bless others in smaller groupings as well as here in the session of the annual conference.) And there was a great deal of buzz and energy, because in our culture we sort of like sound-bytes and headlines that help to draw attention to themselves. And so, to that extent, as we neared the General Conference, conversations began to get ramped up through the media to help people to prepare, etc., and a lot of light was thrown on the legislation that was related to the Call to Action, which really was only a small percentage of what it was that we were trying to invite the church's attention to, and I think we have meaningfully made a start at doing that. And so you will have no pity party or tears from me today, or any day, about how the general conference chose to respond to the legislative opportunities, because the Call to Action was never fundamentally about legislation, but it was about the adaptive challenge where the church was invited, and I believe has responded and is responding, in saying that for a period of not less than ten years, how might we redirect the flow of energy, time, resources, financial resources, etc. in the direction of cultivating more vital congregations and strengthening and making sure that those that already have great signs of vitality do not falter. How can we pay attention to the main thing and keep it the main thing: making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world, which we are already agreed as a denomination as expressed in our mission statement that the primary arena in which disciple-making takes place (not the only, but a primary arena) are local congregations, and that the basic unit as our Discipline states and has stated for a long time as organization? And, therefore, I would say, the key leverage point to be in relationship to congregations around focus, and energy, and deployment of resources is the annual conference. So think of the Call to Action, vital congregations. You saw a statement we put out called "We See a New Church" that came from a group of leaders in the life of the church, particularly bishops, and see this more as a movement, as a turning in a direction as a whole denomination, because we are convicted that Jesus Christ still makes a transforming difference in the lives of people, whether as individuals, but certainly in relationship and in community. And until we pay sufficient attention to that with all of our resources and power and energy from God, we will continue to have some outcomes that discourage us, but the more we turn our attention to that, the more we will see vibrant communities of faith, congregations, individual Christians in their places of work bearing witness to the good news of Jesus Christ, and all sorts of fruit, whether it has evangelistic tones or the tones of social transformation. The gospel does not allow us to make a difference between them. It is the fruit that we seek.

Now the second thing is (that) two years ago I asked you to join me in a movement of transformation. And I invited you to help me to raise at least $2.3 million toward Imagine No Malaria. I can think of nothing more gratifying of which I have been a part in the last several years than working on Imagine No Malaria, both in this denomination, but more particularly here in the life of the annual conference. And I want you to know that to date, you and all those you represent from congregations across this annual conference, have raised $1.9 million toward that goal. Give yourselves a hand. (Applause) So we are hurtling toward the finish line. Sometimes we're in the mode of fits and starts. Some fund-raisers say that the last lap is the hardest. I don't know, but at $1.9 million I know that you want to continue to be partnered with one another, with me, with all of our partners throughout the church, and beyond the church community in "being successful" in achieving this goal and going beyond it. $400,000 more dollars will put us over the top, but I want to say, more than that, the energy that it has created, illustrated by the coffee time that you had this morning sponsored by our communications team where there were Imagine No Malaria mugs, a recent golf outing in which $20,000 was raised toward the goal, the CD that came from the Rivers of Life band, all of the lemonade stands and car washes, congregations that gave a percentage of pledges to capital campaign efforts, the variety of ways in which you have come at this, has helped us to saturate this annual conference with the message that we can make a decisive difference, and that we can join with all of our partners in eliminating deaths due to malaria by 2015. You are to be commended, and I only want to say to you, "Keep going. Don't quit." If there is anyone here who would like to give an incentivized six-figure gift… If you give me $100,000 gift, I will get the other $300,000. But be that as it may, if we have to get it in nickels and dimes or in large checks of $100, or, pray God, you might be moved by the Holy Ghost to write the check of $400,000 just to get me to shut up about it. I would be both honored and humbled to say, "Thank you," and to shut up. But thank you for what you have done and for what you will continue to do. And I have no doubt that we will cross that finish line and go even further on a victory lap.

In preceding episcopal addresses I have drawn our attention to the need for a ministry of conflict transformation. Other partners have come along in the life of the annual conference, and during this winter and the very early spring (we) trained a few dozen people, lay and clergy, and exposed them to the ministry of conflict transformation. So I'm pleased to say that after three years that the train is leaving the station. And we're getting ready to run some pilots, making use of those who have been trained, so that we can help congregations to redeem conflict, in order to get back on the main thing and experience the overflow of God's redemptive and renewing grace in the life of their congregation, in their personal lives, and in the life of the annual conference. I mentioned to you last year our need to be more effective in making cross-racial, cross-cultural appointments, and out of that has grown lots of training, including training a cadre of people who are adroit, skilled, and adept at providing resourcing to local congregations and clergy leaders in this annual conference about deepened cultural awareness and sensitivity; so when I say thank you for facing forward with me on a few initiatives, you have gone over the top. Last year you as an annual conference voted in the budget the unseemly amount of $100,000 in this year's budget called simply "The Bishop's Initiative Fund." And I want to say to you, that of any moneys that have been spent out of that fund, they have all been directed to leadership development and the launching of new ministry of leaders in this annual conference. The two that I have just mentioned I've been a partner financially through that fund, and therefore you have been a partner in the ministry of conflict transformation along with our director and office of pastoral care and counseling. We have partnered in being more effective in cross-racial appointment-making, cross-cultural appointment-making, and greater cultural sensitivity and awareness, and also have started some incubator groups for leaders in this annual conference, the first of which (and we just had a kind of celebration lunch) has been for young clergy leaders 35 and under. So where I'm directing that has more to do with how can we seed the development of more and more lay and clergy leaders with specific skill sets with wide vision for the future of the church.

Now this year we have gathered around the theme of risk-taking mission and service, and again I want to thank you for all of the ways (as you have seen and will see in the video clips), for the ways in which risk-taking mission and service is already happening out of your life and out of your life in the congregations of which you are a part, sometimes in groupings of congregations. You saw a piece on relationship to those who are incarcerated today, and you will see some other gems that the communication department has put together during the remainder of our days here. So I want to say (that) this is a theme to give energy and attention. It's not about how we can invent risk-taking mission and service. It is about how we can stir up more of it. But please have no doubt in your minds that you are already engaged in risk-taking mission and service in a variety of ways. There are always other places that I'm sure you reflect in your personal discipleship and in the congregation of which you are a part, that you could be more out on the edge in terms of risk-taking mission and service. So the opportunity to conference together gives us a time for learning and inspiration, story-telling, that encourages us to keep doing what we're doing (if we're already doing that), and secondly, stirs up a sense of something that previously seemed like it was ill-suited to us, some need in the community. To that end, as we continue this conversation of risk-taking mission and service, you have heard of the mantra "Change the World." And I was heartened as I looked at many web sites and saw pieces in our own Current, saw church newsletters that come into our office about the ways in which many of your congregations engaged the "Change the World" initiative in your local communities during the third weekend in May. I want to put before you the opportunity, number one, not to cease and desist, and over two weekends in September to call all of us in the life of the annual conference to be part of some Change the World initiative in our community. You will not hear it come from me what it is you should be doing. This is your work on the ground, to find the places that need redemption, transformation, healing, bridge-building, relationship-building. There will be conversations that your district superintendents and lay leadership in the district will begin to stir up to identify places where people can connect, and go, and do, and serve, and learn. But I want this whole notion of changing the world to sweep across the annual conference in a concerted and focused way, again, not because it doesn't already take place. But because focusing this energy and aggregating it can help us to do more of it.

And the second thing that I want to ask of you going forward is to think of risk-taking mission and service, particularly in relationship to the relationships that need tending in the life of our church and in relationship to the world. Now I announced my homily topics for Morning Manna this morning and told you that on tomorrow morning I wanted to talk along with you from the scriptures about risk-taking mission and truthfulness. I'm convinced more now than ever for a variety of reasons, it's not just any one thing or setting, that the need for healing, and helpful, and open, and honest conversations about the most difficult of issues must be a part of the order of the day. As I look at large assemblies of people gathered together to do work, whether or not they are legislative bodies in the governmental sense, or whether or not they are a so-called legislative body of the church, I am disheartened by the lack of capacity to have open, honest, and truthful conversations without trying to decapitate one another, so to speak. We must learn; we must practice; we must take the risk. We need help to get out of this dysfunction, that because we disagree, we therefore must discount one another as human beings and, therefore, children of God. If I've got a witness in the house I'll keep going (Applause). It is unacceptable, friends, it is unacceptable, not that we sometimes try and we're not successful or effective in having those conversations, but it is unacceptable not to keep trying. Avoidance of our most difficult issues, whether they are issues exclusive "to the church or in the world of which we are part," is beneath the cross of Jesus Christ not in worship and in humility, but in cowering and in hiding. I was so glad when Brother Jorge recommended that wonderful book called, Fierce Conversations. How might we engage with one another intensely about the most challenging issues of our time? And let me name a few. It will not surprise you that we have not demonstrated over at least a 40-year period as United Methodists enormous capacity for great conversations about human sexuality. We continue, quite frankly (though we don't fight about it as much and as openly) to be divided over who we are called to be as the followers and servants of Jesus Christ in contributing to the de-escalation of violence and to peace-making in the world. We have a more current conversation that is just beneath the surface even as we are here: "What is the meaning of a conversation about "guaranteed appointment?" The list could go on and on and on. We have a number of important—I would say, challenging, but opportune conversations that we need to have—and we need to risk having them in some thoughtful and ordered way. One of the experiences of the General Conference that proved to be healing and redemptive and also painful for some was a service of worship called the Acts of Repentance. And it was acts of repentance in relationship to indigenous peoples, not only here in the United States (though that was a significant focus, our relationship with sisters and brothers who are Native American), but by implication understanding that indigenous peoples throughout the world have often been victimized by powers that have come in externally. That service was heartening for some and painful for others. It evoked emotions like, "I don't want to talk about this," "I don't want to feel bad," "I don't have anything to repent of because that happened a long time ago," or thoughts like this, where one of our Native American sisters and brothers in the connection said, "What if your greatest hope was also your greatest fear?" i.e., "This needs to be talked about, but will it open up or reopen a wound so deep that it will never close again?" I have, sitting at the table with me as a sign of my commitment to open, honest, truthful, dare I say, challenging conversations, a stone that was a part of the liturgical ambiance and visualization of our time together, because down the center of the aisle was this long, let me say, river of stones. And at a particular time in the service we were asked, if we wanted to, to move to the center—the delegates, visitors, and others—and to pick up a stone as a sign of our remembrance of that service, of our continuing willingness to be in prayer and in conversation about harm done to indigenous people, wherever that has taken place, and a commitment to go back to our home places to engage those conversations to the end that relationships might be strengthened or built for the very first time. So this week it's sitting on top of Roberts Rules of Order for me up here at the head table. I am hoping not ever to have to open Robert's Rules of Order this week. I want to pay more attention to that stone of repentance and remembrance than I do to rules. I want to get out of some of the internal rules that I have that sometimes make it more comfortable for me to avoid difficult conversations, and move into a place of courage and fearlessness with you about one the deepest conversations, and then the next one, and then the next one, that we need to have. What if, over the course of the next year, the orders of deacon and elder, the fellowship of local pastors and associate members of the conference in some partnership with, shall we say, the board of laity and other leadership groups in the annual conference, were to help us to think through processes as well as identify key topics where conversations could be held around the annual conference. We're not well-suited to do it here over a significant enough block of time (though we have had some of those before), but what if they took place in smaller groupings, sometimes nearer to home, where people who knew they, perhaps, had differences of viewpoint about particular matters could come together in covenant, agree to a few ground rules, the key one of which is to respect everyone as a beloved child of God, to engage in those conversations that could help us to build new bridges of hope into a different future. We avoid these conversations about sexuality, about war and peace, about the gap between wealth and poverty, and the list goes on and on. I'm inviting you, and I am saying to you I intend to lead in this way; but I don't need, nor should I be, the only leader in having those conversations. I have a friend, I saw him last Sunday when I was preaching the ordination service in the Iowa Annual Conference. (I did sneak away to go back home for a day. And when the home team calls you feel some need to respond to that because of the depth of relationship. I want to say to you that this is my fourth annual conference since General Conference. I'm just warming up. I'm having a great time.) But anyway I have a friend there, and he fashions himself as something of a prophetic voice. He knows that there were times in my eight years when he was kind of irritating because he always had some opinion about which he was not shy about what it is he thought I ought to be doing and saying and leading conversation on. In those moments when I was not irritated, but my deep listening self was available to him, he really did get through to me. We were not always in agreement, but he was always a wonderful conversation partner. He always fed me with good resources of a more technical nature on whatever subject. (One of his happens to be matters of war and peace and ecology. Those are his real hobby horses, and thought I ought to be saying more about that in my leadership.) But where he really captured my attention and my imagination was when he said to me, and I quote, "Our relationships are so superficial, that we don't even risk saying enough to one another that we might later have to go back and say to someone, 'I'm sorry.'" Let me say that one more time. It might have blown right past you. Our relationships, even in the church, tend to be so superficial and at the surface that we don't even risk saying something to someone that we might later have to apologize for. I want you to know I've carried that sound-byte in my head and in my heart for at least six to eight years now. And it has raised a haunting question. First it convicted me. I felt a little bit judged. Then I said, "You know, he's right." Are our relationships so at the surface that we cannot even remove into a place of courage and risk that we might, not even intentionally, say something for which we might later have to offer a heartfelt and sincere apology? Risk-taking mission and service is more than activity. It is nothing less than lifestyle and way of being. And it begins in seeking to be in relationship, and hopefully right relationship, with all of the people whom we encounter in our lives. Don't think about "out there" right now. Think about just in your own family system, what conversations you have avoided for a long period of time, and then let it move out from there and ask of yourself, "Is not the Church, and is not the Savior of the Church, who bled and died on a cross, who engaged in enough truth-telling to get him hung up on that tree, worthy of our stepping out of our boxes to have truthful conversations that might have some pain, but might lead to enormous hopefulness for the future?" I have worked with particularly our Director of Connectional Ministries, Kent Lolling, because the urgency of this matter was so deeply on my heart, to connoiter, if you will, about a 45-minute block of time on Friday afternoon, to begin to attempt to offer a model of something. When the General Conference found it difficult in that large assembly to have a fruitful conversation in all aspects that had profound respect for people and for differences of opinions, particularly about the subject of human sexuality, the Holy Spirit continued to be at work. I cast no stones at that large assembly, because those are people from our conference and from other conferences of which I have been a part. I know enough of them to know that there are many, many, many, many, many, many, good people there. But somehow or another, aggregated there, and given the machinery of conference, it is difficult to get some things done. It may be the system more than anything else, I don't know. But late one night, when it was more challenging for the assembly, or the assembly even broken down into smaller units, to have thoughtful, sensitive, respectful, open, honest, redemptive conversations across lines of difference, where they laid bare their faith and their humanity, and their convictions. Some of the members of our and your annual conference delegation stole away after the session adjourned after 9:30 one night and talked for hours into the early morning. And they have reported to me, "In that setting, we experienced holy conversation and conferencing." I think you ought to give your delegation a round of applause for their capacity to talk meaningfully. (Applause). They will bring a report to you in just a few moments, but on Friday afternoon I've asked any who are willing, who were a part of that conversation, would they be on this platform sort of in a panel (it won't quite be a round table like you may see on one of the news magazines on Sunday morning), to simply talk about their experience of having a holy conversation around a difficult issue, and then for us to hold that model in our minds alongside of other models that will come to us as we unfurl conversations around the annual conference over the next year or more, and simply to know that it is possible. We may not always succeed at persuading other people that our viewpoint is the truth, but every one of us, every congregation, every person, every child of God, can succeed in having healthy, holy, healing, redemptive conversations, and unless we make a start at talking about the proverbial elephants in the room, we haven't got a prayer of being a real church. But since I plan to be a part of a real church I'm going to stake my claim that we're going to make a start, were not going to blame any conference outside of ourselves. We're going to say, "We're in charge of what happens here, and we, by God's grace and mercy can do it." And just in the same spirit that I invited you (you recall we never took a vote on it), to help me raise millions of dollars to end deaths due to malaria (and you're doing it), I'm inviting you to join me in opening yourselves by getting out of the safety zone and moving into the risk-zone of holy, healthy, healing conversations.

In the name of God who loves us more than we could imagine, and who has taken more risk on us for our salvation by sending his darling Son Jesus Christ to save us, AMEN.

"Guide My Feet," The Faith We Sing, no. 2208
Guide my feet while I run this race Guide my feet while I run this race
Guide my feet while I run this race, for I don't want to run this race in vain.

Scripture Reading: Hebrews 12:1-2
"So then let's also run the race that is laid out in front of us, since we have such a great cloud of witnesses surrounding us. Let's throw off any extra baggage, get rid of the sin that trips us up, and fix our eyes on Jesus, faith's pioneer and perfecter. He endured the cross, ignoring the shame, for the sake of the joy that was laid out in front of him, and sat down at the right side of God's throne." (Common English Bible)

This morning, 33 of our conference members, laity and clergy, participated in a 5K race to support Imagine No Malaria. They are everyday champions!!! Some of them might be qualified to go to Summer Olympic Games!!

The 2012 summer Olympics will begin this July. More than 10,000 excellent athletes from more than 200 countries of the world will gather together to play around 25 different sports in London, United Kingdom of England. The slogan is "Citius, Altius, Fortius" which means "Swifter, Higher, Stronger." Excellent athletes will be there to fulfill their life-long dream, which is to compete for an Olympic medal. The Olympic competitions remind us of the scripture we read: Hebrews 12:1-2. The author of Hebrews uses the image of running a race to explain Christian life.

We invite you to step into this scripture for some lessons to guide us as we run the race of faith together. There are several common things between running a race and living the Christian life. Today we'd like to invite you to focus on the three common characteristics in sports and Christian life: Purpose, Practice, and Perseverance.

First, Purpose:

All athletes and Christians have a clear purpose. No athlete runs the race just for fun. They are willing to sacrifice everything for one purpose. That is to maximize their potential, perform their best and hopefully gain a prize. They are so focused on the purpose. Likewise, Christian life has a clear purpose that gives us a direction. What's the ultimate purpose of Christian life? The purpose of Christian life is becoming a Christ-like person, living a Christ-like life as individuals and being the living body of Christ as the church.

John Wesley called it Christian perfection or sanctification. Our Christian life is a life-long journey to reach sanctification, which is Christ-like love. We are running the Christian race toward the purpose. Then we need to ask these questions from time to time: Am I more like Jesus Christ now than I was last year? Am I more forgiving today towards those who don't deserve my forgiveness than I was last month? In what way does our church reflect the love and life of Jesus Christ to our community?

The author of Hebrews teaches us how to become more like Jesus Christ. He says, "Let's throw off any extra baggage, get rid of the sin that trips us up. And fix our eyes on Jesus!" What do you think? Do we have any extra baggage to be thrown off and any sin that trips us up? Can you imagine trying to run a 5K race with several backpacks on your back? It's better to throw them off. It's time to examine all our activities and church programs with this question. "Are they forming people to be more like Jesus Christ?" "Are they making disciples of Jesus Christ?" If the answer is "no," then why do we keep spending our time, money and energy on them? It's time to get rid of them. And let's refocus on the purpose of our mission. Let's fix our eyes on Jesus who sacrificed his life in order to give us a new life.

One Korean neighbor had a visit of their old parents from Korea. One day, the parents decided to take a walk and later they realized that they were lost. They didn't have a written address, and they couldn't speak English. Fortunately one person stopped his car to offer help. But they couldn't communicate with each other. Finally they took out a piece of paper and drew something. It was a bridge over a highway and a big cross at the end of the bridge. They tried to say, "Take us to the cross at the end of the bridge, then we can find our way home from there." This gave the driver the clue that he needed, and he dropped them off at the church at the end of the bridge. And they found a home safely. It's a good parable to us. When we feel lost, when we don't know what to decide in a difficult season of our lives, when we are tempted by other people, we need to fix our eyes on the cross of Jesus Christ. The cross of Jesus Christ teaches us what kind of life we need to live, how to deal with our life situations. Whenever we gather together to worship, we are reminded of the cross of Jesus Christ who calls us to be like him, to live Christ-like life in the world.

Secondly, Practice:

To sharpen their skill and develop full potential, all athletes practice! They stretch to get stronger and improve. As Christians, we need to practice spiritual disciplines, to stretch our hearts and minds and souls to be able to love more! Being baptized and professing Jesus Christ as our savior is just the beginning of the road.

To know Jesus Christ better and to grow in our relationship with him and others, John and Charles Wesley discipled folks to encourage each other in following spiritual disciplines; or as John liked to call these practices, "means of grace. " The means of grace are the acts of piety and acts of mercy and justice: praying, studying Scripture, worshipping with Holy Communion, fasting and conferencing together. As we practice these we stretch our lives closer to Christ and become more like Christ each day.

During the past two years, as we have been lifting up the 5 practices of healthy congregations, the cabinet has challenged you to practice fasting the first Thursday of the month and read the Bible daily. You have seen some of the "Training" tapes and heard some of the stories of the many congregations who have been growing in these practices. Many of our churches, like the Tolono UMC, have had several people read through the Bible together . For many this was this first time they had read the whole bible from beginning to end. This practice has stretched their hearts and minds in many noticeable ways!

Bridgeport UMC felt called to teach their children to pray. They started with just a few children coming to the altar on Sunday morning to share in lifting their joys and concerns in conversation with God. Now the altar rail is filled with children and there are several families who have shared how their children are teaching them to pray at home!

Many of our churches have already taken the invitation to step up and out through practicing acts of mercy and justice in their own communities and other countries.

Arthur UMC decided to offer free community meals once a week during the Lenten season. They thought they could handle this for 6 weeks with limited funds and volunteers. Guess what? They have now been doing this for three years, serving over 40,000 people and no end in sight! And during this time, the only expense to the church budget has been for utilities and cleaning supplies. All other expenses are covered by gifts not only from their church members, but by many in the community.

Loda UMC decided to support ministry in East St. Louis. Their pastor Steve, and lay folks jumped into the cold lake and raised $1300! That's practicing!

Broadlands UMC, like many other churches, wanted to participate in the Imagine No Malaria campaign. This small membership church set a goal of $5000! They made a small bed covered with mosquito net and then covered the net with 50 handmade mosquitoes. Whenever they raise $100 a child comes to the front of the sanctuary and smashes it with a swatter! They are well on the way to meeting what they thought was an impossible goal! Practicing- encouraging each other to stretch and grow.

"Guide My Feet"

Search my heart while I run this race Search my heart while I run this race
Search my heart while I run this race, for I don't want to run this race in vain.

Thirdly, Perseverance.

We can imagine how persevering all those athletes have been in order to participate in the Olympics. Perseverance is not a choice but a necessity to refine athlete's abilities, skills in physical capacity, and mental potential. To some degree it might be a competition of the capacity of physical and mental perseverance in them. If the divers would give up after a few failed dives into the water, they wouldn't even be in the Olympics. How many times they must try again and again to get their balance and entry into the water just right! What makes them great is to stand up to practice again and again, day after day, month after month. That's true to Christian life. Christian life is more like a hurdle race. For the early Christians, persecution was the life-threatening hurdle that caused many Christians to fall down or drive off from the course. Perseverance is a way to develop and refine Christian characters in the midst of trials and temptations. Don't be surprised when you find yourself in difficult situations and testing moments. God has never promised us trouble-free lives. Rather troubles and difficulties are part of the Christian journey, including serious illness, or sudden death of your loved ones, any accident that caused disability, or job loss. Sometimes we suffer, because of our mistakes. Other times, we suffer because of other's irresponsibility or natural disaster. Our churches struggle with declining and stagnation. Some churches are in the middle of conflicts for many different reasons. There are times when we don't feel God's presence. We may feel even God's abandonment. We don't even know how to pray. Apostle Paul knew such moments. He said to the Christians in Rome, "Likewise the Spirit helps us in our weakness, for we do not know how to pray as we ought, but that very Spirit intercedes with sighs too deep for words. And God who searches the heart, knows what is the mind of the Spirit, because the spirit intercedes for the saints according to the will of God." (Romans 8:26-27)

Isn't it a great comfort to know that the Holy Spirit is praying for us when we don't know how to pray because of so much distress or sadness? In such a season, what we need to do is to persevere in faith. Struggles are a part of Christian life. How we handle them makes a difference in our Christian life. Perseverance takes us to the finish line.

The good news is that we are not alone in the race. Jesus Christ came out of his throne to come to run with us. We are not alone, even when we want to give up and when we are down. Jesus is standing by us in our race. And we also have coaches and partners. Recently our conference trained two resource teams to assist our congregations. One is the Conflict Transformation Team and the other, the Intercultural Resource Team with laity and clergy members. They are trained and available to work with our congregations to work through conflicting situations and to grow out of the experience. Conflict in Chinese word has two characters.

The first character means a crisis or a danger and the other one means an opportunity. When we see conflict only as a crisis or danger, our response is to avoid it or run away from it. If we do that, the conflict only gets deeper. It's better to deal with it. It can be an opportunity to grow when we face and deal with it positively. So when you see any conflict in your church, we encourage you to call your district superintendent who will arrange the conflict transformation team to come and work with you.

And it's a blessing to have the Intercultural Resource Team. According to the 2011 census, for the first time racial and ethnic minorities make up more than half the children born in the U.S. "This is an important landmark," said Roderick Harrison, a former chief of racial statistics at the Census Bureau, "This generation is growing up much more accustomed to diversity than its elders."

What does it mean to our churches? I'd like to share about my first granddaughter, Violet, who was born last year. She might be a perfect example. Her mother is Korean-American and her father is Caucasian. My hope is that she is not the only person of color in her home church. Can you imagine what they would say when they become teenagers and step into our churches? They might say, "Mom, they all look alike and act alike. It's weird!" Are we preparing for them to find a home in our churches? Our Conference Resource Team is available to assist you to be a more inclusive church and to learn what it means to be in an intercultural community.

The author of Hebrews reminds us that we are not alone. We are surrounded by a cloud of witnesses, cheering us on. What a difference it can make to have others who encourage and applaud you. Have you ever played the game "applause" where you clap someone into finding an object that you have hidden? The simple act of clapping can direct someone to the right path. Just consider how an encouraging word, a nudge from someone who notices that you are trying, has made a difference in your life. Seeing the faithful who have gone before us cheering us on can make a big difference in our lives! And in this very critical world we live in, where accusing, judgmental words are too often spurred at each other, what a difference we can make by encouraging each other in our steps of faith!

"Guide my Feet"
Stand by me while I run this race Stand by me while I run this race
Stand by me while I run this race, for I don't want to run this race in vain.

Lastly, we would challenge you to make a plan for the coming year to step into risk-taking ministry! We dream of a church that is so vital and healthy that our neighbors want to know what we are about. We have been inspired by our teachers at this conference to realize that our plans may be, as Pastor George said, "Stupid plans-- but with great unity and great efforts, can bring great results." Shannon, when she told us about the work of Imagine No Malaria last night, reminded us that our plans may be messy if they are truly missional and need to be lifted up to God before they can be multiplied. Bishop Palmer has invited us to realize that we run this race together and can only complete this race if we work together.

As your cabinet we look forward to receiving your plans at our annual visioning and accountability gathering of charge conference. Every church developing a ministry plan with specific goals, seeking God's leadings-- these are our beginning steps! If these beginning steps are done to the glory of God in faithfulness, together they can make a difference! As a cabinet we know the joy of working on a team together. The Christian life is much more like a relay race run by a team committed to God's work together than an individual sprint! We invite our cabinet brothers and sisters to come and stand with us.

"Guide My Feet,"
H*old my hand while I run this race. Hold my hand while I run this race.*
Hold my hand while I run this race, for I don't want to run this race in vain.

Let us pray together: Empowering God, set us aside this day for good news, for liberating work, for ministries that reveal your goodness to the entire world. Anoint us and let the acceptable year of your favor be made known. In the name of Jesus Christ, we pray. Amen.

Laity Address

June 8, 2012

Rhonda Whitaker, Conference Lay Leader

Bishop Palmer, members of the "Claity": I greet you for the last time as your Conference Lay Leader. Everything I know about life I learned at Annual Conference.

#1. The Bishop is always right. 'Nuff said.

#2. Never get between a United Methodist and their food. Y'all get so testy when food is involved. We best not run late into lunchtime, and heaven forbid if someone tries to cut in front of you in the food line. Radical Hospitality goes right out the window. I just want to remind you about why we're here-- not to eat, but to learn and to grow and to get to know one another and to worship. Let's keep our priorities straight.

#3. If you want something done, ask a United Methodist. Whether it's beans and rice for Haiti, a school for the poorest area in Monrovia, Liberia, rebuilding a tornado-ravaged town or hurricane-devastated coastline, or eradicating malaria from the continent of Africa, just ask the United Methodist Church. I am always amazed at the outpouring of generosity and commitment when we are faced with the needs and suffering of our brothers and sisters no matter where or when. I am so pleased to announce that over $15,000 was contributed at Laity Session for furnishing the John Kafi Asmah School in Monrovia, Liberia! And we've cut the deaths from malaria in Africa from 1 every 30 seconds to 1 every minute. This brings us to #4.

#4. Connexion works. None of those things could have been done by a single church, not even a single district. But as a conference we can do amazing things, and as a denomination we could transform the world. Seeing the connexion in action has no doubt been my favorite part of Conference Lay Leader. Getting to know you, meeting folks from all across the nation – even the world. I've made great friends, especially among the other Conference Lay Leaders. It's like a family, really. No matter what pre-General Conference meeting I went to, I would immediately see folks I knew. What a blessing that has been. I've seen the church at its best and at its worst, sometimes at almost the same time. Thanks to you and the opportunities you've given me, I've grown as a person and as a leader and I thank you for that honor.

#5. It takes Claity. If you remember, Laity + Clergy = Claity, which is the partnership of laity and clergy to make disciples for the transformation of the world. Now, Clergy, at Laity Session my Cousin Rhodie laid the smack down on the laity about their part of this equation – that they cannot be pew potatoes, expecting you to do all the work, that making disciples is not a spectator sport. Now it's your turn, Clergy – we need to talk. If you want us to follow, you've got to be leading somewhere worth going. We know for example, that inviting and welcoming is mainly our responsibility. According to Martha Grace Reese in her book, Unbinding the Gospel, over 60% of new people in our churches come for the first time because they were invited. However, they come back because of the love and warmth they felt – that's us - and because of the pastor. By definition you are the preacher, and while I understand that coming up with a relevant, inspirational sermon every week is difficult, we expect nothing less. Just preach Jesus and him crucified, tell us how that should make a difference in our lives. Teach us how to become better disciples and how to make other disciples. That's another responsibility that lies with the clergy – you need to have a plan for making disciples in your churches, a plan to grow baby Christians into maturity in Christ, a plan to help mature

Christians grow deeper in love with Jesus. Pastor Jorge this morning called it being "organized to beat the devil." Most of all, you must demonstrate God's love from the pulpit. We laity know that we are supposed to offer radical hospitality to visitors, but so are you! We laity know that we are supposed to invite people into our churches, but we must be assured that they will feel valued and inspired by our pastor and will want to return. We, each laity and clergy, have our own roles to play and without the other we are incomplete. The mission of making disciples will NOT get done without our partnership.

#6 The Means of Grace are probably one of the most important contributions we as a denomination can give to the church universal. John Wesley and his method of spiritual growth is an amazing gift of grace: prayer, fasting, Bible study, public worship, Communion, and Christian conferencing. As your lay leader, I've grown the most in Christian conferencing. Clergy, I challenge you to turn every meeting, every Bible study, every church event into Christian conferencing. Make sure that the level of conversation and dialogue is a step above the common, that everyone is treated with respect and Christian love, that each one is heard and appreciated, that we seek to reach above the issues that might divide us to the love of Jesus and commitment to his church that would unite us. We saw a glimpse of this in action at General Conference. For the most part in Legislative Committees and on the floor people were cognizant of words that would hurt and used softer language… for the most part. For the most part, we concentrated on the issues, instead of attacking the person or the group… for the most part. What we were NOT able to do was to put the good of our denomination ahead of our personal interests. I must tell you that I have NEVER been so frustrated with our Boards and agencies, certain conferences and jurisdictions, as I was on the floor of General Conference. I came home with a throbbing ache right here, and I thought what an appropriate location for a pain from General Conference. I went with such high expectations that we could actually change the course of our denomination, that we could rise above petty power struggles among the boards, conferences, and jurisdictions for the future of the UMC. Well, that didn't happen! Claity, true Christian conferencing cannot happen between silos – whether at the General Conference level or at the local church. We have to be willing to put the good of our congregation ahead of our personal agenda, ahead of our personal need to be in control, ahead of our desire for recognition or power, ahead of our need to be right and to win the argument. That's the way the world conducts meetings. As Christians we must hold ourselves to a much higher standard.

I'm going to miss being your Lay Leader. I'll even miss all those meetings – OK, maybe not. I'll miss answering the phone to hear "Sister Rhonda, this is your humble servant Gregory Vaughn Palmer." Thank you for giving me this awesome opportunity. I have grown so much over the last 8 years, and everything I need to know I learned at Annual Conference, the last of which is THE BISHOP IS ALWAYS RIGHT.

Rev. John Hartleroad, retiring Executive Assistant to the Bishop, preaches the sermon at the Service of Recognition of Retiring Members.

(Adopted by the 2008 Annual Conference)

As disciples of Jesus Christ and as members of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference, we believe that we can change the church and the world through honest conversations on matters about which we deeply care. We, therefore, covenant to be a worshiping community, which provides a safe sanctuary open to dialogue: a welcoming environment full of grace. To do this we further covenant to:

- Center on God and on His Holy Scripture as the authoritative word of God as we come to the table, anticipating a holy and healthy experience and being prepared spiritually, emotionally and mentally

- Pray constantly for God's wisdom to understand God's will, trusting and believing that God works with and through us

- Welcome, honor and respect each individual as a unique child of God
  - Affirm each individual's gifts and ministry and help everyone see the need for cooperation and connection among our ministries
  - Be patient and kind with each other, realizing that we all bring a history

Displays at Annual Conference

Purpose of Displays

Displays facilitate the ability of conference members to connect with groups who have information to share on their ministry. Displays are provided to encourage conference members to learn more about the resources that are available through the wide variety of agencies and ministries in the annual conference. A few displays are targeted for sale of goods. The parameters for their purpose are discussed in a separate paragraph.

Requesting Space and Obtaining Permissions

- Forms requesting display space must be submitted to the Event Coordinator by the fourth Friday in March. The request is then forwarded to the Local Arrangements Committee for space assignment.
- Groups or individuals requesting display space for the first time must submit plans for content of the display to the Director of Connectional Ministries by no later than 30 days prior to the annual conference session. Failure to comply will result in display request being denied.
- The Sessions Committee has the discretion to approve all displays and set and publish guidelines for display space assignments.
- The subject and content of the display is expected to be in compliance with the Book of Discipline, the Social Principles, and The Book of Resolutions is expected.
- In the event content is deemed to be inappropriate, it will be removed by one of the following officers: annual conference secretary, or chairperson of the Sessions Committee.
- Groups officially recognized by and/or related to The United Methodist Church may request display space. Each group requesting space must agree to use their display area in accordance with the purpose statement in this document. Groups "officially recognized by" or "related to" The United Methodist Church include the following:
  - Approved Advance (Conference or General) Specials
  - Ministries included and approved in the Conference Budget
  - Ministries included in and approved in the Nominations Report
  - Ministries approved as a Conference Special Offering
  - Ministries which are initiated, supervised, and housed within a local United Methodist church or local United Methodist Church-owned facility within the boundaries of the IGRC.
  - University Senate-Approved seminaries
- Because of limited space and the need of the annual conference to limit its space use to non-commercial organizations, no commercial organizations (other than the exceptions noted in this policy document) shall be permitted to rent or otherwise use display space.
- No group will be allowed to place signs, displays or vehicles on convention center property without the permission of the Sessions Committee.

Size and Location of Space

- The amount of space available for displays varies depending on the site of the annual conference session. The Sessions Committee believes it is proper to allocate the same size space to each group requesting space prior to the deadline for such requests.

- Each group setting up a display must agree to keep their display within the space allotted to them and not to encroach onto the display space assigned to another group.
- Display spaces are assigned to specific locations, and groups setting up displays cannot move their display to another location. Because some locations are considered prime locations, each year display space assignments may be rotated to allow all groups the opportunity to use a prime location.

Special Permissions
In the past, display space has been granted to Cokesbury for a bookstore at annual conference. Since Cokesbury is the denomination's publishing house, they are granted an exception to the stated policy above. Other organizations providing free or reduced fee services to the annual conference session may also be allowed to have display space where demonstrations or product sales will take place.

Fees and other financial considerations
- Fees for requested use of electrical outlets are paid by the group requesting space.
- Fees for requested phone lines are paid by the group requesting space.
- Fees for tables and table skirting (if not provided) are paid by the group requesting space.
- Any entity making sales that are not tax exempt will need a permit from the City Hall if local sales tax is to be charged.

Publicity
A list of all display booths will be distributed in the on-site packet that members receive. Advertisements for display spaces may not be publicized in other printed materials at annual conference.

Reports and Resolutions

Submitting Reports and Resolutions
Any Illinois Great Rivers Conference member or entity may submit a resolution for consideration by the annual conference. Resolutions will be ruled out of order if they conflict with the Book of Discipline, which can be changed only by the General Conference. All resolutions become the property of the annual conference once they are published. No resolution containing information deemed to be libelous will be printed.

Deadlines for Submitting Reports and Resolutions

Reports or resolutions with financial implications.....February 15
All other reports and resolutions..... March 1
Reports for the Journal-Yearbook only..... April 1

Missed Deadlines
Late-arriving materials may be included in the supplemental packet if:
- The maker of a resolution submits 2,000 copies of the material at their own expense to the annual conference business office by May 1
- Material is approved by the annual conference secretary for inclusion in the packet.

Material in the supplemental packet may be included in the conference agenda if the conference allows its inclusion (requiring 2/3 majority)

Items submitted less than 2 weeks prior to the Annual Conference session will not be considered.

Persons or groups wishing to have the conference office print the 2,000 copies for a charge may contact Doug Stone before May 1 at The United Methodist Center, 5900 S. Second St., P.O. Box 19207, Springfield, IL 62794-9207

The Journal-Yearbook - Secretarial Practices

What is it?
The Book of Discipline (¶606) requires each conference to keep an exact record of its proceedings. A hard copy of this record becomes part of a number of general, jurisdictional, and annual conference committees and commissions. The IGRC also publishes a limited number of hard copies for those who order them. The Journal-Yearbook is available to everyone in electronic form.

What's in it?
The Book of Discipline requires the inclusion of the following items in this order:

- Officers of annual conference
- Boards, commissions, committees; rolls of conference members
- Daily proceedings
- Business of the annual conference (BAC) report
- Appointments
- Reports as ordered by the annual conference
- Annual report of the district superintendents, if any
- Memoirs as ordered by the annual conference following the guidelines of the General Commission on Archives and History
- Roll of dead: deceased clergy members
- Historical
- Miscellaneous
- Pastoral record (including the records of accepted local pastors in such manner as the conference may determine)
- Statistics
- Index

How to make corrections

- Corrections received before June 22, 2012 will be reflected in the 2012 Journal-Yearbook. Corrections received after that date will appear in the 2013 Journal.
- Send corrections directly to the IGRC secretary, noting the exact location of the item to be corrected.

When resolutions or reports are not adopted
Reports, resolutions, amendments to the Standing Rules, policy statements, policy statement amendments, or petitions that are not adopted will not be printed in the Journal-Yearbook. The vote indicating defeat of the resolution will be recorded in the Daily Proceedings.

Congregational Development: Comprehensive Plan

(2008)

The Comprehensive Plan for Church Growth and Development was adopted by the 2000 Session of the Illinois Great Rivers Annual Conference. The plan called for an aggressive strategy of starting three new congregations, establishing one new missional community, and assisting three churches per year in intentional revitalization efforts.

Of the many factors involved in starting new congregations, two must be highlighted at this point:

- The primary strategy employed by IGRC in the early years of the plan is the "parachute drop" model. In this strategy a location for a new congregation is identified and a pastor is appointed to start the new congregation. While this strategy is always risky, church planting experts indicate 80% of "parachute drop" church plants never result in a self-sustaining congregation.
- When the plan was adopted, the culture of IGRC was not conducive to church planting. In the earlier history of our conference, and its predecessor bodies, local congregations often had a vision for, and followed a plan for, starting new congregations through a mother-daughter congregation model. In this strategy, a group of people from an existing congregation respond to the vision of creating a new congregation to reach people whom the existing church is not effectively reaching. In 2000, very few congregations in IGRC had this vision. IGRC needs to encourage congregations to once again embrace this vision.

Relying primarily on a less effective strategy in a conference where the culture was not conducive to church planting led to less positive results than was originally envisioned.

The primary task of the Office of Congregational Development is to reinvigorate the church planting culture of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference, drawing upon the church planting DNA of the circuit riders and the earlier vision of IGRC congregations.

In studying what is necessary to develop a healthy church planting process, the Office of Congregational Development has talked extensively with other UM conferences, representatives of other denominations, and Jim Griffith and Bob Logan, both of whom assess, train and coach church planters. It became clear that certain "strategies" vital to healthy church planting, include:

- Strong partnership with a healthy congregation(s)
- Leaders with an affinity for the mission field and with key behavioral characteristics needed for the particular church plant
- Leaders trained in church planting
- Clear benchmarks established for the ministry and ministry leader
- Coaching provided to help the leader follow the plan to reach the benchmarks

The Illinois Great Rivers Conference still has a great need to establish new congregations. It is clear that the most effective means of connecting people to Christ and His church is through a new congregation. There are many communities in Illinois Great Rivers where this strategy could increase God's kingdom: some are growing; and others could be more effectively reached by The United Methodist Church.

In implementing the Comprehensive Plan, initial funding for all new church start ministries was set at the same level. Clear consideration was not given to the anticipated potential of the model and location of the ministry. This approach caused some ministries to be funded beyond their potential to achieve financial self-sufficiency.

In 2008, the minimum cost for compensation for a full-time pastor for a new congregation start is $65,000, including salary, insurance, pension, ARP, and housing (this cost is higher for an elder). This amount does not include funds for initial ministry startup costs, office space, etc. Therefore, as good stewards of conference funds, it is important that initial funding levels be established according to benchmarks which anticipate the size of the new congregation. If the benchmarks anticipate that the average adult attendance at worship will be 120 or more within three years after the first funding cycle begins, funding will be set at the level to support a full-time pastor (this may be different, if the plan calls for outside funding sources within three years, such as economic development). If the benchmarks indicate the congregation will develop more slowly, or there is a special circumstance where this size of congregation may never reach 120, the new congregation start will be funded at a lower level.

Since the revised plan calls for clear benchmarks with funding levels set accordingly, there will no longer be a separate category for Missional Communities. All will be new congregation starts.

To help increase the effectiveness of Illinois Great Rivers Conference in establishing new congregations, the Congregational Development Team has adopted a process for church planting. To receive funding, new congregation starts will follow this process:

Step 1: Participate in Congregational Development Leadership Institute
- Part of self-assessment for leader

Step 2: Pre-assessment
- Identify target location, mission field and approach for congregation plant
- If clergy is to be appointed, the Cabinet identifies a potential pool of 3-4 candidates for this particular location/mission field/approach

Step 3: Assessment Interview (by trained team of two to three people). Potential leaders will be assessed for:
- Affinity to Mission Field
- Competency for the specific project. A report, identifying each candidate's strengths and weaknesses in relation to the particular mission field/strategy, will be given to the Appointive Cabinet

Step 4: Appointment made by the Bishop with discernment by the Appointive Cabinet

Step 5: Attend "just in time" (in-depth training) before arriving at the site of the church plant
- Develop plan with benchmarks
- Develop initial disciple formation system

Step 6: Secure Coach: Pastor (or Lay Ministry Leader) chooses from pool of coaches who have been approved by the Coordinator of Congregational Development

Step 7: Finalize Benchmarks at Meeting of All Key People [Pastor, Spouse (if married), District Superintendent, Coordinator of Congregational Development, Lead Pastor of Mother church (if mother church model or multi-site model), lay leader from new congregation (if in place), and Coach]
Clear benchmarks will allow regular assessment to determine if the ministry is reaching its potential or if it should be discontinued

Step 8: Appointment Fixed at Annual Conference

Step 9: Funding Begins with Pastor/Ministry Leader On-Site

Step 10 (ongoing): Progress will be tracked and evaluated regularly. Monthly statistical reports and more comprehensive quarterly reports will be submitted to the Office of Congregational Development. The planter will be involved in ongoing training and community. A ministry must make progress toward its benchmarks to receive funding in successive years.
This process can be summarized by this formula: Assessment + Training + Benchmarks + Coaching = Funding. Without any one piece of the formula in place, funding will not be available.

The first Congregational Development Leadership Institute is being held in 2008. It is a series of four, one-day or two-day workshops held throughout the year. It will help participants understand competencies and behaviors that will lead to effective church planting or turnaround of existing ministries. Participants must complete all four workshops, including advance work and follow up reflection essays.

In addition to training leaders for church planting, the Office of Congregational Development is also seeking churches that are considering multi-site ministry and/or giving birth to a new congregation. Such legacy churches are needed to successfully implement the Comprehensive Plan. There are a growing number of churches in the Illinois Great Rivers Conference that see this as a possibility for their future. As congregations are identified, there will be intentional effort by the Office of Congregational Development to help churches reach their full potential in this area of ministry.

Given the emphasis on partnerships with existing churches for most new congregation starts, it is difficult to anticipate with accuracy how many new congregation starts will occur each year. The goal is to start two new congregations each year (either through multi-site ministry of an existing congregation or a new congregation that will seek a separate charter).

Adapted/New Procedures and Policies:

The original Comprehensive Plan established a separate category of Missional Communities. These "may or may not become self-supporting. They represent an opportunity to minister with specific populations that may be defined by language, culture, socioeconomic status, or handicapping conditions." There will no longer be a separate category for Missional Communities. Ministries formerly funded in this category will be funded as New Congregation Starts, according to benchmarks. Ministries with benchmarks that indicate they will not develop as quickly will be funded at a lower level per year; but may be funded for a longer period than the original plan anticipated for new church starts.

Until a church is chartered, the IGRC Office of Finance and Administration must establish all fiscal procedures for a New Congregation Start. If a new congregation start is a mother-daughter model, the mother congregation may handle the new congregation's treasurer responsibilities until charter.

Any New Congregation Start which is not chartered will have a five-member team selected by the new pastor and by the District Superintendent, one of whom will be a member of the Congregational Development Team. This team will serve a supportive role for the ministry, and will have the responsibility to make compensation recommendations to the District Superintendent and Congregational Development Executive Team. The team will also have responsibility for staff hiring decisions. Staff positions must be in accordance with the funding agreement of the Congregational Development Team. New compensation levels must be approved by both the District Superintendent and the Congregational Development Executive Team. (The "five-member team" is not necessary for a multi-site ministry of an existing congregation).

Pastors appointed to serve non-chartered churches are appointed to an extension ministry of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference. The Pastor's Compensation Reduction Agreement for Tax Exclusion/Resolution for Tax Exclusion Relating to Housing/Parsonage Furnishings (green sheet) must be approved by the Conference Council on Finance and Administration.

All contracts and leases for non-chartered churches must be signed by the Director of Administrative Services.

A developing congregation that purchases or receives real property must follow the requirements of Para. 2501, the 2004 Book of Discipline and secure appropriate insurance.

When a developing congregation plans to purchase real property valued in excess of $5,000, using Congregational Development grant money, the purchase must receive advance approval from the Coordinator of Congregational Development.

The financial plan for any property or building proposal, of either a non-chartered congregation or a chartered congregation that receives $20,000 or more in annual funding from the Congregational Development Team, even when the funding is not specifically for this property or building project, must be reviewed by the five-member team.

Congregational Development Team evaluations of each New Congregation Start will be reported annually to the Cabinet by the Coordinator of Congregational Development prior to January 15, and updates reported at any point a status changes. When a New Congregation Start pastor receives a different appointment, the status of the New Congregation Start, pastoral needs, compensation, and funding will be reviewed by the Coordinator of Congregational Development and the superintendent of the district in which the New Congregation Start is located.

By Discipline (Para. 260), any New Congregation Start (including multi-site ministry) must have prior "consent of the bishop in charge and the cabinet and with due consideration of the conference entity assigned the responsibility for congregational development."

The 2000 Comprehensive Plan also called for intentional efforts to bring Transformation/Revitalization to existing congregations. The Office of Congregational Development engages churches in Ministry Assessment and Planning Processes (MAPP) so the congregations can understand the current reality of the community and church, envision God's preferred future for them, and develop a plan to live into that future.

Because of reduced funding for Congregational Development, limited funds are available for Transformation/Revitalization grants. Much of the available grant dollars are utilized for the Ministry Assessment and Planning Processes which allows Congregational Development to assist more churches in their intentional revitalization efforts. In addition, depending on availability, limited grants may be distributed to existing congregations that meet the following criteria:

The church has completed an intentional self-assessment of their mission, life, ministry and context. Both the pastor and the congregation have engaged in this process. It is preferable that this process be developed in consultation with the Coordinator of Congregational Development. If not, clear information about the details of this process must be submitted in writing for approval by the Coordinator of Congregational Development.

The church must submit Church Council minutes showing approval for future ministry of the church and include steps that meet funding criteria.

The District Superintendent, and appropriate governing bodies in the district where the church resides, must indicate in writing that this is a strategic initiative for the district for making disciples of Jesus Christ and that there is evidence that the pastor appointed to the church is qualified to lead the transformational ministry envisioned and is willing to undergo additional training and/or participate in the Congregational Development Leadership Institute.

The ministry must:

A. Result in relocation of the church's ministry for the purpose of greatly expanding its ability to reach the community or
B. Result in the closure of two or more congregations for the purpose of forming a new church in a new location with the intention of reaching the community more effectively or
C. Result in a new ministry to a population previously unreached by the congregation or
D. Result in rapid congregational growth where more than 50% of the growth is projected to be new disciples of Jesus Christ. The plan must be geared at moving the congregation to a whole new size of church with a transformed approach to congregational life.

Any grant application must include clear, measurable benchmarks that indicate anticipated impact of this ministry.

Financial Projections

In those instances where the benchmark for average adult worship attendance is 120 or more and the approach is to establish a new chartered congregation, it is projected that the IGRC funding may be up to $230,000-300,000 (depending on initial compensation package based on 2008 compensation figures). Total funding for multi-site ministries where the benchmark for average adult attendance is 120 or more, it is projected that total funding will not exceed $180,000, and no more than $90,000 in the first year.

In those instances where the benchmark for average adult worship attendance is less than 120, and the approach is to establish a new chartered congregation, it is projected that the IGRC funding would be distributed over a longer period of time and will not exceed $25,000 per year. Total funding for multi-site ministries where the benchmark for average adult attendance is less than 120 will not exceed $50,000, and no more than $25,000 in the first year.

Note: All funding figures will need to be adjusted in future years for cost of living and salary increases.

Congregational Development Team

To effectively accomplish its mission, the Congregational Development Team must represent the diversity of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference (ethnicity, gender, lay/clergy, region, expertise). The team will have a minimum of 12, and a maximum of 15 members.

*Based on 2006 data, total IGRC pastoral compensation (including the portion of the pension apportionment which was direct billed to congregations in 2007) divided by average weekly attendance shows that the average worship attendee contributed $439 toward pastoral compensation. To support a pastor at minimum salary with additional compensation costs ($50,000 for FTLP; $53,000 for Elder), it takes 114-121 in average worship attendance (this figure includes children and youth) just to pay the compensation for a full-time pastor. The yearly costs do not include housing allowance or expenses.

A New Congregation Start is a newly organized body of Christ that is committed to making disciples of Jesus Christ and

- includes regular community worship
- is theologically Wesleyan
- is willing to plant a new congregation in its first decade
- has an effective, multi-cell discipling system
- does community outreach
- receives new members
- demonstrates faithful stewardship
- almost always results in a new site of UM ministry

Planting models include, but are not limited to:

- Connectional (similar to what is known as "parachute drop")
- Mother/Daughter
- Multi-site (that is intended to remain a separate location of UM worship and discipleship)
- A ministry of presence that leads to a grass roots emergence.

Strategies such as Merger or Adoption of an Existing Congregation by another may be effective for redevelopment, but do not fit this criteria for a New Congregation Start.

Revolving Loan Fund Policy

Congregational Development

(Adopted 2007)

Purpose: The Revolving Loan Fund of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference of the United Methodist Church shall be used as a tool of the Conference in promoting growth strategies and missional opportunities within the Illinois Great Rivers Conference. Loans from the fund may be used in conjunction with other available resources such as grants.

Criteria: Loans may be granted to churches or ministries who are not able to obtain local financing or are not able to obtain total financing through local sources. One criteria of consideration for an application submitted by a chartered church will be the church's apportionment payment history as an indication of its ability to make repayment and commitment to connectionalism.

History of the Revolving Fund: The initial capital of the A Revolving Loan Fund@ was given by the churches of the former Southern Illinois Conference of The United Methodist Church for the purpose of establishing a Revolving Loan Fund for assisting in new church and church revitalization projects. These funds, including outstanding loans and investments, were granted at the time of the merger to the Illinois Great Rivers Conference Revolving Loan Fund to be used in conjunction with future gifts and bequests received by the new Conference for the purpose stated above.

Revolving Fund Monies: Revolving Loan Fund assets include loans, investments, and accumulated earnings thereon. The fund=s assets are maintained for the intended purpose of granting loans to projects consistent with the fund=s purpose. Gifts from grants, wills, and other funding sources will be added to the fund when received and become available for loan. New loans from the fund are limited to the Revolving Loan Fund - Fund Balance less the total outstanding loan portfolio principle. This available loan corpus includes unloaned or repaid loan principal, fund investments and earnings thereon. Reserve assets not currently loaned may be invested by the fund until such time as needed for loan.

If for any reason it becomes appropriate to discontinue the Revolving Loan Fund, it shall be by recommendation of the Congregational Development Team and the Conference Board of Trustees of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference of The United Methodist Church. The Annual Conference must approve such recommendation by a majority vote. Included in the recommendation for discontinuing the Revolving Loan Fund shall be a plan to disburse remaining assets to fund similar projects in the Illinois Great Rivers Conference, or its legal successor.

Interest Rates and Payments: The interest rate charged on loans for chartered churches shall be equal to the comparable rate charged by local banks (home mortgage rate for parsonage; prime rate for church building or property purchase) at the time the loan is presented to and approved for recommendation by the Congregational Development Team. Interest rates charged for unchartered churches and/or for the first building phase for new church start projects shall be two (2) percent lower than the above rate. Payments shall be monthly. Payments for principal and interest shall be to the IGRC Revolving Loan Fund. Payments shall begin at the beginning of the second month after the loan proceeds are disbursed. Interest accrued through the end of the first month is due at the time of closing. The final terms of the loan shall be approved by CDT.

Exception to the Repayment Policy When the loan is a second loan for a project, payment of principal and interest may be delayed for a specific period. Interest will be charged and the principal of the loan will increase monthly. A definite date at which payment will begin shall be in the loan agreement. There shall be an annual review of the loan with the borrowing congregation by the Conference Congregational Development Team, the purpose of which is to determine how the congregation is doing financially.

Administration: The Conference Congregational Development Team shall administer the Revolving Loan Fund through the Finance and Administration Team. All requirements of the Conference Board of Trustees shall be followed. An application for loan shall be completed and presented to the Congregational Development Team. A loan application form will be supplied. There shall be a signed promissory note for the loan. Each loan will be secured by mortgage held by the Board of Trustees of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference of The United Methodist Church. The Congregational Development Team shall make decisions regarding each loan application. Exceptions to the Revolving Loan Fund Policies concerning terms, rates, administration, etc. may be made with a two-thirds majority vote of the Congregational Development Team. Any exception must also be affirmed with a two-thirds majority vote of the Visioning Team of the Illinois Great Rivers Conference. The Treasurer of the Revolving Loan Fund shall be the Conference Treasurer. Reserve funds may be held as an investment in the Conference Holding Accounts or may be invested elsewhere if so approved by the Conference Congregational Development Team. An audit of the fund will be conducted each year in conjunction with the Conference audit.

Processes and Procedure: To apply for a loan, the church or ministry must complete the following steps:

1. Have prior approval for the project from all entities required by The Book of Discipline. These may include Church Council, Charge/Church Conference, District Committee on Building and Location, and the Congregational Development Team, depending on the circumstances and the scope of the project.
2. Complete the Revolving Loan Fund Application which can be secured from and returned to the Office of Congregational Development.
3. Include a letter of support for this project from the Superintendent of the district in which the church or ministry is located, indicating that the appropriate district committee(s) consider this loan to support the capital needs of an intentional disciple-making ministry.

The Congregational Development Team will consider the loan application and will inform the church or ministry in writing concerning its decision or if further information is needed. Following approval the loan will be processed as soon as possible.

Before a loan payout can be processed, the following steps must take place:

1. The church or ministry must submit a copy of the minutes of the council or board meeting that record the acceptance of the terms of the loan.
2. The church or ministry must submit a plan for loan repayment.
3. The Revolving Loan Note and Agreement must be signed by, but not limited to, the following people: Chair of Board of Trustees of the church, District Superintendent, Chair of Congregational Development Team, and Coordinator of Congregational Development.

Following completion of the above steps, the loan will be processed in a timely manner.

- Laity serving as Supply (SY) are not included in the historical record unless they were previously or subsequently licensed, commissioned, or ordained.
- When the clergy's relationship with the conference is severed through surrender of credentials, distinuation, or death the name is removed after the severance date is duly noted.
- The General Archives maintain paper copies of the Journal-Yearbooks of all conferences.
- Student appointments and appointments in other conferences are to be included in the historical record.
